Aldermen Hold Annual Dinner

Alleged Spite Fence Causes Suit

Mrs. Thomas Toomey of 188 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill has entered court action against Mrs. Irving Wright of 19 Reservoir ave., owner of abutting property, to compel the removal of a fence which Mrs. Toomey alleges is unnecessarily high and which was erected for the purpose of annoying her.

Hearing On Bus Route at New. Cen.

Tuesday afternoon a hearing was held at 100 Nashua st., Boston, on the petition of the Middlesex & Boston Company for a permit to operate from Centre st. and Allerton rd., over Allerton rd. to Rowena rd., over Rowena rd. to Cedar rd., over Cedar rd. to Parker st., over Parker st. to Daniel st., over Daniel st. to Jackson st., over Jackson st. to Langley rd., over Langley rd. to Centre st.

February Building Report

During February 29 building permits were issued in Newton; the cost of the work to be done under them was set at $123,375. Thirteen of the permits were for single dwellings to cost $109,000.

Friends Honor Thomas W. White At Banquet

Praise His Service As Public Official

Thomas W. White, Newton and Massachusetts political leader, was tendered a testimonial banquet by 250 friends at Hotel Continental, Cambridge, on Monday night. James P. Gallagher officiated as toastmaster and explained that the gathering was simply a testimonial of friendship toward Mr. White and had no political significance.

Judge W. Lloyd Allen, introduced as a going companion of Mr. White, stated that the guest of honor possesses the qualities of being suave, kind, courteous and courageous, and is a "go through" fellow. Speaker Leverett Saltonstall of the House of Representatives, introduced by the toastmaster as a man who would make a good Governor, provided this State ever again goes Republican, stated that there will be a Republican victory this year. Mr. Saltonstall lauded Mr. White's service and influence both as a member of the Newton and Massachusetts governments, and as an official in important public positions. He said Mr. White had been a real friend to him. Hon. Charles E. Hatfield characterized Mr. White as one of the best bet Massachusetts Republicans have. He referred to Mr. White's close friendship with President Coolidge.

John H. Walsh of Waltham, State Commander of the American Legion, stated that Mr. White is a man of his word and one of whom it can be said that you always know where he stands. Cornelius Leary of the Internal Revenue Bureau in Boston asserted that Mr. White was more beloved by the employees of that bureau than any head it ever had. He said the Bureau employees were strong in their admiration for him. Mayor Childs said that Mr. White has been his friend for 40 years, has been a great public servant, and has served humanity well. He characterized the guest of honor as a man who had unusual political brains and who has been a great helper to many. He said that originally it was planned to have only a small group at the testimonial, but that friends of Mr. White had requested the privilege of attending and the gathering reached its comparatively large size.

Health Condition Of School Pupils

The Physical Examination of the Newton school children was completed for the year 1935 on December 17. All children from kindergarten through the 8th grade have been examined as required by law and the following summary and analysis has been compiled.

An accepted standard for the City of Newton is as follows:

Defective vision from 5 to 15 per cent of school children examined; Defective hearing from 1 to 4 per cent; diseased tonsils from 15 to 30 per cent; decayed teeth from 50 to 70 per cent; heart disease from 1 to 2 per cent.

Number of children examined 10897. The following defects were found:

	No.	%
Teeth	1761	16.1
Tonsils	456	4.2
Adenoids	190	1.7
Glands	12	.1
Heart-Organic	25	.2

Drives Hearse By Red Light

The growing tendency of motorists to ignore traffic signals was evidenced in the Newton court on Wednesday when William O'Neill, a funeral director of Putnam ave., Cambridge, was charged by Patrolman Marshall with driving by the traffic signal at Newtonville square when the red light was against him. When O'Neill drove the hearse by the signal the cars following in the funeral procession also went by the light. O'Neill claimed he was afraid that if he stopped the hearse the car following would hit it. Judge Lloyd Allen was lenient with the traffic violating undertaker and placed the case on file.

Morley Ridicules Massachusetts "Patriotism"

Talks To 1200 At Community Forum

The attitude of Massachusetts toward visiting lecturers and educators was ridiculed by Christopher Morley before an audience of 1200 people at the Newton Community Forum's concluding session of the season last Sunday.

Shortly after being placed on the list of University Extension speakers at the State House he received blank forms requiring him to take the oath of allegiance, Mr. Morley said. He wrote back that he was not familiar with the Constitution of Massachusetts and asked for a transcript so that he might know what he was going to sign.

"Imagine my dismay mingled with amusement when I received a letter from the State House saying that they had no copies available! It is an astonishing paradox that they insist on your swearing and yet seem to want you not to know what you are swearing about."

"I regard the attempt to standardize and methodize and stereotype all our thoughts and reactions and emotions

Mayor Childs Submits 1936 Budget of $4,875,599.70 --Cuts Department Figures

Mayor Does Not Provide For Continuance of Director of Public Works Office

At the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the budget recommendations for 1936 were received from Mayor Childs. The budget as submitted by Mayor Childs totaled $4,875,599.70. The estimates submitted by department heads totaled $5,928,465.55; the Mayor slashing $1,052,865.85 from their recommendations. Last year the appropriations for the various departments totaled $4,960,962.10 and the expenditures $4,906,023.86. The Mayor's recommendation for Water Department expenses for 1936 is $305,026.58, which is $1,050 less than asked for by the Water Commissioner. The Water Department budget is in addition to the regular budget but must be kept separate because of the fact that the revenue from the sale of water makes this department more than self-supporting. In 1935 the cost of the Water Department was $349,680.26.

One of the most interesting features of the Mayor's budget recommendations is the drastic cut he made in the estimate submitted by Richard H. Ellis, Director of Public Works for the expenses of that office. Mr. Ellis asked for $10,140 for the cost of his office for the ensuing year. The Mayor cut this figure to $3,085.42, less than one-third. This reduces the figures for the director's salary from $6,000 to $2,000, clerical assistance from $2,840 to $946.67, office expense from $875 to $63.75 and automobile maintenance from $225 to $75. The reduced figures provide for the continuance of the office only until May 1st. The inference drawn by the Aldermen was that Mayor Childs intends to abolish the office which was created in 1934 by ex-Mayor Weeks. The contention has been raised since the office was created that it is not legal, as the City Charter does not provide for a Department of Public Works and that the Street Department and Water Department cannot be consolidated as the latter is revenue producing. The office was created by Mayor Weeks on the assumption that by having a competent director in a supervisory capacity over the City Engineer, Street Commissioner and Water Commissioner, and thus bringing these three departments under closer control, large savings to the city could be effected.

Mr. Ellis was appointed Water Commissioner in 1930 by Mayor Weeks to succeed J. Clifton Whitney at a salary of $4000. When the office of Director of Public Works was established the salary for this position was set at $6000. Mayor Childs states that he has not, as yet, reached a definite decision as to whether or not the office will be abolished.

The Mayor's action regarding the Director of Public Works office caused quite a flurry among the Aldermen and one of the newer members of the Board asserted that if the Mayor takes the indicated action, a majority of the Aldermen will evidence a hostile attitude. In the budget for the Executive Department Mayor Childs specifies $5000 for his salary. This is the amount authorized by vote of the 1929 Board of Aldermen. Mayor Weeks, then an alderman, voted against the $2000 increase at that time and during the 6 years he held office took but $3000 annually for his salary. He did, however, have an assistant secretary in the Mayor's office at a $1200 yearly salary, so that actual saving the city was $800 instead of $2000 yearly. The only cut made by the Mayor in the figures submitted by Comptroller White for the expenses of his department was in the item for clerical assistance—reduced from $10,940 to $9900. In the Treasury Department the two items cut by the Mayor were

THE NEWTON TRACK CHAMPIONS

Ten years ago a new teacher was appointed to the faculty of the Newton High School and assigned to athletic duty as assistant track coach under Coach Alfred W. Dickinson. It was not long before the capabilities of the new assistant were shown to be of such high calibre that Coach Dickinson planned to turn over the burdens of coaching this sport entirely to him. The unexpected death of the beloved Newton coach in February of 1927, resulted in the immediate advancement of Assistant Coach Donald G. Enoch to head track coach. For ten years he has been moulding Newton boys scholastically and athletically—and morally as well. Never once has he placed the desire for success above the welfare of the boys in his charge. He has turned out individual champions and they have gone on in many cases to further athletic glory. Those who follow this sport know that Newton lads do not become "burned out" with too much competition in school, but are brought along as their growth and strength permits.

During the past decade approximately one thousand boys have been candidates for Coach Enoch's track teams. Perhaps one-fifth have made the grade and worn the school colors in competition with other schools. At times material has been available so that excellent results were obtained in team competition. One prize, however, has heretofore eluded Newton's possession—the honor of winning the State Meet. A few years ago a Newton track team won every dual meet, another team won every interscholastic meet but the state affair. Last year sickness of a star competitor prevented Newton from taking the state honors. Last Saturday there was no question of Newton's supremacy to climax a season in which Newton swept first honors in all but four interscholastic meets. To the credit of the boys it should be said that they have acted like champions all the way.

It takes time, patience, forbearance, and a hundred other attributes to develop an athlete and the coach plays a most prominent part, particularly in track where individual effort is paramount yet in his modest and characteristic way, Don Enoch will refuse to take the credit which is his due. Last fall a new assistant was assigned to aid the popular Newton coach and one of the latter's favorite remarks this season has been "never has a coach been blessed with such an assistant." Thus does Coach Enoch share the honor and glory which comes to Newton. Hail the championship Newton track team and congratulations to Coach Enoch, Assistant Coach Boyle and the boys who wear the orange and black.

THE 1936 BUDGET

The 1936 budget figures submitted by Mayor Childs to the Board of Aldermen are practically in line with the expenditures of a year ago. A rise in welfare expenditures, school costs, and other incidentals indicate an unavoidable increase in total expenditures which was predicted many months ago. A rise in the tax rate is inevitable, although it may be but a slight advance. That problem will necessarily come later after it is determined what appropriations are needed for the carrying on of our city government and after it is known what the city's share of the state burden will be.

The action of Mayor Childs in recommending only enough money to enable the office of the Director of Public Works to function until May first is the chief topic of interest at the present time. This office, created about two years ago, has supervised and co-related the work of the water, street and engineering departments. Whether or not the office has proved its worth or will prove its worth within a reasonable length of time is the question to be decided. The Mayor apparently believes that it is worth looking into as his action makes it possible to continue the office by recommending an additional appropriation later. If the office is worth while we do not believe that the aldermen will find it difficult to convince the Mayor to this end.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

Sixty years ago Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone. Perhaps Bell had some idea of the important part this instrument would play in the advancement of science and in the everyday life of the civilized world. We doubt, however, that he could see the far-reaching effect it has had. Of the many changes in the past century, those brought about by the telephone are among the most noteworthy. We leave it to your imagination as to what the future holds in the line of further scientific developments.

NEWTON CHAPTER, ORDER OF DE MOLAY

On Thursday, Feb. 27th, the Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay Patrol, journeyed to Natick for an exhibition drill and to promote interest in starting a Patrol in Natick Chapter. Boston Chapter was also present and exemplified the DeMolay Degree.

Monday evening, March 2nd, try-outs were held for "Honeycomb Inn," a musical comedy to be given by Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and Waltham Assembly of Rainbow, on March 20th.

Autos Collide At Newtonville

Cars driven by Paul Klauer, 85 Floral st., Newton Highlands and Francis Gardner, Fisher ave., Newton Highlands collided at Walnut and Cabot sts., Newtonville on Wednesday about 8 a. m. Klauer was reported as having had some teeth loosened in the crash when he was hurled forward and a pipe he was smoking caused unexpected leverage on his teeth.

A former Newton resident will return here next week Thursday evening to speak before a gathering in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Harriman on Centre st., Newton. He is Dr. James L. Barton, who recently was called an "illustrious apostle of the Gospel of hope for the whole world." He is internationally known as a missionary expert and a Christian statesman. Dr. Barton was born in Vermont, lived for many years in Newton and because of his wide knowledge of the Near East is often consulted by the State Department in Washington. For many years he has been chairman of the Near East Foundation. He was moderator of the International Congressional Council for 10 years and at the Lausanne Peace Conference represented the religious, educational and philanthropic interests of the Near East. Accompanying Dr. Barton will be Dr. Barclay Acheson of New York City who will show recent moving pictures of the work of the Foundation and will speak briefly upon the international significance of the work.

The election of Frank R. Mullaney of West Newton as the new vice-president of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. was announced this week along with two other changes in personnel. Mr. Mullaney went with this company in 1916 as secretary, was elected assistant secretary in 1919 and secretary in 1927. He is a charter member and fellow of the Casualty Actuarial Society.

Three Newton girls had a part in the first of the annual series of teas of the Student Government Association at Radcliffe College this week Wednesday. The tea for members of the department of languages and literature and their wives was held in Agassiz House. Miss Madeline Collins of Beecher rd., Newton; Miss Eleanor Vanderhoof of Dexter rd., Newtonville, and Miss Marguerite Bancroft of Oakleigh rd., Newton, were among the ushers.

Newton again has earned distinction in the matter of scholarship. Cornelia Brown of 148 Dickinson rd., Newton Highlands, becomes the second Newton girl in two years to win one of the three White Open Scholarships to Swarthmore College at Swarthmore, Penna. Miss Brown, now a senior at Newton High School, expects to enter Swarthmore in September. There were 150 candidates applying for the three scholarships with 19 states being represented in addition to the District of Columbia, Canada, Cuba, and China. These scholarships are based on the general plan of the Rhodes Scholarships with $500 a year for four years awarded the three candidates showing the greatest promise in qualities of womanhood, force of character and leadership, and in literary and scholastic ability and attainments. The scholarships may be held for four years if a high standing in college is maintained. At Newton High Miss Brown has maintained an unusually high scholastic record, is a member of the National Honor Society and particularly interested in social work.

As one of the Newton School Days series of radio broadcasts the Newton High School presented a program over WBZ yesterday afternoon devoted to the traffic problems of the young driver. Three skits, written by Peggy Burkhard, Suzanne Cushman and Bernard Ericson, were dramatized by Barbara Bancroft, Peggy Burkhard, Suzanne Cushman, Phyllis Appleyard, Frank Scheehl, John Meniway and Hugh Tomb. A feature of the broadcast was a conversation between a young driver, interpreted by Bernard Ericson, and a young lad who is about to apply for a driver's license, Western Haskell. Sound effects were prepared under the direction of Constance Wheeler. Miss Helen B. Lee of the Newton High School faculty was the counsellor for the group.

Many of the men of Newton Centre are looking forward to an interesting evening next Wednesday, March 11th, at the First Congregational Church. The occasion will be the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the church with a most interesting speaker and subject. The guest speaker will be Rev. William Bradley Whitney, chaplain of the Mass. State Prison at Charlestown, who will give an illustrated lecture on "From Prison Gate to Electric Chair." All men of the community are invited. The speaking program will be preceded by a dinner at six forty-five.

A mass meeting will be held in Newton Upper Falls next Monday evening for the purpose of discussing a proposed Community House in that section of the city. All men and women are invited. This week Tuesday evening twenty representative residents met at the Emerson School to organize for the purpose of sponsoring the project. Mr. Robert McLaughlin was appointed chairman and will preside at the meeting next week. Mr. C. E. Churchill is secretary of the organizing committee. The Newton ERA orchestra will furnish music prior to the discussion of the project which it is expected will give an expression of the opinions of many residents of the community.

The last meeting of The Neophytes, Newton High School Dramatic Club for Sophomores, proved of especial interest. The members and their guests, the Alpha Betas, were honored by having the mother of Suzanne Cook as guest speaker. Mrs. Cook, known on the stage as Adele Neff, gave a delightful series of charming and original impersonations.

Letters To The Editor

FREE SPEECH AND THOUGHT

To the Editor,

Dear Sir:

Recently you printed a letter from Mr. James A. Waters concerning Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, and advocating that he resign from the School Committee because he is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union. I ask that you print this letter also.

Whether Mr. Waters knows it or not, our Constitution guarantees free speech and the right of free assembly to every citizen, and anyone who in any way tries to take those rights away from Americans is in the deepest sense subversive, un-American, and attempting to act in an un-Constitutional manner. That regrettable these rights need defense, is the reason for the existence of the American Civil Liberties Union. Freedom of speech means just that, literally. Freedom to disagree with Mr. Waters, as well as freedom to agree with him.

Harvard men are justly proud of the stand taken by Charles William Eliot, ex-president of the university, who when a professor disagreed with him said, "I disagree with your opinion, sir, but I will defend to the last ditch your right to express them," and gave the professor the chance to publish his views by the university press. That is the kind of Americanism we admire.

In these critical times, when every important issue is controversial, we need more than ever before the right to discuss freely all sides of any question. I feel confident, even if Mr. Waters does not, that the intelligence of the American people will be able to sift the true from the false, if given a fair chance. We don't need self-appointed dictators to tell us what to think.

As for Dr. Mather, he is a fair-minded, intelligent and honest man, a man of good will. We ought to have more citizens like him. Personally I am rather tired of those who talk loudly about "our democratic form of government," and then by their unholy scramble after money, and their determined attack on civil liberties, are doing their best to undermine it. I am willing to grant Mr. Waters his right to his own point of view. Will he grant me the same right?

Very truly yours,

ARMSTRONG R. PERRY.

QUOTES MATHER'S VIEWS

Mr. Editor:

It takes but a moment's attention to the GRAPHIC of December 20 to point out the rank injustice and absurdity of Mr. James A. Waters' attack upon Prof. Kirtley F. Mather in this column last week.

May I quote two sentences from your account of Dr. Mather's address to the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs reported in that issue:

"It is possible to work out an economic democracy that would function and that would save our capitalistic system from overthrow by communism or fascist doctrines."

And again, "Through . . . study (of the part of adults) we can establish an attitude of mind which will

"LET'S LOOK AT THE STARS"

Astronomy is a subject that, by its very nature, has always held a peculiar interest for man. There is mystery in a clear dark night, when the heavens are ablaze with stars—a challenge to man's intellect to find out what they are.—Donald H. Menzel.

The Stars for Sam—Reed.

The author has put imagination and humor, as well as scientific knowledge, into his book, and the result is a volume that is thoroughly readable.

When the Stars Come Out—Baker.

Begins with a description of the heavens as they appeared to the shepherds of Chaldea. Shows how men have built up the picture of the stars and planets, and what modern telescopes are doing for astronomy.

Astronomy for Young Folks—Lewis.

Story of the Earth and Sky—Washburn.

Stars for Children—Johnson.

The author has succeeded in making the study of the sky entertaining, in spite of the fact, or partly because of the fact, that he makes a game of the whole matter.

Astronomy from a Dipper—Clarke.

Let's Look at the Stars—Frost.

A famous astronomer, Director Emeritus of the Yerkes Observatory of the University of Chicago, has written in simple language a book that explains the wonders of the sky. For ten to thirteen-year-olds.

Stars and Planets—Menzel.

Exploring the universe.

A Beginner's Star-Book—McKreedy. An easy guide to the Stars and to the astronomical uses of the opera-glass, field glass, and the telescope.

60 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, March 10, 1877

Cisterns and wells have given out quite generally in Newton Centre. The introduction of the pond water last fall was very fortunate although few were able to make connections before the cold weather. The authorities have, for a small fee, filled up the empty cisterns. As soon as the frost is out of the ground, the citizens will generally take the pond water.

A large and appreciative audience was in attendance at the West Newton Lyceum on Monday evening. The debate was on the question—"Shall women who pay a tax on $1000 have the ballot?" Miss Mary Eastman of Lowell argued that when our forefathers said—"All men are born free and equal," they forgot women. She said all men were free except black men, and then came a day when many noble men laid down their lives to free them. Now all men can vote except Chinamen, and we come to women. We ask you before God have you right to speak for yourself and another?

James T. Allen said that in his youthful days he was a gushing exponent of women's rights, but with mature years of manhood he had become conservative. Has not this country been plunged into grief because of too much suffrage? We must go back to the primitive stage of suffrage where education and property value, as well as moral character were the requisites of every voter. Woman is man's equal in some respects, but not in physical strength. The male fights and protects the female; government rests on force. Suffrage is a positive force; men are positive, women negative. A true woman who has womanly elements of character, does not want to vote. Every woman if she desires, has a silent influence on the ballot. Strong minded women who want to vote have been knocking at the doors of political parties for years, and to the party that will pledge its support, these women will ally themselves, regardless of principles.

Rev. Mr. Barnard thought women are superior to men. We do not ask men if they are worth $1000 before they can vote, and we are trying to help paupers, insane and criminals, with whom we class women by depriving them of the right to vote. Thomas Drew argued that God has arranged that man should be the natural protector of woman; the male in almost every instance will fight for his mate. It has been stated many times that women will purify politics. This is false for when some unscrupulous man wants to pass a bill before Congress, or the Legislature, he employs a woman to use her arts on the lords of creation, and they frequently succeed, for they are diabolical sometimes, as well as womanly.

Nathaniel T. Allen said the day is past when we can deprive women of the right to vote. We must meet this question as men. In our homes, schools and wherever woman has been placed, she has proved herself the equal of man. The law should be removed from the statutes which deprives a woman of owning her own clothes. A few years ago here in Newton a man pushed his wife out of their home, withheld her clothing and jewelry, and she has not been able to get them since. Miss Eastman closed the debate by saying that as regards women's ability to fight if brute force is to be used, there are women in the lowest walks of life who could be trained to fight, but we do not propose to argue the question from that point. Most of us are Republicans and believe in universal suffrage, and the time is coming when you will be glad to call on women to help you for corruption and bankruptcy will sooner or later be felt. How many towns and cities are free from debt? Why such extravagances in public buildings and other expenditures of peoples' money? In the household it is the woman who is the economist. Now we need the economy of women in the State. We believe in educating women to a higher standard and in earning our own support so we will be able to meet the great questions of life.

From Newton Graphic, March 6, 1886

Rev. Wolcott Calkins preached a rousing sermon at Eliot Church last Sunday very apropos to the present unsettled times and the agitation in the labor world.

The Boston papers have reported the death of the wife of Judge Pitman much to the annoyance of the judge and his family. Mrs. Pitman has been seriously ill but we are happy to announce upon the authority of the attending physician that the crisis is passed and her speedy recovery is hoped for.

Newton Graphic, March 3, 1911

Two coasting accidents took place last Friday evening on Newtonville ave., Newton. As a result two boys are in the Newton Hospital with broken legs and another is seriously ill at his home on Waverley ave. Li-sandro Rivera, a young lad from Honduras who lives on Waverley ave., was thrown against a lamp post when the rear sled on a double-runner broke. He received a cut on his head which took 3 stitches to close. William and James Maher, sons of Michael Maher of Winthrop ave., received broken legs in the second accident. They were taken to the hospital.

Powers' Paragraphs

The teachers, professors, members of the Legislature and others are having much verbiage over the question of the "teachers' oath." Personally, we think that both sides are taking themselves too seriously. Many of the educators are too class conscious, and many of the "patriots" are grand stand players. Teachers or college professors would have great difficulty, even if they had the desire, to inculcate the majority of Americans with communistic principles. And all the blatherings of nobility seeking politicians won't stop the trend toward progressive legislation in this country. In the past changes in social conditions have necessitated changes in economic and political conditions. The present chaotic state of the world (including the U. S. A.) necessitates new arrangements in our civilization so that production and distribution of wealth and the necessities of life will be properly synchronized.

We believe the majority of the people of this country will, eventually, co-operate in reaching some solution of our present economic problems. A solution that will properly reward individual effort, industry and reasonable thrift; that will discourage chiselling, idleness, political chicanery and pseudo patriotism; that will take from those who have much more than their share, and give to those who are in want. And in the meantime the selfish will try to prevent such changes by using their brains and influence, and the chisellers and dupes will aid them by using their vocal organs instead of their brains.

It appears that Governor Landon is well in the lead at present as the "hope" of the Republican party. We are reading lots of propaganda disseminated for the purpose of causing people of the U. S. A. to believe that the Kansas man typifies simplicity, sincerity, frugality and diligence. But, we have frequently seen those who set the pace at the start of a race fade out at the finish.

If the building workers strike at New York hits the Empire State Building, Al Smith would have plenty of opportunities to "take a walk" provided he were working on the job he officially holds as titular head of that big structure. But, Al will probably bask in the sunny atmosphere of Palm Beach, Florida until the labor trouble in New York is settled.

Last Sunday night at 10 o'clock we observed a large truck owned by a chain grocery store company delivering merchandise at two stores in Nonantum operated by this company. This violation of the Sabbath law was reported to police headquarters and it was promised that action will be taken to prevent recurrences. There is too much of a trend to commercialize Sunday; too many ice cream trucks, fuel trucks and other commercial vehicles being operated Sundays. Most of us enjoy that day to rest and those who now have to work on Sundays, without any real need for them doing so, should also have that day apart from labor. We haven't any sympathy for householders who allow their fuel oil supply to become exhausted so that they phone on a Sunday for an emergency delivery.

We have, in the past, mentioned a couple of times about the squandering of ERA and WPA funds in allotments to so-called actors and actresses. Men and women, and a percentage of whom are youthful, have been and are receiving large allotments weekly who never made a livelihood as actors or actresses, and whose "talent" is of such a quality that they would speedily "get the gong" at even a small amateur night.

We don't object to any deserving needy person obtaining relief. But, we believe one of the worst indignities to see false alarm actors and actresses obtaining weekly about double what is allotted to men with families dependent on them, and who are required to work as laborers on WPA projects. The controversy over the play "Valley Forge," a WPA production which has cost over 100 (including supernumeraries) has revealed that the weekly cost of this drama is allegedly $3000. It is presented before audiences which number less than the cast, in some instances, according to press reports. It is about time the "Federal Theater project" racket was curtailed, if not eliminated.

The garment workers strike at Boston calls attention to the low wages paid many men and women working in this industry. When one buys some article of clothing in a chain, or independent store at a ridiculously low price, it is fairly safe to assume that the workers who made that garment were not paid living wages.

The fact that the political ambitions of Leverett Saltonstall and Sinclair Weeks cause these two prominent residents of Newton to seek at the same time the two highest elective offices to be voted for by the citizens of Massachusetts, works to the decided disadvantage of both. It is natural for objections to be raised against nominating a candidate for Governor and a candidate for United States Senator from the same community. Really there is no good reason for such an objection. The functions of the two offices are quite apart. But, ordinarily it is political practice to divide the honors among various sections. It is practical politics to do so. Both Mr. Saltonstall and Mr. Weeks will have hard fights to win the nominations.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. C. BENTLEY

Throwing Money Around

Trailing those who would achieve distinction, like the immortal George Washington in the Rappahannock river legend, by throwing a dollar across the nearest stream, I have selected the artificial pond at Farlow Park as the place for my noteworthy attempt. In order that this feat, for that is what it will be if I accomplish it, shall possess plenty of hazards I prefer to wait until Spring or Summer when there is no ice. With the pool filled with clear water, or as clear as may be expected in Farlow Park, it will seem more thrilling. As a matter of fact the depth there is such, I am glad to say, that the dollar can be easily rescued if I fail to fling it the full distance. Under adverse circumstances I would plunge in, fully dressed, to recover it if I thought that any of the onlookers sought to beat me to it. Of course if there is a large crowd on hand and any disposition is shown to rattle me and get hold of the coin by such means or otherwise, I shall be obliged to use a "holoney" dollar.

Accent Not Important

A tendency to give the British flavor to the pronunciation of the word "delegate" has been noted since talk became general of the State political party primaries in April. I find that it is not due to the drawing of party lines but that as many Democrats as Republicans are saying "dulla-ge-t." They are clipping the word, as the English have a way of doing with many of theirs, robbing all syllables of their due, and reducing it to almost nothing but a dumb head-slug. I wouldn't say it was affectation, nor would I concern myself as to the extent of the change. If one seeks to be a "dulla-ge-t," or a "dulla-ge-t" or just a delegate, the most important consideration is getting the votes, not pronouncing the word.

"Let's Do Something"

If we should ever go back to some of the old-fashioned ideas, under a change of government, for example, I hope we may revive at least a few of the delightful customs of the not too dim and distant past. The matter of national economy, in my modest opinion, is not half as important as getting people out of their chairs. Too much time is spent camping in front of the loud-speaker that could be used to better advantage.

I would like to see people playing charades, for instance, for excitement, either one. There would be a chance to develop one's imagination. Not exactly the kind of charades that were the piece de resistance of every party prior to and during the 90's, but a new sort which would be more up-to-date, or, as long as I started this French stuff, fin de siecle.

I must admit I got the idea from Major Bowes and his amateur hour which I always listen to while drinking hot cocoa. I would have everybody in the game of charades contribute something original and instead of ringing the bell to stop them, I would ring it for them to continue to see if they could make a louder noise with their voices or whatever instrument they used. I would handcuff everybody except whoever happened to be "it," to prevent applause and would compel an audience never to perform before an audience no matter how friendly. I shall not attempt to develop my idea further as I prefer to plant the seed and let some more facile brain cultivate it. Like many reformers, I stand ready to start something but seldom to finish it.

No Hurry about It

Between snow drops and cough drops this has been a busy winter for me. I could not, if opportunity had offered, stated my opinions as to sidewalk cleaning and whether a gravel surface should be exempt or all walks from City Hall, or by preferential zoning or what haven't you. I was kept busy with a snow shovel because I flattered myself that I might be singled out of 70,000 and punished for failure to obey what seems to be a phantom city ordinance. Mythical or not it frightened me for a time but now I am going right ahead with my garden plans for I know the sidewalk cleaning problem will not be settled until long after the roses bloom again. I shall devote part of my Summer vacation to writing my opinion on snow removal and am confident it will be ready when the city fathers of 1937 are still debating the subject.

Brightening Banquet Reports

It has been my acute privilege to attend many a banquet. In numerous cases there was an assignment in my pocket, which is to say I was compelled to attend or quit my job. It will be understood, after this explanation, that I make no idle boast when I contend I have probably heard as many non-stop orators as the next man. Far be it from me to brag but rather to offer a suggestion in the coverage of these matters by the press. Along with the list of "among those present" might we not have, just to brighten up the account, as I am sure it would, the names of those who expected to be invited and weren't and those who were asked and declined.

FORM SKI TEAM AT NEWTON HIGH

The Athletic Council of Newton High School has authorized the for-Ski Team is under the direction of Mr. Daniel P. A. Willard, High School instructor in Social Studies.

"Ski Ho!" is the cry these days among the boys at the school. Roy Merchant, Fred Soule, Albert McAus-lin, Jack Hallett, Donald Nordbeck, Thomas McCutcheon, Jack Davis and Lawrence Woods form the nucleus of this group.

Roy Merchant has been chosen captain of the team, and Fred Soule is manager.

Wednesday, March 5th, at Brae Burn Country Club, the Ski Team had its first dual meet in contest with the Melrose High School Ski Team. Events scheduled were cross country, ski jump, and down hill running.

NEWTON LEADING 18-9
HARTMAN NOT IN MEET

Robin Hartman, crack hurdler and high jumper for Brookline High, will not compete today in the classic Newton-Brookline dual meet, due to a strained ligament incurred in the hurdles final of the State Meet last week. In the three field events concluded yesterday at Brookline, Newton assumed a commanding lead of 18-9.

Nathaniel Heard, Newton shotputter, won his event easily with the good distance of 48 ft. 5 in., the best he has done in competition. George Mawhinney took second for Brookline, ahead of the versatile Ernie Savignano, Newton's all-scholastic football quarterback. Ray Huling, Newton co-captain, reached 9 ft. 7 in. in the broad jump from an unsteady takeoff board, leading his teammate, Richard Massell, and Harold Sklar of Brookline. Hampered by the absence of Hartman, Brookline still more than broke even in the high jump. Bob Nagle tied for first with Messier of Newton, with Byrne and Levenberg of Brookline tied for third.

Continuation of the meet is scheduled for three o'clock this afternoon at Brookline.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

By JACK MORRIS

NEWTON WINS STATE TITLE WITH 28½ PTS.

Scoring heavily in every event except the high jump and the distance runs, the Newton High track team won the State Meet last Saturday at the Boston Garden, with a total of 28½ points. Malden and Boston English were tied for second with 14 points each. Four first places, a second and one third accounted for the Newton victory, with 3½ points for the relay team's fourth.

Co-captains Warren Wittens and Ray Huling turned in great performances. Huling won the broad jump at 9 ft. 11½ in., then ran the race of his life in the hurdles, pushing the defending champion, Hartman of Brookline, to equal the meet record. Wittens ran only the 300-yard run, but did it in the grand manner, reducing the Class A record to 33 1-5 seconds.

Paul Forte, chesty junior sprinter, culminated his first track season by winning the state 40-yard dash title. Surviving such veterans as Rombo of Everett, Montgomery of Brockton, Scala and Sullivan of English, who were all put out in the trials, Forte and his sophomore teammate, Frank Hines, entered the final with Masters of Lynn Classical and James Watson of Brockton. Forte made two false starts, then left the mark with the flash of the gun, taking a two-yard lead in the first few strides, and holding the advantage to the finish. Hines ran second to Forte for most of the distance, and was edged out of that position by Masters only at the tape.

Ray Huling ran his trial heats of the 45-yard low hurdles in 5.9 and 5.7 seconds, entering the final along with Henry Mazur of Lowell, Donald Donahue of Lawrence, and the defending champion, Robin Hartman of Brookline. Huling got off the mark first, led Hartman at every hurdle, and appeared to win from the champion in the record time of 5.6 seconds. Officially, Hartman was called the winner, depriving Huling of a double, since he had already made his winning leap in the broad jump.

Wittens, Heard Win Their Events

Warren Wittens was everybody's choice in the Class A 300-yard run, having altered the records for three tracks already during the season. He defeated Charles Koslowski of Brockton in his 33.7 trial heat, then outran Ralph Ryan of Boston English by eight yards in the final, setting the new state record of 34.4 and breaking the mark of 33.6 set four years ago by Larry Scallion. Ryan was still within two strides of Wittens on the first lap, but never in a position to challenge the lead. Bob Muther ran third in his trial heat, and was clocked at 36.7.

Another dependable five points was added to the Newton tally by Nathaniel Heard in the shot put. Competing in another class from Gilligan of Brighton, Heard again showed his consistency with a put of 47 ft. 1 in., more than a foot better than the second place effort of John Mantos of Boston English.

Newton had scored 25 points in five events when the relays began, so Bud Wittens was excused from service, and Newton was represented against Brookline by Ray Huling, Don Hooper, Jerry Allen and Bud Muther. Brookline's team of Redmond, Livingstone, Kadis and Abels dogged the Newton four all the way, and were never more than five yards to the rear, but the lead set up by Ray Huling on the first straightaway was never lost. Hooper's running to hold off the fast Livingstone was especially noteworthy. The time of the winning Newton team, 2 min. 15.9 sec., was good enough for fourth place and 3½ points, bringing the winning total to the 28½.

Newton Highlights

Former Newton High School track athletes will play prominent parts in the I. C. A. A. A. championship meet tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden in New York. Harvard is expected to provide the strongest opposition to Manhattan University's champions, and Captain Milton Green, a former pupil of Don Enoch at Newton High, will be contending in at least two events for Harvard.

Oddly enough, Newton will be represented at the I. C. A. A. meet by two 24-foot broad jumpers. In addition to Green, there will be Stanley Johnson of M. I. T. who won the national junior title at Lincoln, Nebraska, last July with a leap of 24 ft. 11 in. The Tech senior was runner-up to Eulace Peacock of Temple, world record holder, in the Boston A. A. games last month. Last Saturday he set a new indoor record of 23 ft. 1½ in. at Tech, where the runway for the jump is restricted to thirty feet. Incidentally, both Johnson and Green were also captains of

GREEN TRIPLE WINNER IN HARVARD VICTORY

The first Quadrangular college indoor track meet between Harvard, Yale, Cornell and Dartmouth last Saturday night at the Boston Garden was featured by a former Newton High track star, Milton Green, captain of the Harvard team, led the Crimson to a well-earned victory with the thrilling performance of winning the first three events on the evening's program. Harvard scored 40 points to Cornell's 32½ with Yale third with 27½ and Dartmouth trailing with 17 points. The meet replaced the old triangular affair with Yale being the newcomer to the competition.

The shotput and weight throw having been held at Cambridge in the afternoon, the teams came into the Garden in the evening with Cornell and Yale having seven points, Harvard five and Dartmouth three. The broad jump was the first evening event. Early spectators were treated to the sight of a new indoor record in this event when Green leaped 24 feet 1 3/8 inches on one of his tries to open his dazzling performance. It smashed the 23 ft. 2 in. record for the triangular meet, which had existed for 15 years, by practically a foot, and is the best indoor jump ever made in New England competition. Ned Gourdin held the previous record which he established in 1921. It also exceeded the C. A. A. A. record of 23 ft. 11 1/16 inches made last year by Johnson of Columbia. This record may well tumble tomorrow night with Green competing in the intercollegiate at New York.

The former Newton star then entered the 50-yard dash. Competing in the fourth heat against Johnson of Dartmouth, Godshall of Cornell, and Farlan of Yale in the fastest of the trials, Green won handily in 5.5 seconds to qualify for the finals. A heat for second men was staged before the 45-yard high hurdles were called. In this event Green was in the first heat, giving him but a few minutes rest. Leading Neff of Cornell, Watson of Dartmouth and Zellner of Yale in the time of 5.9 seconds, Green set the stage for his triumphant climax.

About fifteen minutes later the final of the dash was called, with Green lining up with Captain Linders of Cornell, Downer of Harvard, and Jack Donovan, King, and Johnson of Dartmouth. Linders was the 1934 and 1935 winner and favorite to repeat while Donovan is the same Lawrence youth who formerly opposed Green in school track competition. Green got an excellent start and won in clear-cut fashion with the remainder of the field closely bunched. The judges' decision gave Johnson second, Donovan third, and King fourth with Linders failing to place. Green's time was 5.6 seconds against the record of 5.4.

Returning immediately to the starting line the final of the hurdle was in order. Again Green found Donovan among his opponents, along with Neff of Cornell and Bill Schmidt, his teammate. Less than two minutes after winning the dash Green had won the hurdles in a thrilling finish against Donovan. Despite Donovan's lunging finish, Green broke the worst by a narrow margin in the time of 5.8 second, equalling the world's record and his meet record of 1935.

Thus within three-quarters of an hour Green had scored three of Harvard's five first places in the meet, set a new record in the broad jump, blasted Cornell's hopes for winning the meet, by taking the dash, and equalled a world's record for the 'steenth time in the hurdles.

Green was not the only former Newton high track star to compete, as his teammate Douglas Sloane was an entrant in the dash but failed to qualify in the second heat against Linders and Arthur Frank of Dartmouth. Palmer York was on the program as a hurdle entrant but as only two heats were held he did not compete. Bill Schmidt, the second Harvard hurdle entry, is a former Country Day School star athlete of three years ago.

Their Newton High track teams, Green in 1931 and Johnson in 1932. David McLellan, a junior from Waban, was another record-breaker in the M. I. T. interclass meet last Saturday. He ran the 300 in 33 1-5 s., which is very fast time for any track, breaking a record set six years ago. Fran Houghton, another junior from Newton, was runner-up to McLellan. McLellan has been the key man of the M. I. T. relay teams for two years, and will bear watching in the intercollegiate.

Two boys only a year out of Newton High will run at Madison Square Garden tomorrow when the Northeastern University freshman medley relay team performs. They are Allen Freeman, captain of winter track last year at high school, and Robert Kiley, and will run the 800-metre and 400-metre distances, respectively.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Policyholders have an interest in this Annual Report

It may be assumed that these policyholders took out their insurance through a sense of responsibility for those in whose protection they are interested.

When they pay their premiums, there falls upon the Insurance Company a responsibility to pay current claims and to provide adequate funds for the payment of all future obligations.

The figures below show the amount of the claims paid by this Company last year. They also show how well prepared the Company is to meet its responsibilities in the future.

The number of policies and the amount of insurance in force reflect the confidence reposed in the Company by the people of the United States and Canada.

Annual High School Play

George Jamison, who plays the leading role in "Merton of the Movies," has brought to the character of Merton Gill one of the finest bits of acting seen hereabouts on an amateur stage. His work these days, while the play is in rehearsal, has been remarkably good and indications are that this year's production will equal the high standards set by the Drama Club in previous years. Opposite Mr. Jamison is Miss Claire Holman, who plays the role of the heroine. The Montague Girl.

The play is being coached by Miss Louise Wetherbee, teacher of English in the High School.

Performances will be given for the public on Friday afternoon, March 13, and Saturday evening, March 14.

The cast includes George Jamison, George Kenigott, Fred Beale, Rutland Filbin, Janet Hickey, John Kennigott, Stuart Stern, Fred Fairfield, Jack Koughan, Claire Holman, Gordon Wentworth, Charlotte Appel, Gladys Coffin, James Bierer, Marjorie Hesslein, Joe Hall and John Perry.

Rescue Dog From Charles River

An English bull terrier owned by Robert Martin, Russell rd., Newton, was saved from drowning in the Charles River near his home on Wednesday morning by Patrolmen Anderson and McLean of the Metropolitan police. The officer observed the dog struggling in the broken ice in the river. Launching a boat, they got to the open water near the dog and with a boat hook grabbed his collar and carried him to the Watertown shore of the Charles. Someone had sent a telephone call to Watertown fire department headquarters and Ladder 1 of that town arrived as the policemen reached the shore with the dog.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of the Young People's Council will be held on Saturday, March 7, at 7:45 p. m. at the Second Congregational Church in West Newton. The new officers of the Council, elected at the recent conference, will be installed. Mr. Frank Grebe, director of Religious Education at Second Church, is in charge of the installation service, and he and his committee are planning an impressive ceremony. There is also important business to be discussed, including plans for the Easter Sunrise Service annually held by the Council, and also plans for an institute which the Council expects to sponsor this spring. It is hoped that every member will endeavor to be present.

Dinner To Tom White

Mr. White in expressing his thanks for the testimonial to him mentioned that the affair had been started by Frank Generazio, and that while he appreciated the honor, he would have preferred that his friends not have given him such a mark of esteem. He assured his listeners that politics had nothing to do with the affair, and that he has no political ambitions other than to serve as a loyal friend and supporter to candidates who believe in sane, orderly and proper government.

Henry Cabot Lodge said the banquet was quite different from those usually held. Mr. White didn't know just how it happened and there was nothing pumped up about it. He said Tom White is a unique personality. He can preserve his perspective, accomplish much with little effort, knows what he is doing, hits hard, and tells the truth. Mr. Lodge said the gathering was unusual. Those who came were not actuated by selfish motives, didn't meet as Republicans or Democrats, but as friends of Mr. White. He said that there should be more such meetings, and that persons of varying views by so getting together could reach common objectives.

Others who spoke were Herman F. Wells, and former Aldermen Earle, Sproat and Powers. Mrs. White was presented with a bouquet of roses. An entertainment was provided by WPA performers.

Newtonville Townsend Club

The Newtonville Townsend Club will hold its regular meeting on Friday evening, March 6, at the Club Headquarters, Room 5, at 283 Walnut st., Newtonville.

The speaker of the evening will be W. K. Mason of Malden, and he will be followed by a short talk by Chas. P. York of Newton on his reaction to the Townsend Movement from the view of an education. There will be an entertainment furnished in which John Fiske of Waltham, retired Army man, will assist, and a Food Sale conducted by the Entertainment Committee.

All interested in the Townsend Movement are earnestly invited to attend. There is no admission fee.

Republicans Meet At Cambridge

Over 500 tickets have already been sold for the Republican banquet in Cambridge on March 10 and the ballroom of the Continental Hotel will be taxed to capacity, according to the committee report made Tuesday evening.

The banquet, which is being given in honor of Cecil E. Fraser, former president of the Cambridge Republican Council, and Mrs. Fraser, will also mark the opening of the campaign for delegates from the Ninth Congressional District to the national Republican convention to be held in June. As guests at the banquet and running on the same ticket with Mr. Fraser will be Maynard Hutchinson, Alderman of Newton, as the other delegate, and Miss Sybil H. Holmes of Brookline, former president of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Ella M. Vaughan of Waltham, former president of the Waltham Women's Republican Club, as alternates. All four candidates have announced that if elected they will go unpledged both in regard to presidential candidates and party platform.

Leading Republicans throughout the State as well as practically every Republican leader in the Ninth Congressional District will be present, including Leverett Saltonstall, Speaker of the House; John Haigis of Greenfield, former candidate for Lieutenant Governor; Joseph Warner, former State Treasurer, and Robert T. Bushnell, former District Attorney of Middlesex County, all candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor. In addition, Sinclair Weeks, former Mayor of Newton, and Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who are candidates for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, will be present.

The principal speakers will be Henry S. Parkman, State Senator, who with Gaspar G. Bacon will be a candidate for delegate to the national Republican convention from the Tenth District; Charles Francis Adams, former Secretary of the Navy; R. Loring Young, former Speaker of the House, and Prof. Malcolm P. McNair of the Harvard Business School, as well as representatives from the various leading Republican organizations. Leading Republican officials from both the county and the Ninth Congressional District will also be present at the speakers' table.

Newton Educators Back From St. Louis

Mr. Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Schools in Newton, Mr. Paul E. Ellicker, principal of Newton High School, and Mr. C. Elwood Drake, Director of Research and Guidance for Newton Schools, have returned from St. Louis, Missouri, where they attended the annual convention of the National Education Association. This convention came during the week of February 23-29, and coincided with the vacation week for Newton schools.

Both Mr. Warren and Mr. Ellicker took very active part in the convention's program, and Mr. Drake attended the meetings of the National Guidance Association, which met jointly with the Department of Superintendence.

Mr. Warren was chairman for Group Discussion, Monday, February 24, on the subject, "Supervision in Relation to School Administration." On Wednesday, February 26, he led discussion as Group Chairman on the subject, "The Responsibility of the Local Community for the Guidance and Education of Out-of-School Youth." Both groups were largely attended and many educators from various parts of the country participated in the discussions under Mr. Warren's direction.

Mr. Ellicker gave an address before one group of Senior High School Principals on the subject, "What Ought the High School Expect of the Junior High School?" The speech pointed ways to gain greater economic efficiency in the public high school, and was well received. At the general session on Tuesday, February 25, before a large gathering in the Municipal Auditorium, Mr. Ellicker was one of the principal speakers, discussing the problem of "Orientation of Secondary Education."

Mr. Ellicker was elected second vice president of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the N. E. A. He was also made a member of the National Council of the National Honor Society in recognition of his services to the Society and the splendid work being done by the Newton High School Chapter.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 8.

The Golden Text is: "Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O Lord, according unto thy word. Thy hands have made me and fashioned me" (Psalms 119:65, 73).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered . . . Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other" (Matthew 12:10, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sickness, sin, and death are not the fruits of Life. They are inharmonies which Truth destroys. Perfection does not animate imperfection. Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error. Divine Science reveals these grand facts. On their basis Jesus demonstrated Life, never fearing nor obeying error in any form" (p. 243).

sense that the fundamental principle of democracy is sharing; and we can preserve the entire freedom of our educational system, of our religion, of our press, and bring about the evolution of industry from the older fascist into the newer democratic conception and preserve for ourselves the benefits of the capitalistic system."

Now, Mr. Waters is not half as concerned with education for democracy as I am. I am not sure that it will please him to know that (in my opinion) the above quotations represent the feelings of every Newton school teacher. In fact I can testify that they are mildly amused at the inference that they would become willing tools of communist Russia. Mr. Waters cannot begin to realize how conservative Newton's teachers are: nor, apparently, is he aware that historically one of education's functions is to preserve the State. And our State is Democracy.

But the seriousness of the situation lies, to my humble way of thinking, not in the direction to which Mr. Waters points, but behind his back—the superposing of regulations, oaths, and other restrictions which stand for the very "Intolerance and Force in government" which is, in one word, Fascism.

Mr. Waters may disagree with me that the state of affairs in some sections of Beacon Hill represents fascism, but he has the testimony of the feeling of Newton's school teachers on the subject of conditions in the Department of Education (see the GRAPHIC, Feb. 14). If Mr. Waters' concern for the future of Democracy in these beloved United States (no oath or law compelled the adjective "beloved") is as genuine as he implies, let us join forces against hydra-headed fascism before it is too late.

Very truly yours,
WALTER T. TAYLOR.

"Happy Birthday Gran'ma —"

On birthdays or any special occasion, send your voice with your greetings. It changes ordinary best wishes to warm personal greetings, sincere and full of meaning. Send the gift of your voice—there is none like it.

For anniversaries and farewells, let the telephone carry congratulations and good wishes. It turns conventional empty words and phrases into heart warming friendliness. Your voice is remembered much longer than the words you speak—add spirit to your message of congratulation by telephoning.

Telephoning is the easy, personal way of expressing appreciation to a hostess after a pleasant week-end or a short visit. She will feel that you enjoyed yourself if you telephone, and you will be doubly welcome next time. Try it if the bread-and-butter letter seems hard to write.

Sunday Calls Now Take Lower Rates
All day Sunday you may make out-of-town calls at week-day night rates. This means that from 7 o'clock Saturday evening until 4:30 Monday morning, out-of-town calls, in general, take lower rates. On most station-to-station calls, the saving ranges from 12 to 50% of the week-day rate.

New Low Person-to-Person Rates

Any call made to a particular party, where the present station-to-station rate is more than 35 cents, now, for the first time, takes a lower rate from 7 p. m. to 4:30 a. m., each night and all day Sunday.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Edited by EMMA D. O'LOUGHER

Interesting Reports At Board Meeting

The Newton Federation Executive Board met on Monday, February 24th, in the Immanuel Baptist Church, Newton, at 10 a. m., and besides the appeal for car drivers among the club-women by the Red Cross, as announced last week, heard the following informative reports on work accomplished and planned by committees.

Mrs. J. Earle Parker, president, gave a report from Miss Elizabeth P. Bartlett on the Christmas Seals, to the effect that of the 10,469 letters sent out 7,482 had been answered, and the amount of money received to date $5,423.71, but it is very necessary to have the 2,987 unanswered letters in order to carry on the work in the Health Camps this coming summer.

Mr. Julius Lucht, Head Librarian of the Newton library, asked the Federation to assist in financing the Story Hours for the children. The income from the Mary Shannon Fund has depreciated so much it is necessary to have help to carry on this very interesting and successful hour. Mr. Lucht mentioned the crowded conditions which have existed at the Newton Highlands Branch and the hope that the large room which the School Committee has given downstairs in the building may be fitted up into a real Children's Library. He stated also that a room with an outside entrance in the new school building at Oak Hill will cover the present needs in that location, and that Chestnut Hill is the only section in Newton without a branch library.

Mrs. David Black brought a message from Mrs. Ernest Cobb, chairman of Motion Pictures, asking that the clubwomen of Newton work to put through a vote at the next National Convention against crime pictures, so to prevent the "crime ideal" in children.

Mrs. Worth, of the All Newton Music School, gave a number of very interesting statistics regarding private lessons, orchestra work, coaching and recital in the school.

Mrs. Francis Williams, of the Newton Hospital Aid Association, appealed for assistance to the Benefit Shop by gifts of clothing, especially men's and children's, of furniture, or of anything usable in the home. Mrs. Williams covered briefly the wonderful work done for the Newton Hospital by the Hospital Aid Association in furnishing new and latest type instruments, fluoroscope, oxygen tanks, breast pumps, bathing tables, skeleton, electrocardiograph, etc.

A request that birds be given food, and that the tent caterpillar menace be taken care of immediately by cutting branches where tents are forming, was made by Mrs. Edwin H. Dyer, of the Conservation committee. Mrs. Dyer mentioned the opposition to the new sky-line road at Blue Hills, appropriation for which has been included in the budget requirements of the Metropolitan District Commission.

Mrs. Herbert F. Blair, chairman of Education in the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke very earnestly in regard to any possible action of the clubwomen of Massachusetts in keeping politics out of education.

Mrs. J. Porter Russell, chairman of International Relations, reported several very profitable "get-togethers" by her committee; also the recent four-day Conference on International Relations held in New York City. Referring to "entangling alliance" Mrs. Russell asked the women to go back 153 years to the time of the birth of our nation, when the last of the British troops left New York, when manufacturing of all kinds was paralyzed, articles of confederation could not be agreed upon, State boundaries could not be decided, and then a Constitution to form a more perfect Union was signed. Mrs. Russell suggested that the women go home and read Washington's "Farewell Address," and interpret for themselves "entangling alliances."

Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, chairman of the Social committee, gave a report of funds left from the Tea on Presidents' Day.

Presidents' Day, Open House, and Other Offerings

"Presidents' Day" promises to be an interesting meeting at the Newton Centre Woman's Club on Friday, March 13th, when Bessie Williams Boynton will give her original "Sketches of Famous Women" at 3 p. m., following the coffee hour at 1:30, and the business meeting at 2:30 o'clock.

There will be a Flower Show and Exhibition of House Plants under the management of Mrs. Austin C. Benton and Mrs. Frederick Rising, assisted by the Garden committee.

In the Art Gallery there will be an Exhibition of work done by the Art Classes of the Club.

Problems In Home Management

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday, March 13th, at 2:30 p. m., in the Second Church, West Newton.

The speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Mary R. Rice whose subject will be "Waste." Mrs. Rice, instructor in Money Management at Portia Law School, is also Dean of Atherton Hall. She has a clear insight into the affairs of the American Home as related to the lives of women, and through her sympathetic understanding offers many practical suggestions as to how to solve these problems of home management.

The Travel Class of the Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis A. Myers, 63 Orchard avenue, West Newton, on Monday, March 9th, at 2 p. m. Mrs. Charles E. Gibson will be the assisting hostess. Mrs. John S. Franklin will present her paper on "Historic Towns of West Planders and Hainaut," and Mrs. Myers will read her paper on "The Ardennes."

The Junior Group of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will attend a Fashion Show sponsored by the Juniors of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Tuesday, March 10th, at 7:30 p. m., with fashions shown from Mrs. Wheeler's Dress Shop, 825 Beacon street, Newton Centre.

Friday, February 28th, was Citizenship Day at the West Newton Women's Educational Club. Mrs. Carl Thomas was chairman of the Day.

Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader introduced the speaker, Mrs. Philip Woodward, who was from the National Economy League of Massachusetts. Mrs. Woodward gave a very worthwhile non-partisan talk on "Current Issues in State and National Life," of great interest to all present. After the lecture, there was a short question period, and then tea was served in the Ladies' Parlors. Mrs. Francis H. McCrudden and Mrs. Carl Thomas were the pourers.

Open Invitation To Sunday Musicales

A Sunday Afternoon Musicales to which the community is cordially invited will be given on March 15th, at 4 o'clock, at the Newtonville Woman's Club House, the program for which has been arranged by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman of the Glee Club. William Ellis Weston, coach and accompanist of the Glee Club, will direct the Chorus of women's voices. Assisting artists will be a baritone soloist and the Boston WPA String Trio. The program will consist of sacred and secular numbers. There is no admission fee.

The Spring Bridge Party to be given by the Education committee for the Annual Scholarship Fund will be on Friday, March 20th, at 2 p. m., at the Club House. It will be a dessert-bridge, and tickets may be obtained from members of the Education committee.

Attention of Club members is called to the request of the local Chapter of Red Cross for volunteer motor drivers. Mrs. Anton A. Wild, vice-chairman of the Community Service committee in the Newton Federation, and chairman in the Newtonville Club, is very anxious for a good response to this appeal, and will be glad to furnish registration cards, which may be obtained also at the Red Cross rooms, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

Guest Night

The Auburndale Review Club will have its Annual Guest Night on Tuesday evening, March 10th, at 8 o'clock, in Bragdon Hall, La-sell Junior College. A delightful program of music and drama has been planned for the entertainment of guests. There will be a social gathering after the program in the library, and refreshments will be served.

Miss Doris Jones, pianist, who is studying at La-sell, will play. Mr. Roger DeWitt, of Auburndale, will give clarinet solos, and Mrs. Charles Dana Kendall, soprano, will sing. Mrs. Franklin Leland and Mrs. Nelson Freeman will be their accompanists. There will be a Reading by Mrs. Herman Krueger, and a one-act play, entitled "A Grand Cham's Diamond," will be an added feature, in which the parts will be taken by Mrs. Helen Brown, Miss Dorothy DeWitt, Mr. Ernest Braithwaite, Mr. Fred Burton, and Mr. John Allen. Mrs. Krueger will direct the play.

News of The State Federation

Clubwomen planning to attend the American Home and Youth Conference, to be held at the Hotel Statler on the two days, the 19th and 20th of March, are asked to send by March 16th, for their reservations for Luncheon tickets and for Registration Tag, to Mrs. Arthur G. Fletcher, 371 Washington street, Canton, Mass. A self-addressed, stamped envelope should be enclosed. Luncheon tickets are $1.50, and it should be stated for which day they are desired. Registration is 50 cents.

To assist clubwomen in a choice as to which day they may wish to attend, provided they can not give the time for both days, the program has been announced as follows:

Each morning's program opens at 10 a. m.; the afternoon session at 3 o'clock; and Luncheons are at 12:30. (Continued on page 8)

Old Stove Search Held By Gas Co.

An "Old Stove Search" in which 1,618 rewards are being offered to those having stoves over four years old was announced today by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

The rules of the Search state that old stoves entered in the offer may be of any type whatever.

Fifteen hundred Discount Reward Certificates toward the purchase of a new gas range will be awarded immediately to those customers sending in an entry blank which states their present cooking equipment to be over four years old. Then, shortly after the close of the offer, 118 cash rewards totalling $1,100 will also be rewarded among users of the certificates.

The cash rewards are as follows: $100 for the oldest stove now in use; $50 each for the next two oldest; $25 each, next five oldest; $15 each, next ten oldest; $10 each, next twenty-five oldest; and $5 each for the next seventy-five oldest.

The cash rewards will be decided after the close of the offer by six judges, including two members from the company and four representatives of range manufacturers.

Those living within the territory served by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company are urged to go to the nearest office of the company or to an authorized gas appliance dealer and secure an entry blank. The simple rules governing the offer may also be secured at these places.

Mayor Submits
Budget for 1936

An increase in salary proposed for the Deputy Collector and clerks' salaries, in the City Clerk's department several increases in salaries for clerks were approved by the Mayor bringing the estimate for the ensuing year to $7828 as compared with $6656 expended last year.

The estimate for the Engineering Department is $43,852.33 as compared with $35,254.20 expended last year. The increase is partly accounted for by the fact that an engineer who last year was paid by the Water Department is now assigned to the Engineering Department, and an additional draftsman has been appointed. Another expense is the purchase of pitometers at a cost of $1000. This purchase will permit the city to make its own tests on water mains instead of paying a considerable sum to an outside firm for such service as has been done the past few years. Another reason of the increase in this department is the purchase of new automobiles at a cost of $2611.38.

The Mayor reduced the figures submitted by the Public Buildings Department by over $4000. Building Commissioner Hageman asked for a salary increase from $4600 to $5000—and it was not approved by the Mayor. The estimate for maintenance of schools was cut $3000 from the figures submitted by Hageman, and the estimate for maintenance of other public buildings was cut $1000 by the Mayor. Even with these cuts, large increases over 1935 are recommended for the maintenance of public buildings. Last year the amount expended on school buildings was $41,383.96; this year $57,325 is recommended. For maintenance of other buildings $9928 was expended last year; this year $13,670 is recommended.

In the Police Department budget the Mayor lopped off $22,000 from the figures estimated by Chief Hughes. The chief asked for 12 additional patrolmen; the Mayor recommends 3. The chief asked for $5884 for a new ambulance, new cruising cars and motorcycles. The Mayor cut this figure to $2000 which indicates that the old ambulance will continue to be used. The Mayor approves the chief's recommendation for $900 to permit the latter to attend the police chiefs' convention at Kansas City.

The Mayor cut the budget of Chief Randlett for the Fire Department by $10,000. The chief asked for 5 additional firemen; the Mayor turned this down. Other cuts were for maintenance of apparatus from $9500 to $7000, and signal boxes from $1187 to $486. The Mayor approves the chief's recommendation of $8000 for a new combination pumper at Engine 3 station.

The budget of the Health Department—$68,630.50 is an increase of about $8500 from the 1935 budget. This jump is caused in part by an increase of the amount necessary for the Health Officer's salary of $400 from last year because it is on a full year's basis for 1936; because the agent's salary of $3000 was paid partly by the Water Department last year, and because an additional clerk is asked for. Another increase is in laboratory expenses—$299.66 in 1935 to an estimated $1600 this year.

Double Tragedy
In Newton Family

A sister and brother, one a former resident, and the other a resident of this city, were victims of traffic accidents on Friday evening, Feb. 28th, and Monday night, March 2nd. Mrs. Mary (Manning) Moquin, 57, formerly of Mague ave., West Newton, was fatally injured on Friday night when she was struck by an automobile in Marlboro where she had resided for several years. She died on Sunday. Her brother, William P. Walsh, 38, of 86A Dalby st., Nonantum, was critically injured Monday night at 9:10, when he was struck by a Watertown bound car of the Boston Elevated opposite the Bulfinch building on Commonwealth ave., Cottage Farm. He received fractures of the skull and left shoulder, internal injuries and broken ribs in addition to cuts and contusions. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Following Mrs. Moquin's death her body was taken to the home of her son, Charles Manning, 55 Falmouth rd., West Newton. When her brother completed his work on Monday night at the Cadillac garage, Cottage Farm, he was on his way to take the trolley car to Newton en route to his Nonantum home, from whence he was to go to his sister's wake at West Newton. Word was sent to Newton police headquarters soon after Walsh was hit and policeman went in a cruising car to his home in Nonantum to notify Mrs. Walsh of the accident. Mrs. Walsh had shortly before departed for her nephew's residence in West Newton, after having waited for her husband to arrive home. Walsh is the father of six small children, the oldest 12 and the youngest 2.

Mrs. Moquin was born in Watertown, Ireland, and was a resident of Newton most of her life. She was the widow of George Moquin. James Walsh of 23 Pearl st., Newton, is her brother. Her funeral service was held on Wednesday morning at St. Charles Church, Waltham, and burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

"Chintz Cottage" Presented
At N'ville M. E. Church

The members of the Drama Group from the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church made their debut at the N'ville M. E. Church on Wednesday night when they presented the three-act comedy "Chintz Cottage" by Beulah King. Under the direction of Mrs. George F. Williams, the program chairman, the players have been hard at work during the winter and the results were most pleasing to the audience.

The play takes its name "Chintz Cottage" from a charming retreat at Meadow Bank, Derbyshire, England, and is full of humor, romance and a hint of tragedy which clears up with the finding of a golf ball which had knocked out a young man when it was driven so far that it cleared the golf course. The cast of characters were: Mrs. Fred Becker, Mrs. W. H. Timb, Mrs. C. W. Cornelison, Mrs. W. H. Thornton, Mrs. G. F. Williams, Mrs. W. P. Stevenson and Mrs. Morris Geyer.

In the morning the women sewed for the Mayor's Relief. Luncheon was served by the Executive Board with Mrs. John L. Elliott in charge. The annual thank offering of the Woman's Missionary Society Thursday evening, March 12, a meeting of Group VI with Mrs. John W. Duff, March 10, of Group V, with Mrs. Ralph E. Courtage March 9 and a dessert bridge at the home of Mrs. John L. Elliott, March 16 are events scheduled for the month.

Katharine Hepburn at Paramount Theatre

"Little Women," starring Katharine Hepburn, will be the feature picture of the Annual Girl Scout Movie sponsored by the Newton Girl Scout Officers' Association. It will be held at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, on Saturday, March 14, at 9:45 a. m. "Popeye" and a Colored Classic will also be shown. The Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps will open the performance.

Newton Woman
Wins Nash Prize

Mrs. Myra F. Cutler of 83 Walker st., Newtonville, has been notified by the Nash Motor Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin that she has been awarded a prize in the recent "Name the Motor" contest conducted by this automobile company. Over 85,000 persons participated in the contest. The prize will be presented to Mrs. Cutler by a representative of August Osterlund, Inc., Newton agents for Nash and LaFayette cars, whose showrooms are at 724 Beacon st., Newton Centre.

Social Minutes

Once again the Temple Center resounded to the lit and swing of music Saturday evening. It was well after midnight when the receiving was over and the chairman and her assistants, who formed the reception line near the entrance of the ballroom, joined the party. Candles softly illuminated the round guest tables which were arranged about the dance floor. Mrs. Ralph O. Frank, chairman, wore a perky striped taffeta dress and Mrs. Herman Geis's gown of black net was ruffled with four red velvet bows on the bodice. Mrs. Max Katz made a pretty picture in an eyelet shirt-waist frock. Mrs. Louise Epstein's black crepe had a silver belt and Mrs. Abbott J. Epstein had her blue crepe sprinkled with diamante. Mrs. E. Sisson in black net and Mrs. R. Hartstone in black velvet were among the jolliest dancers. Another large group sitting together included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shafar and Mr. and Mrs. D. Stern. Other members of the committee of the Volunteer Service Group (who sponsored this dance) glimpsed on the crowded dance floor included Mrs. Sol Basch, Mrs. S. Geller, Mrs. A. Berkowitz, Mrs. E. Aronson, and Mrs. H. Leventhal. Others present also were Mrs. N. H. Whitman, Mrs. Edward Dangel, Mrs. Chas. Shulman, Mrs. H. Finch and Mrs. D. Salvin.

Coming in the last dance or two were a number of the young setters which included Adele Simmons with Henry Davis, Sylvia Sugar, having a lot of fun with two escorts Harry Salvin and George Aronson and Bea Grossman and her usual escort Manny Fine.

Book Review

Coming at a time when national affairs are of prime interest as international ones, the book review on Sinclair Lewis' "It Can't Happen Here," which Mr. Arthur Liebman gave before an audience at Miss Lilian Dubrow's home was both timely and interesting. An outstanding reason for Mr. Liebman's popularity is the lucid manner in which he presents his reviews. Guests of all denominations were there and a social hour was held following the talk. These services of book reviews are sponsored by the literary group of the Jewish Juniors and there are always a treat in store for these members who attend. Among the listeners Sunday were Harold Dubrow, E. Pike, Joseph Levine, Freda Kaplan, Molly Levin, David White and Helena Freedman.

Play and Tea

This week's social whirl started off with a play and tea at the Temple Ohabei Shalom given by the Women's auxiliary of the Beth Israel Hospital. A short skit preceded the tea. Those who took part in it were Mrs. Harold Bernkopf, Mrs. Adolph Geisberg, and Mrs. Charles E. Wyzanski. Presiding at the tea tables were Mrs. N. Goldberg and Mrs. H. L. Blumenthal. Among the members present were Mrs. N. H. Whitman, Mrs. George Wyner, Mrs. Phillip Brown, Mrs. J. Goldsmith, Mrs. J. Levy and Mrs. E. Rose.

Dance and Fashion Show

Though we are a bit late in telling you about the dance and fashion show given by the Newton Sisterhood, Feb. 25th, we can tell you that it was one of the nicest parties we have attended for a long time. There were lilting tunes of Art Rubin's orchestra and the very smartest of the social leaders had been selected as models and all of them are known for their individual chic. A large party at a table on the dance floor's edge who applauded the models wholeheartedly included Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Spiller, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Brillant and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Beckwith. They were later joined by Mrs. Maurice Klein, Mrs. Leslie A. Pike, Mrs. Moses Wasterman and Mrs. R. Cohn. Others noticed were Mrs. A. Kay, Mrs. Jack Springer, Mrs. I. J. Silverman, Mrs. Al Goodman, Mrs. B. Lederman, Mrs. William Golden, Mrs. Samuel Rottenberg, Mrs. M. Alperin, Mrs. Ira L. Nelson, Mrs. M. Grover, Mrs. S. Cohen, Mrs. H. H. Shaw, Mrs. Harry Levenson and Mrs. G. Gordon. Selling nosebags and tempting gardenias was a group of the junior members who all looked unusually pretty.

Hot Ashes On Paper Start Fire

A fire was discovered at 5 a. m. Thursday morning in the basement of the store at 757 Beacon st., Newton Centre occupied by the Lieberman Cleaning Company. It was noticed by Patrolman Smith who pulled an alarm from Box 7. The flames were confined to the basement and the damage is estimated at $200. Chief Randlett stated that the fire was caused by hot ashes having been placed on paper in the cellar.

DAUGHTERS OF UNION VETERANS

The regular meeting of the Mrs. A. E. Cunningham, Tent 2, D. of U. V., was held last Tuesday evening at Memorial Hall. The president, Mrs. Velma MacKay, presided. The Mass. Dept. President, Mrs. Betsey L. S. Tomfohrde of Somerville was guest of honor.

Delegates to the Department Convention which will be held at the Parker House on April 14 and 15 were elected. The delegates are Mrs. Alice G. Beckwith and Miss Mary Crapo; the alternates, Miss Ruth Russell and Mrs. Nina Lovejoy.

The annual exemplification by the Department Officers was held in Boston last Wednesday evening. Mrs. Velma MacKay, president of the Newton Tent is a Department Officer. Mrs. Alice Beckwith has been appointed a National Aide, and Mrs. Velma MacKay has been appointed a National Special Aide, by the National President, Mrs. Agnes Boyce, of St. Paul, Minnesota.

Bids On New City Garage

Bids were opened yesterday at the office of the Building Commissioner in City Hall on the erection of a new garage for the Street Department at the Crafts street yard, Newtonville. It is a PWA project. The estimated cost of the structure was $63,300. Tosti Brothers of Newtonville were the lowest bidders with $62,800. Other bids were—Delaney & O'Malley, $63,488; Morgan Consts. Company, $63,990; Grande & Volpe, $64,941; Daniel Cunningham, $65,700; Crane Construction Company, $66,196; Richard White & Sons, $67,544; Trendenick Billings Co., $69,683.

Cars Collide On Centre St. Curve

A car driven by Bertram Coughlin, 11 Upland rd., Medford, collided about 7:35 Saturday night on the dangerous curve on Centre st., Newton, near Cotton st., with a car driven by Margaret Preston of Forest st., Wellesley. Miss Preston received injuries to her head and neck and Coughlin received a cut on his face. Both cars were badly damaged. Miss Preston reported to the police that she was proceeding very cautiously and that Coughlin's car came around the curve in an opposite direction at a high rate of speed and to the left of the centre of the street. It sideswiped the car driven by Miss Preston.

LASALL JUNIOR COLLEGE

"The Ghost Train" is scheduled to stop at Lasall on Friday and Saturday evenings for the entertainment of an expectant audience. Among the members of the Dramatic Club taking part are Helen Raymond of Greenfield, Barbara Wheeler of Worcester, Priscilla Parmenter of Framingham, and Rae Salisbury of Waban. The speakers for the week are Murray T. Titus of India, Mrs. Lila Blake of Turkey and Miss Marj Popova of Bulgaria.

President Bancroft Beatley of Simmons College will be the Friday assembly speaker. A new group of students is moving into Blaisdell House for seven weeks of home-keeping. The hostess for the first week is Norma Hill, Wollaston; the waitress is Hilda Theurer, Wollaston; and the cook is Betty Webber, Milford.

Hassler Capron Will Direct Pageant At Providence Tercentenary July 20

Newton Lighting Expert's Skill Will Be Used in Pageant With Cast of Three Thousand

A most interesting announcement has come from Providence, Rhode Island, of special note to Newton people. The Tercentenary Committee of the Providence City Council has selected C. Hassler Capron, of Newton Centre, to be Technical Director and Associate Director of the Providence Tercentenary Pageant to be held in Roger Williams Park the week of July 20th, and of the Fashion Festival to be held in Brown University Stadium the last week in May or the first week in June.

Over 3,000 will take part in the pageant in July which will be a similar presentation to the Plymouth Pageant of 1920 and to Lexington Pageant of 1935, and 1,000 will participate in the Fashion Festival which will feature the modes and manners from 1636 to 1936.

The Providence Committee has selected Percy Jewett Burrell, of Boston, who has attained distinction as a writer and director of pageants, to be the director of this historic presentation which will celebrate the 300th birthday of the city. Members of the Pageant Committee, including representatives of many organizations, will decide upon the episodes to be used in a continuity depicting the 300 years of progress.

Indict Karalekas Family For Incendiarism

Three persons were arraigned before Judge Dowd in the Superior Court at Cambridge on Monday on four counts each as a result of an alleged incendiary fire which occurred on February 11th at the Karalekas Fruit Exchange at Centre st. and Norwood ave., Newton Centre. The three had been indicted by the Grand Jury on charges of procuring the burning of goods to defraud an insurance company, setting fire to goods to defraud an insurance company, procuring and setting fire to a building to defraud an insurance company. The indictments were returned against William Karalekas; his wife, Florence G. Karalekas, who was named as the owner of the market; and his mother, Catherine Karalekas, named as owner of the building. The three reside on Boylston st., Watertown. The indictments followed an investigation of the fire by Everett Shumway of the State Fire Marshal's staff. Karalekas was released on $2500 bail and the two women on their personal recognizance. John Finelli is counsel for the three.

Want Community Centre at Newton Upper Falls

About 100 residents of Newton Upper Falls met in the Emerson School hall on Monday night to discuss the need of a community center for that village. Representatives of the various groups in the community were chosen to appear on Wednesday night at a public hearing held in City Hall before the Public Buildings Committee of the Board of Aldermen. This hearing was attended by about 150 residents of Newton Upper Falls. Alderman John Temperley (an Upper Falls resident) presided as chairman of the committee. Robert McLaughlin introduced the various speakers who represented the different groups of Upper Fallsites.

Clarence Churchill, principal of the Emerson School told of the need of a supervised center for the benefit of the young people of Upper Falls. George Graf, Scout Master of Troop 14, Boy Scouts, said a community center would provide a needed, larger meeting place for the Scouts. Mrs. Mary Oldfield presented a similar argument in behalf of the Girl Scouts. Richard Walsh spoke for the Boys' Club and Kenneth Newcomb for the Young Men's Club of the M. E. Church. Mrs. Albert Proctor, president of the Upper Falls Women's Club, said a community center would provide a suitable meeting place for the club. Robert McLaughlin, speaking for the Upper Falls Improvement Association, said it is 100% in favor of the project.

Thomas W. White told of the fine community spirit which the people of Upper Falls have shown in the past and the support they have always given city wide drives for philanthropic purposes. He said a community center will aid in promoting the social and moral welfare of the village. Rev. G. Vaughan Shedd, pastor of the Upper Falls M. E. Church told of his experiences as a member of the Newton Welfare Committee. He said a community center is needed both for the youth of the village and also for the unemployed. It will aid them physically, mentally and morally. Rev. James Whitman, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, said his parishioners favor the erection of a community center.

West Newton Girl Missing

Frank Burke of 215 Derby st., West Newton, reported to Newton police on Wednesday night that his daughter, Marie, 19, had disappeared. A description of the girl was sent out by Newton police through the media of radio and teletype.

Mrs. Paul Bowser Charged With Hit-Run Driving

Mrs. Paul Bowser of 171 Grant st., Lexington, who as Cora Livingston in years past won fame as the champion lady wrestler, was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday on several serious charges. These included drunkenness, driving a car while under the influence of liquor, failing to make her identity known after causing personal injury, and driving without a license. Her case was continued by Judge Allen until March 18 and she was released on $500 bail.

The complainant in the case was Patrolman McKenna of the Newton police. It is alleged that about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening a car operated by Mrs. Bowser ran into Louis Golding, 27, of 1230 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, as he alighted from his car near his home and jammed Golding between his own car and the Bowser car. Golding received a fracture of the right arm, internal injuries and cuts on his feet and legs. Patrolman McKenna was standing nearby in citizen's clothes. According to his report, the car driven by Mrs. Bowser continued on, he commandeered a car, overtook her on Beacon st., where she again drove away, and again at a gasoline station in Wellesley, where, as McKenna started to speak to the woman, she once more drove on. A message was sent out by Newton police headquarters notifying police of surrounding places to be on the lookout for the car, and shortly afterwards Mrs. Bowser was stopped in Wellesley by police of that town. Golding was treated at his home by Dr. Baxter.

Aldermen Want Ellis Retained

The Public Works Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen at a meeting last Thursday night voted to request the Finance Committee of the Aldermen to request Mayor Childs to retain Richard H. Ellis as Director of Public Works. The Mayor in his budget recommendations made provision to continue Ellis in this office only until May 1st. Five of the members of the committee contended that the office has been productive of good results and that Mr. Ellis has proved himself a competent official. They voted, accordingly, to authorize Alderman Hutchinson, chairman of the committee to confer with the Finance Committee on the matter. The five aldermen so voting were—Rawson, who made the motion; Hutchinson, Barwise, Lyon and Keller. Alderman Temperley, who opposed the creation of the office when it was recommended by former Mayor Weeks, voted against the motion. Alderman Cronin did not vote for or against the motion.

Hearing At State House On Bill To Revise Ward Lines In Newton

City Solicitor Bartlett and Alderman Colby Speak In Favor—Several Speak in Opposition

A hearing was held at the State House on Tuesday morning before the Legislative Committee on Cities on a bill presented by Mayor Childs and City Solicitor Bartlett which would give authority to the Newton Board of Aldermen during 1936 to revise the Ward lines in this city so as to create seven wards with an approximate equal number of voters in each Ward. This bill is in accord with a vote taken by the 1935 Board of Aldermen late last year which resolved that the Mayor and City Solicitor be requested to ask legislation seeking such authority.

At the hearing on Tuesday City Solicitor Bartlett stated that the bill would permit the Newton aldermen to do this year what they could have done in 1934 without special legislation. Each 10 years a city may revise its Ward lines and 1934 was the year during which Newton had this privilege. Mr. Bartlett explained that new Ward lines were planned by the Assessors Department in 1934 and accepted by the aldermanic committee dealing with this matter. Because of strong opposition from a couple of precincts which would have been divided, notably Waban, the Aldermen decided not to make any change inasmuch as it was then late in December. Mr. Bartlett explained that Wards 1 and 7 in Newton have about 3000 voters each, whereas Wards 5 and 6 have more than double that number. The latter two Wards are those which have the most undeveloped land and will increase more in population. He said it is unfair to have such disproportionate representation. He also stated that the Assessors of Newton have been delayed in properly arranging their books because of the failure to redistrict the Wards. House Chairman Chase of the Committee on Cities informed Mr. Bartlett that a Constitutional amendment passed by the State in 1930 would have to be considered in the changing of the Ward lines as it might make two elections in the different wards necessary.

Alderman Clarence Colby of Ward 7 told the committee that by a unanimous vote of the Newton Board of Aldermen on Monday night, the 18 members present (Aldermen Inches, Lyon and Walker absent) he had been authorized to appear at the hearing and favor the bill. He showed a map to illustrate to the committee the fact that Wards 5 and 6 contain about half the area of Newton. He explained that Wards 1, 2, 3, 4 and 7 contain 39,804 residents; Wards 5 and 6 have 26,191. The taxable value of property in Wards 5 and 6 is $70,200,000; in the other five Wards $76,700,000. The value of property in Wards 1 and 7 is $23,800,000. He said the condition of disparity is rapidly growing worse and that last year he gave nine months of his best efforts to devise a plan which will remedy this situation. He had submitted a plan for new Ward lines, and although public hearings were held on the matter, the aldermen took no definite action until the end of the year when the resolution was passed requesting the Mayor and City Solicitor to seek legislation empowering the 1936 Board of Aldermen to make the changes. Mr. Colby said he favored the passage of the bill.

Representative Warren K. Brimblecom spoke in opposition to the bill. He said the bill would give permission to the Aldermen to make the changes in Ward lines, whereas in his opinion such an important matter ought to be submitted to the voters of the city on a referendum. He said the matter is being handled the wrong way; that the aldermen should determine just what is wanted before they petition the Legislature for special legislation. He said that he was authorized to record Representative Baker in opposition to the bill insofar as it gave Newton special legislation when the regular opportunity had been passed over. He traced the agitation for new Ward lines recalling that it was started about 8 years ago by a group of Newton Center residents. The matter was referred to by Mayor Weeks in his first inaugural in 1930, but action on it was deferred until 1934. The Aldermen in that year delayed until December before taking up the plan devised by the Assessors which aroused sufficient opposition that it was dropped.

Mr. Brimblecom referred to the bill filed with the Legislature last year by former Aldermen Earle, Sprout and Powers and David Greer which sought to change the city charter so that each Ward would elect two of its own aldermen, elections would be held biennially and the Ward lines of the city revised. He told how an agreement was reached to have a local committee study the situation and when that could not be brought about the Legislative Committee of

THE FIGHT FOR ECONOMY

Press reports last evening indicated that the Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee of the Massachusetts Legislature were in accord in reducing the state budget proposed by Governor Curley. In a public statement they opposed a bond issue of $9,000,000 constituting the larger part of the thirteen millions of dollars they would eliminate from the proposed total of approximately seventy millions of dollars. The magnitude of their task can best be appreciated when it is taken into consideration that some 400 specific items are covered in the reductions sought by the majority of the committee which has the budget under consideration. Incidentally the reductions suggested do not result in any salary decreases although it is stated that no increases will be favored. The members issuing the statement further indicated that they would insist upon a return to the "pay-as-you-go" policy this year and that they would strenuously oppose any further bond issues. The full committee is now considering the revisions proposed and it is anticipated that it will be nearly two weeks more before the appropriations bill will be before the House of Representatives for debate. With public interest in state expenditures at the highest point ever, the fight for economy will undoubtedly be one of the highlights of the present legislative session.

TROUBLE IN EUROPE

The European situation is provoking a lot of thought and comment on the part of many citizens. No one can know what developments will take place which may plunge the whole of Europe into war. The slightest incident may be the match which will start a most disastrous conflagration. Most certainly it is obvious that we in America do not want war. We have no desire to participate in another orgy of waste of human lives such as that which took place twenty years ago. It is said history repeats itself. In one respect this fact is indicated by Dictator Hitler's scrapping of the Versailles treaty and Locarno pact. Twenty-two years ago the German Emperor treated a solemn promise as nothing but a "scrap of paper." The questions which the American public is asking are: will there be war and will the United States of America be drawn in despite all efforts to remain aloof? We can only hope and pray that a way may be found to settle the European difficulties other than by war. If Europe does turn to war every possible step must be taken to preserve American neutrality.

FLOOD WARNINGS

The rain of the past two days has brought with it the usual threat of spring floods. The Charles River has risen to a new record height, brooks and streams are swollen with the freshets from melting snows and rain. Multiply this local condition and one can visualize to some extent the conditions in Vermont, northern New York, and other regions where floods are imminent. Preparations are being made to relieve the suffering of those left homeless and in want from the ravages of nature. On many occasions in the past the Red Cross organization has proved its value. Once more it stands ready.

UPPER FALLS SPIRIT

The spirit of residents of Newton Upper Falls in seeking a community centre in which to further the social welfare of that section of the city is to be commended. Upper Falls has always carried its share of responsibility in contributing to the development of the city as a whole and in seeking to promote civic interest in its own neighborhood should have every encouragement and support.

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH

Today is Friday the thirteenth. It has turned out to be one of the most springlike days that we have had this year. Perhaps superstitious persons will see no luck in this. For our part we prefer to consider it an omen of nicer days to come.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Alumnae of Lasell Junior College are planning to organize a Worcester County Lasell Club at a meeting to be held at the Hotel Bancroft, Worcester, on Saturday afternoon. The meeting is being arranged by Marion Kingdon Farnum '29 and Dorothy Inett '30. Dean Lillie R. Potter and Mrs. Josephine Woodward Rand '10, of Brookline, will be guest speakers. The Van Gogh exhibition will be brought to the school through a talk by Miss Peterson of the Lasell Art Department and a visit to the Art Museum by members of the Art classes and the history department.

The Junior Prom will take place at the Wellesley Country Club on Saturday evening, Louise Tardivel of Auburndale being chairman, assisted by Rae Salisbury of Waban and Madeline Orcutt of Akron, Ohio. The patronesses are the following members of the faculty: Misses Lichter, Eliason and Whitney, and Mrs. Hudson.

Clafin Club Activities

The Clafin Club of the Newtonville Methodist Church will observe Father and Son Night on Friday, March 20. Mr. Amory H. Waite, Jr., will describe Admiral Byrd's recent expedition to Little America. Mr. Waite served as Chief Radio Operator on the "Bear of Oakland" and was one of the three men who rescued Admiral Byrd. He will show the actual logs worn on this thrilling expedition of rescue and demonstrate how they were used.

Mr. Howard Selby and Mr. George Taylor, Jr., who are in charge of this meeting, have also arranged for an archery demonstration to be given by expert archers. An unusual banquet is being arranged by the Chairman of the Dinner Committee, Samuel L. Thompson.

Mr. Ralph Thomas, Vice President and Program Chairman for the Club, will open the meeting and introduce the Committee in charge.

Bids on the construction of the addition to the Angier School at Waban were opened this week. The bidders and bids are—P. J. Cantwell & Son, $64,440; Sawyer Construction Co., $64,495; A. Piroli, $64,530; Richard White & Sons, $65,562; John W. Duff, $77,484. The building will be constructed under a PWA grant.

Arthur Cavanaugh, a sophomore at Newton High School, was recently awarded a medal from the Mass. Humane Society, for bravery in saving life. On January second last he courageously succeeded in saving two children aged 13 and 15 years, from drowning.

Miss Barbara Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Logan of Newtonville Avenue, Newtonville, will take a prominent part in the stage version of Jules Verne's "Eighty Days Around the World," which is to be presented by the dramatics department of the Erskine School at the Repertory Theatre, Boston, on Wednesday evening, March 18. During the course of the production, Miss Logan will be called upon to assume four different roles, which require skillful and rapid manipulation of makeup and change of costume.

The Newton Catholic Club will have a showing of the new American League baseball picture at its hall on Washington st., West Newton, Sunday evening, March 15th, at 8 p. m. Owing to the interest in this new picture the public is invited to attend. You can spend an enjoyable evening by taking your girl out to the ball game and get a closeup of your favorite player.

Mr. Geo. Moriarty of the American League umpiring staff will be present and will give an interesting talk on the different players. Bro. Gilbert who introduced "Babe Ruth" to baseball and John "Shamus" Collins, ex-manager of the Red Sox and a member of the Club, will be speakers.

The athletic committee is working hard to make this night one to be remembered by the members of the club and their friends.

The committee is made up of the following members: Francis M. McCarthy, chairman; M. Bernard McCarthy, John Keefe, Thos. Logan and Alderman John Brocklesby.

Two educators of Newton, Mass., will participate in the Twelfth Annual Junior High School Conference to be held under the auspices of the New York University School of Education in New York on March 13 and 14, it was announced by Prof. Samuel J. McLaughlin, conference chairman.

Hayden Pearson, Bigelow Junior High school principal, will be a member of the panel which will consider and discuss problems relating to the training of teachers for progressive junior high schools.

Raymond W. Blaisdell, principal of the John W. Weeks junior high school will be a member of the panel which will discuss the junior high school of the future.

More than 2000 persons are expected to attend this conference which will have as its theme "Important Issues in Junior High School Education."

A group of Miriam Winslow Dancers will appear in Newton on Friday evening, March 20th, at 8 o'clock, at the Channing Church parlors. The program will include music and dances of the classical forms as well as the modern French and Russian composers.

Miss Dorothy Brackett of West Newton will be one of the dancers. Social dancing with Merrihew Hallett and Howard Rich at the pianos, will follow the program.

Newton teachers are active in many ways outside of their official duties. Very frequently some are sought by organizations and various groups to fulfill speaking engagements.

Corra Riley, chairman of guidance work in the high school spoke recently before the advanced group in secondary education at Wellesley College. Mr. Charles Mergendahl, head of the mathematics department at the high school spoke at Springfield last Saturday before the Connecticut Valley Branch of the New England Association of Mathematics Teachers. Jane Dealy and Dorothy Goldstein, members of the junior class gave demonstrations postulating "Similarity" instead of "Euclid's Postulate" in assisting Mr. Mergendahl.

Mr. Sterling L. Williams, teacher of social studies is giving a series of three lectures before the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. of Worcester. Principal Paul E. Ellicker will discuss "Youth and the Modern Curriculum" at the 45th annual meeting of the Harvard Teachers Association at Radcliffe on March 21st. He will be one of the leading speakers in a panel discussion of administrative problems. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather of the Newton School Committee and president of the Harvard Teachers Association will be chairman of the afternoon session. Prof. Charles Swain Thomas of West Newton, former head of the high school English department and now of the Harvard faculty will preside. Miss Caroline M. Doonan, teacher of English at Newton High will speak on "Practical Teaching Devices in Letter-Writing." Miss E. Louise Richardson, well-known English teacher at Newton High, was recently re-elected to membership on the Waban School Committee, by one of the largest pluralities ever cast in that municipality.

Letters To The Editor

YOUTH AND LIQUORS

To the Editor:

Were the people of the 19th Century mistaken in believing that the ideal of abstinence, rather than moderation, lessened the Drink Evil and that Prohibition aided abstinence?

The following statements seem to point to the statement that they are not:

S. Patterson, in the Brewers Journal, Sept. 1935, says — "The present generation has lost the beer habit." He then adds that it was with this hope in mind that Wayne Wheeler and his anti-saloon League foisted the 18th Amendment on "an unsuspecting country."

Apparently then, abstinence aided by Prohibition did reduce drinking.

Mr. Patterson says, however, "But now there is work to be done." The beer tradition must be reestablished.

Paul Stodensky in Criterion, Sept. 1935, says, "The consumption of alcoholic liquors has apparently decreased greatly in this country since the Prohibition days. Many people have lost the drinking habit and the younger generation has not acquired it to the extent of the Pre-Prohibition days."

American people, here is the question. "If the youngsters have lost the drinking habit, do we want them to reacquire it?"

I, a woman and a mother, answer NO!

Mr. Clyde Hess, director of Boy's Work, Newton Y. M. C. A., speaking at the March meeting of the Newton Woman's Christian Temperance Union said: Youth is in a state of bewilderment due to false standards and the prevalence of tearing down the old moral standards.

Repeal has not solved the liquor problem and we are now seeing a re-incarnation of John Barleycorn with liquor flowing so freely it is appalling.

Young people do not believe that alcohol is harmful. It is our duty to educate them regarding the true nature of alcohol that they may see that the more abundant life is lived without liquor.

This Week at Your Boys' and Girls' Library

Vernon St., Newton Corner

WE CELEBRATE THE BIRTHDAY OF BOUTET DE MONVEL

The Boys' and Girls' Library is inaugurating a birthday shelf where birthdays of authors and illustrators of famous books for children will be celebrated.

This week we are observing the birthday of Louis Maurice de Monvel, the famous French illustrator who was born March 16th, 1850.

"At first I painted pictures like the rest of the painters," said Louis Maurice Boutet de Monvel, "and perhaps I should have been doing that still. I had not been driven to illustration."

Before this Boutet de Monvel had never painted children. When he took it up his marvelous memory came to his aid, and his resources were almost endless. He had been brought up in a "houseful" of little brothers and sisters. He was always very observant and used to watch their funny little figures, attitudes, and ways at play. He drew his children from memory. He felt it was a mistake to draw from models, but that the movement and expression in his mind should be put directly on the canvas. He made each child an individual. He painted such sympathetic and charming pictures that it was not long before he was sought out by many parents to paint portraits of their little ones also.

Boutet de Monvel was the pupil of some of the most distinguished artists in France in his day, but he broke away from conventional influences and developed his art in his own way. His ambition was to paint large canvases and decorations. His first medium was oil, but later he did some of his best work in water colors. He exhibited his first picture in the Salon at the age of twenty-four, and while illustrating he continued to exhibit and received medals and distinctions. His skill in painting groups and artistic scenes may have been an inheritance, several of his ancestors being famous on the French stage. His grandfather fought in the American Revolution as a captain of engineers.

Jeanne d'Arc—Boutet de Monvel. "His Joan of Arc is a masterpiece of art which every child should have in his own library. The rich and simple illustrations, which set forth the romance, the color, the mysticism, and the youthfulness of the Middle Ages, tell the story of the brave Maid of Orleans so eloquently that there is small need of the accompanying text. Moreover, they furnish an unforgettable background for historical study of the period."

Newton Republican, March 17, 1877

An excellent entertainment was given Monday evening in Odd Fellows Hall, Warner's Block, Newton in aid of the fund of Newton Encampment, No. 50. The evening opened with a very pleasant address by Mr. Edwin O. Childs. Misses Marcy and Barbour and G. J. Curtis and Mr. Barbour gave a beautiful quartette. The principal feature was an exhibition of magic by Prof. Harmon. J. E. W. read Poe's "Raven" with excellent taste and Mr. Capell of South Boston gave a fine solo on the concertina.

A man named Tucker hired a horse and buggy from George W. Bush on March 9th and did not return. Mr. Bush instituted a search and several days later found his property at the Chardon street stables, Boston.

The State Executive Council has approved a contract between the Commissioners of the new State Prison at Concord and Luther Bailey of West Newton for the construction of 10 houses for the officers of the prison at a cost of $34,710.

Sixteen persons received the rite of baptism at the West Newton Colored Baptist Church on Sunday.

The high wind of Friday blew down the vestry chimney of the Baptist Church at Newton Centre. The bricks crushed through the roof and ceiling of the vestry. Considerable rain water entered the vestry although a canvas was spread over the roof as soon as possible. Damage $100.

The Boston & Albany railroad has been sued for $3,000 by Harry W. Smith. Last December it is alleged Smith was a frequent "hanger around" at the depot in Newton and particularly annoying the employees by sitting on and leaning against the big radiator in the middle of the men's waiting room. One day the porter at the depot, Jordan Weaver, a colored man, asked Smith to sit on one of the settees, instead of remaining around the heater to the discomfort of the patrons. It is alleged that Smith replied with an oath that he wouldn't sit down for any "nigger." Whereupon, Weaver bounced Smith in double quick time, landing him just outside the depot. Smith had Weaver arrested for assault and the latter was fined. Now, Smith is suing the railroad. His counsel is W. F. Slocum.

Newton Graphic, March 13, 1886

Letter To Editor of GRAPHIC:

"The inefficiency of our School Committee, Board of Health or some one else is my excuse for this communication. For months past frequent complaints have been made of the stench caused by gases in the Underwood School at Newton probably from cesspools beneath the cellar floor in the building. I visited the place today and although six windows in the cellar were open, the gases were too poignant for any strong, healthy man to stay there 4 to 6 hours a day and expect to retain any degree of health. The windows above the cellar were also open, thus allowing the indraft to get into the rooms occupied by the scholars. The teachers have complained all winter, and one or two have been so badly affected as to cause frequent vomiting; several pupils have also suffered, and some parents have taken their children from the school because of sickness caused by the foul air of the building. One of the members of the Board of Health has told me he would close the school if he had the power, and we have been informed that the Mayor has used similar language."

"I have been requested, Mr. Editor, not to allow this matter to get into the papers, but, the papers of our city are the only independent media we have amongst us. Others do, or neglect to do what seems to them to be polite for the time being. The man in office wants to retain his position from the worthy school janitor to the Mayor."

"Every mother who loves her child should visit this place of nastiness, see the rotten planking, the situation of the cesspools in the centre of the cellar, inhale for a few minutes what the child must do all day, and then if they value the health of their loved ones, keep them out of this school until a thorough overhauling and cleansing has been made. I do not know where the fault lies, there is so much red tape in the city offices that it is quite difficult to put the blame on any one man or committee. I do not wish my name appended to this, but you are at liberty to give it to any one who calls. It is a marvel that there has not been more disease caused by this filthy school house situated opposite Farlow Park where many thousands of dollars have been spent toward improvement. If a cemetery had been established in the park and all of those whose sickness and death have been and will be caused by this building were buried there, it would not be very long before it would be too straight for the object."

Powers' Paragraphs

In connection with the latest "safety drive" in Massachusetts appeals were made last Sunday from pulpits and altars of churches from the standpoint of a moral issue for persons to operate automobiles with due regard for the lives and safety of their fellow men and women. This type of appeal is commendable and may have some beneficial results. But, the murder and maiming of men, women and children by speeding, reckless or drunken drivers will continue to be an appalling degree until fixing is stopped and the law enforced. It is interesting—and disgusting, to observe "respectable, law abiding citizens," policemen, and public officials who have taken oath to conscientiously prosecute those who violate the laws, and mete out punishment to persons found guilty, connive and collude to exculpate the killers who are responsible for the killing or injuring of others. Persons who would not dare attempt to aid in preventing the just punishment of a man (or woman) who had shot, stabbed or blackjacked some victim, don't hesitate to use whatever influence they possess in helping some friend or neighbor responsible for an automobile casualty to escape retribution.

The writer is not a disciple of Neal Dow or Carrie Nation and sympathizes with some of the "good fellows" who never got into trouble before, but, who have the misfortune to become involved in some automobile accident because they took one drink too much, or drove too fast. However, if these "good fellows" take a chance, realizing the thousands of deaths and injuries caused by other autoists who take chances, they too should take their medicine if they cause an accident involving personal injuries or property damage. Until these "good fellows" are punished for violating automobile laws, and until "law abiding" citizens cease in their hypocritical activities in aiding accident-causing autoists to evade punishment, all safety drives will avail little.

Hundreds of persons in Newton were saddened this week because of the death of Archie Keefe of Boyd st. He had made a valiant fight against terrific odds since last July, and had apparently won the battle when he had a relapse.

The renewal of the movement to revise the charter of this city for the purpose of giving more equitable representation in the Board of Aldermen to Wards 5 and 6 was evidenced by the hearing at the State House on Tuesday. This action can be attributed for the most part to the interest which Alderman Colby of Ward 7 has shown in showing in this matter. Other members of the Board, like citizens of Newton in general, have not evinced much concern over the question. While we differ with Mr. Colby on his views in this problem, we credit him with being quite sincere and unselfish regarding it. He proposes to merge Ward 1 with Ward 7. This would reduce the number of Aldermen from these two Wards from 6 to 3 and Mr. Colby as the junior Alderman from Ward 7 would probably be legislated out of office.

In our opinion there is no great need for any special legislation to change Ward lines at present. Newton has been well governed and its people are seemingly quite satisfied. It must be admitted that the South Side of the city, Wards 5 and 6, have not a proportionate representation in the Board of Aldermen. When a change will be made to give these sections more Aldermen, the simple and practical way to do it is—to split each of these large Wards into two Wards, thus enlarging the number of Wards in the city to nine. This would provide for future growth at the South Side, where most of Newton's growth in years to come will occur, and it will permit the older parts of the city on the North and West sides to continue in the same units they now are. Newton has gained an enviable reputation as one of the outstanding residential communities in the United States. It has not gained this distinction by accident. The early development of the city into villages located approximately one mile apart, each with its own social life, with its own schools and churches, created a community spirit unknown in most places. And this community spirit was fused into an unselfish co-operation for city-wide benefit through the media of the high school, fraternal organizations and social clubs. There has been little pulling and hauling between the various villages for special advantages in the past. Proof of this is shown by the fact that the Newton Corner section, which has had two members of the School Committee, has neither asked for nor received as many public improvements as have some other sections of the city. Newton has not been provincial. We should continue the village units, socially and politically, to perpetuate the community spirit which has made Newton what it is. We should continue to allow such districts as Ward 1 to remain unchanged so that its residents will not become a minority by being merged with another section of the city. Incidentally, this Ward has been the stronghold of Mayor Childs, and criticism is heard there because of the Mayor allowing his name to be used as the sponsor of the bill which would in all probability result in Ward 1 becoming absorbed into a larger Ward. And criticism is also heard of certain members of the Board of Aldermen who voted on last Monday night to endorse the bill which would cause material changes in the North Side Wards, members who previously had opposed such a plan.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Hope with Reservations

Not infrequently have I heard it said, "Won't it be nice when the snow goes?" I cannot share this ecstasy. Of course those who speak of what Spring will surely bring mean that this most welcome season of the year will brighten our spirits and arouse our optimism. With no desire to discourage such happy thoughts I cannot refrain from reminding myself that the departure of snow is not to leave a somewhat distressing landscape. That is, of course, if one is sensitive to unclean streets and areas.

So many people discard things in Winter because it is an easy matter to bury them in a drift. One need do nothing, in fact, because any obnoxious or unwanted article may merely be tossed into the snow and there it remains until such a time as sun and rain have done their work.

Many a backyard, kept in orderly fashion at other times, will look like—here insert your own word—after the snow has melted. I sympathize with those who wish to prevent by law the abandonment of ancient autos or their parts along the roadside. Our sentiments are the same.

If I could be assured that when the snow is no longer here that things will immediately become radiant I would not mope. But human nature being what it is I do not expect the earth to look lovely until there has been a mighty job of cleaning done and city trucks have carried off great quantities of debris.

We're Not All the Same

Travel is always alluring, although people react to it differently. There are those who will talk weeks of their plans, thrusting all else aside except their preparations. They will insist they have no time for anything but getting ready. Others barely give it a second thought until the eve of departure, grab up the necessary articles, cram them in a bag and dash off.

The people who contemplate a long trip are always surprised when they find a person who treats it as a casual matter. On a pier in Boston there were crowds gathered to bid goodbye to passengers on a transatlantic liner. Almost at the sailing time a couple drove up in a taxicab. The man, who was sailing alone, kissed his wife and dashed up the gangplank. The woman did not get out or wait but ordered the taxi man to drive off. One of the members of a nearby group who had come to give friends a "send off" gazed at the strange couple in amazement. "Gee," said he, "you'd think she was sending him to the store for a bottle of ketchup."

Two Knocks—One Boost

Horses retained by the city for hauling highway wagons, snow plows, etc., are not the large, round, well-fed, comfortable steeds that for years and years inhabited the city's stables, and that those I've seen of late. At least, not those I've seen of late. The present thinning line appear scrawny, tired and underfed, whether they are or not. Maybe it will be necessary, along with the "feed the birds" campaign, to urge citizens to contribute oats for city of Newton horses.

Word from several sections of the city that now the sidewalks are reasonably clean bicycle riders are using them with great freedom. "Call a cop!" says you. What for?

Conscientious truck owner, who, to make certain the rear number plate may be readily seen and identified, has it placed on the roof of the vehicle and illuminated instead of underneath and almost out of sight. Saw this truck myself and am ready to cheer for anyone who believes in strict observance of the law.

Somewhat Flattered

If there is anybody who has to be reminded and who doesn't offer any objection when his memory is jogged, I am that one. That is why I was greatly pleased to receive a few days ago a letter from a farm in Vermont calling my attention to the fact that they were getting ready for sugaring and thought I'd like to know it. Incidentally, it seems, they sort of guessed I might like to order maple syrup at $2 a gallon, sugar (10 pound pail) for $2.50 and cakes (mouthful size) 1 lb. net for 60 cents. Naturally, I was flattered and resolved that if there is any luxury in which I may indulge myself it shall be some syrup. I wouldn't be so impolite, after such a considerate note, to ask how they came to think of me, but I really would like to learn. I hope it is not true that my name popped into their heads when they first saw the sap.

Explanation Wanted

It is hard indeed to please some people. When I see a display of flowers and plants arranged for public view I am delighted. With my scant knowledge, or perhaps I ought to say complete ignorance of botany, all blooms and buds are beautiful. My appreciation is most inclusive. I never refuse an opportunity to gaze at them. All seem worthy of it. Therefore, I was much surprised to learn there is a distinction. At least, I judged there must be when I heard one woman say to another, "Come over and look at these flowers; they're much nicer than those."

Rotary Club

The regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Newton was held on Monday at the Brae Burn Golf Club.

There were quite a few visitors present from Needham, Boston and Waltham.

The speaker, Mr. Sully of the National Cash Register Co., was introduced by "Bus" Schuman. His subject was "Merchandizing Problems and Practices" and he gave those present things to think about especially during times like the present. Among some of the thoughts he left were above all to use "Good Business Principles," in our daily work. He also said, "Don't sigh for business—go after it." "What does our competitor do that we cannot do?" He emphasized the need for readjustments and improvement due to changing conditions and the need for paying attention to details—control of inventory, expenses and profits. He also said we should streamline our salesmanship, and try to improve quality, quantity and feature new merchandise.

The singing was lead by Charles Spaulding with Louis Hafermehl at the piano.

Girl Scouts

BIRTHDAY WEEK

The American Girl Scouts are celebrating their 24th birthday this week. In honor of this occasion there is an exhibit in the window of Barron's Department Store in West Newton for the week. The marionettes made by members of Troop 17, Newton Upper Falls, are on display together with other interesting Girl Scout pictures and equipment.

Tradition tells us that the first meeting of the original Girl Scout troop in Savannah, Georgia, was held on March 12, 1912. Mrs. Juliette Low, the founder of the organization, established this troop which met in her barn. This historical meeting place is now a Girl Scout Museum.

From the small group of girls who met under Mrs. Low 24 years ago, Girl Scouting has spread throughout the country and has recently attained an active membership of over 375,000.

Newton Girl Scouts will celebrate this week by having birthday parties at their troop meetings.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY

During the remainder of March, books on the crafts will be on display in the Art Room at the main library. For amateur workers in the crafts the Pitman's "Craft for all" series are suggested. All in the series as well as many others will be found at the library. Why not spend some of your leisure time working in the crafts.

CHURCH SCHOOL ELECTS OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The members of the Sunday School Board of the First M. E. Church held their annual banquet and election of officers in the Parish Hall on Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Supt. of Sunday Schools, L. H. Hilton; assistant superintendents, J. C. Batey, Kenneth Newcomb; secretary, Waldo Lupien; treasurer, J. C. Batey; assistant treasurer, Paul Remond; secretary of supplies, E. B. Wildman; absentee secretary, Miss Eva Duval; supt. of Junior department, Miss Doris Brown; supt. of primary dept., Miss Olive Duval; supt. of cradle roll dept., Mrs. J. McNeally; supt. of home dept., Mrs. Susan Scott. Miss Millison Shedd rendered two solos on the harp. The address of the evening was given by Miss Lillie R. Potter, Dean of Lasell Junior College.

BOOKS FOR SEAMEN WANTED

During the week of March 16-21, the Newton Free Library and all its branch libraries will be glad to receive gifts of books for seamen. Such books are supplied not only to men of American Merchant ships, but to those in lighthouses and coast guard stations. The demand is for all types of good literature, including light and serious fiction, biography, history, technical publications, textbooks, dictionaries, and books in foreign languages, as well as fairly recent magazines.

T. B. Tests For School Children

The Newton Health Department has placed in the larger libraries of the cities colorful displays to attract the attention of the parents of children of Junior High School age to reading material on tuberculosis. During the week of April 27th the Health Department and the School Department in co-operation with the physicians of the Middlesex sanatorium will hold the annual Chadwick Clinics for the detection of tuberculosis. Children of the seventh, ninth and eleventh grades are eligible for this examination. Pamphlets describing the test, the reason for the test, the various types of tuberculosis, the importance of examining adolescent children and mimeographed sheets describing the tuberculosis situation in Newton will be available for parents to take home and study at their leisure.

Parents of Newton school children will receive circulars explaining the simple method of giving the test, of the x-ray and physical examinations which are given free to children who show a positive reaction to the test, and the importance of discovering whether or not children have traces of "T. B."

The tuberculin test is made by rubbing a drop of tuberculin on the skin of the forehead. A red elevation on the skin at the spot tested means a positive test. Last year in Newton about 3 out of every 20 children tested were "positive." All "positives" were then x-rayed to determine the extent of infection in the chest. About 6 out of every 30 children x-rayed shows signs of gland infection or other condition requiring physical examination. This examination is given later and reports are sent to the parents and to the family physician. In Newton last year 1463 children in the 7th, 9th, and 11th grades took the test. This year parents of about 3000 children are being offered the opportunity to have the test made.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER D. A. R.

Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown is beginning to form plans for the beautifying of the grounds of the Chapter House and is enlisting the cooperation of the members. The Valentine Bridge Party, which was unfortunate as to weather, nevertheless netted $75, as announced by the chairman, Mrs. Franklin W. Cowell at the meeting of the Chapter on March 9th. The treasurer, Mrs. Charles H. Veo, reported the gift of $25 for the Hillside School and progress on the Student Loan fund, for which the giving of quarter parties was suggested by the Regent, Mrs. J. Walter Allen.

Mrs. Allen called attention to the lists to be had in the library of books bearing on some of the moving pictures encouraged to read the books. She suggested that groups should give of their services at the hospital, sewing, and making surgical dressings, and that on March 30th was chosen for the first visit. The Rummage sale will be held May 1st, and members are requested to observe the next meeting as Bumble Day and bring their contributions.

Mrs. Henry A. Webster, State Treasurer, and Mrs. Herbert E. McQueen, Chairman of Genealogy Records, were guests at the meeting. Mrs. Webster traces her ancestry to Hannah Dustan, heroine of early Indian wars. Mrs. McQueen stressed the importance of preserving and copying historical records. Bible family records, deeds, and other papers of a personal nature, she felt of value in supplying miscellaneous information. But of still greater importance she considered the preservation of church, town and cemetery records, which shed light on more questions of genealogical interest. There is much unpublished material relating to those who lived between 1800 and 1900. One project she recommended was the copying of inscriptions on tombstones, many of which are falling into decay. These tombstones are accessible to everyone and can be done to preserve valuable information. Mrs. Allen said that when the weather permitted the Chapter would co-operate in this project.

The historian, Mrs. Edward O. Woodward, spoke of the 168th anniversary of the Boston Massacre and showed a framed copy of the Boston Post, published at the time of the massacre. Miss Adele Neff, an impersonator and a very successful interpreter of character gave some monologues. A social hour followed with Mrs. Woodward as chairman of hostesses. Miss Nella J. Pearson poured. The other hostesses were: Mrs. E. F. Dow, Mrs. L. G. Paul, Mrs. E. H. Place.

Newton Auxiliary Osteopathic Hospital

The seventh regular monthly meeting of the Newton Auxiliary of the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital was held on Wednesday evening, March 11th, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Goode, 149 Cabot st., Newtonville. Mrs. Harry E. Cash of Newton Centre assisted as hostess.

After the business meeting, Dr. Olive B. Williams of Worcester spoke to the members on the subject of "Posture." Dr. Williams has been interested in correct posture as a clinical study for several years and has had several very interesting articles published on this subject.

W. C. T. U.

The next regular meeting of the West Newton W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. L. W. Ennis, 440 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, on Tuesday evening, March 17. The speaker will be Mrs. Esther L. Calderwood, State director of Religious Education. Mrs. Jessie Clarke will be the assisting hostess. Please note the change in the night of the meeting.

Track Team

Members of the Newton Y. M. C. A. Track team took three places in the Annual N. E. A. A. U. Track and Field Championships held Saturday evening in the Rhode Island Auditorium in Providence. Robert Quigley took second place in the 40 meters dash, while John Quigley won second place and Arthur Linthwaite fifth place in the 1000 meters run.

Newton "Y" has a large number of entries in the Y. M. C. A. Two-State Indoor Track and Field Championships being held this Saturday evening at the Boston Y. M. C. A. Newton's entry includes Arthur Linthwaite, Robert Quigley, Robert Gutzler, Lee Goodbar, John K. Morris, Robert Stewart, Warren and Clay Lewis, Ed C. Hammond, Jr., John Quigley, Thomas O'Connor, Walter Herbert, Joseph Blair, Thomas Fleming, Gerard Sullivan, Eugene Kelley, Richard Bagley, James Patrick, Gilbert Cochrane, Kenneth Scanlon, Andrew Gould, Gus Erbe, "Jerry" Bauman, "Bert" Finberg, Stanley Cullen, Joseph Rowe, and John Carson.

Gymnastic Exhibition

Practice has been started in all of the gymnasium classes at the Newton Y. M. C. A. for the Annual Gymnastic Exhibition to be held Friday evening, March 27th, in the "Y" gymnasium. Class work demonstrations will be given, special advanced work on apparatus, novelty numbers, and clown acts.

Employed Officers' Fellowship

Nearly one hundred Employed Officers of the Associations of Massachusetts and Rhode Island were present at the March meeting of the Employed Officers' Fellowship at the Newton Y. M. C. A. last Thursday morning. The opening Worship Service was led by Mr. Clarence A. McLaughlin, General Secretary of the Brocton "Y".

At the close of this meeting the General Secretaries discussed the theme "What policy of community relationships will carry the Association to its greatest usefulness in the years just ahead?" This was a panel discussion led by Clifford K. Brown, Executive Secretary of the Boston Association. Those serving on the panel were Messrs. L. B. Twist of West Springfield; Malcolm Nichols, Director of the Family Welfare Society in Boston; Fred W. Lacey of Melrose "Y"; Julius E. Warren, Superintendent of Newton Schools; and H. W. Bascom, General Secretary of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

The Boys' Work Secretaries under the leadership of Clyde G. Haas discussed plans for promotion and selection of delegates to the National Hi-Y Congress, and considered the report of a study made by Boys' Work and Physical Education Committee.

The Young Men's Committee listened to a paper by Allen Ellsworth on "Religious Emphasis in Young Men's Work."

The Membership Secretaries had a panel discussion on "Meeting the Needs of Today's Association Members," and discussed spring and summer membership plans.

Mr. Richard B. Simmons presided over a meeting of the Physical Directors.

After a luncheon served by the Woman's Auxiliary, Rev. Albert C. Diefenbach, Editor of Religion, Boston Transcript, gave a very interesting address on the subject: "Religion Against the World."

Fire In Block At West Newton

A fire which was discovered in the cellar of the one-story business block at the corner of Washington st. and Commonwealth ave., West Newton, on Saturday night shortly after 11 o'clock, gave Newton firemen a long fight and necessitated the detouring of traffic for nearly two hours. The fire started in the cellar under the Hillside Market, 1704 Washington st. This store is conducted by Mary Tramontano of Lexington st., Auburndale. Heavy smoke made it difficult for the firemen to reach the blaze and it was 1:53 before they left the scene. Smoke caused damage to Braff's lunch room, which occupies the other store in the building. The damage was estimated at about $1000.

NEWTON WINS TRACK MEET AT BROOKLINE

With Robin Hartman, hurdler and high jumper, unable to compete for Brookline, Newton High's strong track team had little difficulty in winning their dual meet engagement at Brookline last week by 45-32. The losers scored a sweep in the 600-yard run, but Newton took first place in all the other events.

Mark Corthell was Newton's hero in a nip and tuck 1000-yard run, winning in 2:34.4 after overtaking Abels and MacDonald of Brookline on the last stretch. The red and blue captured all nine points in the 600, with Julian Kadis, Harold Sklar and Jacques Abels finishing in that order in 1:23.4. Warren Witten ran a 35-second 300-yard run, leading Stan Livingstone of Brookline and Bud Multher of Newton to the tape. Ray Huling, Paul Dussossoit and Witten finished so closely placed in the 40-yard low hurdles final that it was recorded as a dead heat at 5.6 sec. Paul Forte, Newton's state meet sprint champion, won the 35-yard dash in 4.8 sec. Bud Hines of Newton tying for second with Stan Livingstone of Brookline. The relay, called when Newton had a lead of 45-23, was won by the Brookline team of Livingstone, Halpern, Kadis and Jack Abels.

Newton had a lead of 13-9 in the three field events contested Thursday. Nat Heard turned in a heave of 48 ft. 1 in. to win the shot, with Mawhinney of Brookline and Ernie Savignano picking up the other places. Bob Nagle of Brookline got a tie for first in the high jump, going over at 5 ft. 7 in. with Mark Messey of Newton. Lewenberg and Byrne split the odd point for Brookline. Ray Huling won the broad jump at 9 ft. 6 1/2 in., trailed by Dick Massell, also of Newton, and Sklar of Brookline.

Newton Highlights

Three Newton boys were active in freshman athletics at Northeastern University this winter. John L. Geary, Jr., of Ricker rd., Newton, was a member of the yearling hockey six which completed its season with but one loss in seven games. Allan Freeman, former Newton track captain, of Pine Ridge rd., Waban, and Bob Kiley, also a former Newton track athlete, were members of the freshman track team which lost but one of its dual meet, that to Andover Academy. Jim Colligan of Newtonville, who is a member of the Husky varsity track team will compete in the weight events tomorrow in a dual meet with Bates College at Lewiston, Maine.

DAMON HALL NEWS

On Monday afternoon last, the members of the graduating class gave a tea to faculty, students, and their friends, and had as the guest of honor Mayor Edwin C. Childs. An interesting feature was the fact that the tea for the reception was brewed in an old Russian Samovar, a family heirloom of one of the members of the Senior class.

President Frank Hardy Damon will be the Toast Master at the University of Maine Alumni Annual Banquet at the Hotel Vendome, Boston, Saturday evening. The principal after-dinner speaker will be Governor Bridges of New Hampshire, an alumnus of the University.

The students of Damon Hall make up the Junior committee of the Unity Club, an organization of greater Boston women which carries on the work of the Anna Osgood Home for Elderly Ladies. This committee is putting on at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge, a Hi-Jinx Ball, the proceeds from which are to be dedicated to the treasury of the Home.

Newton Highlights

Newton athletes took three second places in the New England A. A. U. championship meet last week at Providence. Bud Witten, high school captain of track, took a fling at the 46-metre high hurdles, and after tipping over numerous hurdles in the many trial heats, took second to J. S. McCarthy in the final, ahead of Dana Larson, former Hyde Park high school star. Johnson Quick, high school postgraduate, scored a surprising second in the 1000-metre run, after leading the pack most of the way. The runners were forced to run an extra lap, and Johnson lost his race on the superfluous lap to George Kelly of the Boston A. A., whose time was 3 min. 10.4 sec. Arthur Linthwaite of the Newton Y. M. C. A. ran fifth in the same race. Bob Quigley, former Newton High and North-eastern sprinter, was second in the fast 50-metre dash, won by Norman Woolford, New England champion, in 5 sec. flat.

Several all-New England college hockey teams have been selected lately. Jackson Skillings and Charlie Butler, Brown University boys from Newton Centre, are goalie and defense nominees, respectively, on several such teams, and Albert Carvill of West Newton, sophomore centre for Boston University, has been generously honored in his first year of college hockey, being chosen on the first or second team in every instance. Another selection was Jack Lawrence of Bowdoin, a defense player. The all-star team of the quadrangular league, chosen a few days ago, had Bob Waldfinger of Newton Centre, member of the championship Harvard team, as first choice goalie.

Milton Green and Stanley Johnson, former Newton High track captains, both captains of college teams, each won an individual title in the championship meet of the I. C. A. A. A. last Saturday at Madison Square Garden in New York. Johnson, who is national junior champion in the broad jump, won his event with a leap of 23 ft. 5 in., giving M. I. T. five points toward the total of seven. Milton Green, the Harvard captain, won the 50-metre hurdles in 7 sec. even, then took second in the broad jump with a distance just five-eighths of an inch short of Johnson's winning effort. Green contributed nine of Harvard's 17 3/4 points, a total which placed the crimson third behind Manhattan and Yale.

Charlie Gallagher of Newton, former three-letter athlete at Our Lady's, is counted on to star for Providence College when the Friars start their drive for the sectional championship in basketball during the pre-Olympic playoffs.

WORKINGMEN'S LOAN ASSOCIATION

If at any time you should find it necessary to borrow money for any legitimate purpose, it may be well to consult the officers of the Workingmen's Loan Association, of 178 Tremont street, Boston, an organization established in April 1888 by Robert Treat Paine and associates to loan money to necessitous borrowers at a low rate of interest.

The present Board of Trustees of the Workingmen's Loan Association are well known business men who are leaders in large banks and corporations in Boston, namely, Charles C. Cabot, Alan Cunningham, Leo J. Dunn, Charles Jackson, Arthur S. Johnson, Arthur T. Lyman, Herbert Lyman, John F. Moors, Conrad J. Nelson, Richard C. Paine, Robert Treat Paine, Robert Treat Paine, 2nd, Francis P. Sears and R. T. P. Storer.

Remember—Telephone Often

Wives appreciate the thoughtfulness shown when you remember to telephone home while you are traveling. The hazards of travel loom large in their minds, but when your voice comes over the wire and they know that you are well and safe, all uncertainties disappear and the telephone has brought happiness again.

There is always some little chore which is left undone when the man of the house goes away, which a telephone call will straighten out. Final instructions about the furnace, that mail to be forwarded, the book to be returned to the library—call up and remind those at home to take care of it.

After the day's work is done, telephone home. Service is faster and rates lower than ever.

Personal Telephone Booklet FREE!

A new, handy, attractive booklet especially designed for listing the telephone numbers and addresses of your out-of-town friends. Printed in colors, it makes a delightful practical book for your telephone stand or desk.

"Anything Goes" At Paramount Theatre

"Anything Goes" opens at the Paramount Theatre in Newton starting Sunday for four days. This is Paramount presentation of the musical comedy which was such a pronounced success on Broadway. It abounds in tuneful songs, comic scenes and a set of parodies which are riotously funny. Bing Crosby heads the cast of favorites in a role that affords him an unrivaled opportunity to display his versatile talents in song and comedy. He sings and clown to one's heart's content. Assisting in the general merriment are Ethel Merman, known everywhere as the Broadway rhythm girl, Charlie Ruggles, Grace Bradley and Ida Lupino. "Anything Goes" might best be described as a musical comedy of errors. Because of a lovely girl seemingly in distress, Crosby finds himself on an ocean-going liner. The singing star dashes madly about the boat in a variety of disguises, eluding ship and taking time out to sing. There's fun and sparkling entertainment in "Anything Goes."

On the same program is Franchot Tone and Madge Evans in "Exclusive Story." Starting Thursday to Saturday is the one and only Harold Lloyd in his newest and funniest comedy, "The Milky Way." It's a comedy for the entire family. Everyone from Grandpop down to Junior will laugh his head off at the antics of America's favorite comedian in this his most hilarious comedy to date. Harold's a milkman, driving his good horse, Agnes, down the milky way, till he runs up against the lightweight boxing champion of the world. Harold and Champion collide—and the fun begins. It doesn't end till an hour and a half later, when everyone in the cast is practically out cold. You'll be out cold, too—from laughing! Harold has a great supporting cast in "The Milky Way"—Adolphe Menjou, Verree Teasdale, Helen Mack, William Gargan, George Barbier and Dorothy Wilson.

On the same program will be Preston Foster and Jane Wyatt in "We're Only Human." On this program also is "Popeye's" latest cartoon, "Vim, Vigor and Vitality."

New Jersey Police Arrest Newton Boys

The lure of automobiles got two West Newton youths into difficulties last week and caused their arraignment in the Newton court on several charges. The pair, Alfred Martin, 16, of 21 Columbus pl., and Roger Hewitt, 16, of 393 Cherry st., both Newton High school students, were supposed to have appeared in the Newton court last Friday. They did not show up and default warrants were issued against them. Martin was charged with driving an unregistered and uninsured car, and driving without a license. Hewitt was charged with attaching to the car number plates which had been issued for another automobile. In connection with this case Grover Klauer of Newtonville was fined $10 in the Newton court last Friday for having sold an old car to young Hewitt for $10. He was charged by Serg. Bannion with having sold the car to young Hewitt, an unlicensed driver, without having notified the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Instead of being in the Newton court last Friday, Martin and Hewitt arrived in New Jersey where they were arrested by State Police at Woodbridge. The attention of the police was attracted to the car in which the West Newton youths were riding by the fact that it bore only one Mass. plate and a paper substitute for the second plate. The car in which they were riding was the property of Dr. Harold Chandler, 51 Winthrop st., West Newton, and he was not aware it had been stolen from his garage the preceding night until he was informed by Newton police. Inspectors King and Burke went to New Jersey last Friday and brought the car and the youths back to this city. The one registration plate which was on the car belonged to a Newton Centre man and the boys claimed to have found it.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The Boy Scouts of Troop 11 presented an assembly on Wednesday, March 4. Chairman Leon Krugor gave the history of scouting, and Clinton Wilson interpreted signs and symbols used in scouting. Scouts Morgan, Lawson, Daniels, Walen and Vickers then gave an exhibition of signaling, demonstrating both Morse and Semaphore. Scouts Reiman, Waller, Olds, Cutler, Curtis and Pierce demonstrated First Aid treatment for sprains, cuts, burns and drowning. Scouts Baker, French, Carlton, Eusden, Melcher, Reid, Gleason and Bruner explained the uses of various kinds of knots and showed how they were tied. Scouts Gleason, Meredith, Bryant, Ford, Skakle and Smith demonstrated Scout games. A special feature of the program was a rope spinning and whip snapping exhibition by Scouts Bennett and MacLellan of Troop 15, Auburndale.

On Feb. 20th the Bigelow Varsity Basketball team was defeated by the Day Junior High School, 23-17. On March 4 the Bigelow team vanquished Warren at the Warren Junior High School. At the end of the game the score was 17-17. In the overtime period both teams scored baskets, but Olivigni saved the day for Bigelow by scoring the winning basket in the last 22 seconds. Varsity members playing for Bigelow were Callanan, Callahan, Bernstein, Olivigni, Monahan, Dexter, Daley and Goodale. The same day the Bigelow Junior Varsity lost to Warren 14-13. The final game of the season will be played with the Weeks school.

Highland Glee Club Concert

The Highland Glee Club concert, to be given at the High School Auditorium, Tuesday evening, March 17, has much to offer those who attend. One of the numbers, "Song of the Cornishmen" will be conducted by the composer George A. Burdett, of Newton Centre.

MISS ETHEL HUTCHINSON

The assisting artist of the evening will be Miss Ethel Hutchinson, pianist, who has given many successful recitals in Boston and made many other appearances as soloist with various orchestras and clubs.

She is no stranger to Newton having been heard at the Community Club, Braeburn Country Club, Newton Centre Woman's Club, Waban Woman's Club, as well as with the Newton Symphony orchestra. She is an assistant teacher to Heinrich Gebhard. It is of interest to note that Miss Hutchinson studied for a short time with Mathay in London.

Of her playing the Boston Globe made the following comment: It is pleasingly evident that Miss Hutchinson may be counted among a relatively small and select group of pianists, a group that has fluent technique, unobtrusive musicianship, and artistic discernment, eschew any attempts at capitalizing "personalities" or attracting attention by non-musical means and go their own commendable way.

Miss Hutchinson's work is unusual in all respects. There is feeling for melodic and structural lines, color, healthy rhythms, intense but not vulgar emotion, in her playing. Yet none of these qualities stands out and detracts from the rest.

Weeks Jr. High

The final girls' basketball game of the season was played on Wednesday, March 4, when Room 313 won the championship of the eighth grade. Since that time, all grades have been playing inter-room volleyball ball.

The boys' Varsity basketball team lost its second game of the inter-city series when it played the Day School on the home court on Thursday, March 5. The Junior Varsity likewise lost its tilt. In spite of the scores, however, two clean, fast, and hard-fought games were played to a small but enthusiastic audience. The score: Varsity, Day 30—Weeks 19; Junior Varsity, Day 21—Weeks 18.

An American Indian exhibit is being shown this week in the display cabinets. The materials and posters were provided by the pupils of Miss Sadow and Miss McLaughlin of the social studies department.

The postponed meeting of the Weeks Parent-Teacher association scheduled for February 17 is to be held next Monday afternoon, March 16, at 3:00 o'clock. The guest speaker, Mr. Arthur Wellington, New England Representative of the National Recreation Association will talk on "The Value of Recreation to the Community." The final P. T. A. meeting of the year will be held on the evening of April 15.

Warren Jr. High

The assembly on March 6 presented again the ERL orchestra to members of Junior I and Junior II. These musicians are always enjoyed by the students of Warren.

When the students returned from the February vacation, they found that loud speakers had been placed in all the home rooms and would soon be placed in other rooms of the building. Since that time there have been daily broadcasts.

Students have already been elected to the student body to serve on radio broadcasts, and radio technicians and announcers will be elected later.

The following will serve on program committees: Junior II—Ruth Scott, Grace Joyce, Bruce Freeman, Junior II—Kitt Fisher, Ralph Burns, John Spencer, Junior I—Joseph Humes, Ted Joyce, Hanna Tardival. Three teachers, Mrs. Koughan, Miss Pepin and Mr. Penny, will have charge of radio programs.

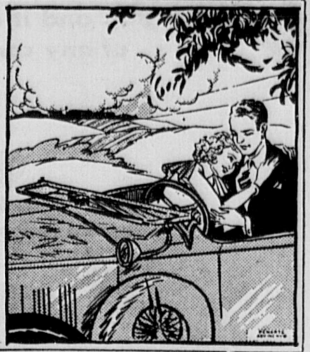

Girl's Hand Hurt In Washing Machine

Which Is Thrifty?

THE British essayist, G. K. Chesterton, says the miser is far less thrifty than the spendthrift, for the latter's spending helps to make things thrive, while hoarding benefits no one.

Now, we don't urge folks to become spendthrifts nor misers. There is always a happy medium. Spend, but save as you spend.

Arrest Diabetes Victim By Mistake

Last Friday evening a telephone message was sent to Newton police headquarters that an automobile, apparently operated by a drunken driver, had run into a snow bank on Alderwood rd. near Centre st., Newton Centre. Policemen stationed at Newton Corner were ordered to proceed to the place. Arriving there they found the car stalled at the side of the street and its driver, a Newton Centre resident, lying in a stupor across the car. He was taken to police headquarters at West Newton, where he continued to state of collapse. As there was no odor of liquor from his breath, Lieut. Moan sent for two physicians. They found that the man was a victim of diabetes and his condition had been caused by having taken insulin. The circumstances were explained to Judge Lynch on Saturday morning and the charge booked against the man on the police blotter was ordered voided.

West Newton Man Shoots Himself

George W. Clough, 22, of 75 Auburn st., West Newton, telephoned police headquarters about 10 o'clock Monday morning that he had shot himself at his home and asked that the ambulance be sent there. Walter Hartford, radioman at headquarters, received the message. With Patrolman Donahue he hastened to the Clough residence where the police found the young man lying in the front hall alongside the telephone. Clough had shot himself in the abdomen with an old rifle which his father had owned for over 20 years. On the way to Newton Hospital he told the police that he had been out of work and ill for a long time and had become despondent. Clough died at the hospital Monday afternoon about 5. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clough; a brother, Harold C. Clough; and a sister, M. Eleanor Clough. His funeral service was held at Newton Cemetery chapel on Wednesday afternoon.

JOHN E. KINCARE

John E. Kincare of 9 Florence st., Newton Centre died on March 9. He was born in Newton Centre 70 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kincare. Social Minutes

We welcome these breathing-spell days because it gives us a chance to catch up on old little items which otherwise we haven't the space to tell you about. Perhaps it's the spring around the corner which has caused our news to accumulate but we have gathered together some "this and that" which we think will interest you. The lure of bridge whether contract or auction holds first place in the activities of the junior clubs. The first bridge on the program this week was held Monday evening and was sponsored by the Junior Aides of the Hebrew Ladies' Home for the Aged, at the Gardner Manor. Jeanette Shapiro chairmaned the group. Delightful and worthwhile prizes were chosen and many a member had donned a crisp apron to serve tea and cake. Serving on the committee were Adele Kelsey, Pauline Heller, Ruth Zion, Bertha Ruby, Sid Nussmann, Esther Gerte, Helen Charoff, Marion Levine, Ben Barish, Martha Miller, Jeanette Seidler, Pearl Zelemeyer, Ida Shulkin and Eleanor Rappaport.

Professional Group Meets

Although Sunday afternoon was a bit gloomy a distinctly festive atmosphere prevailed in the Boston Room of the Puritan Hotel when "Purim in Tel Aviv" was discussed and Mrs. J. Zanditon gave a few interpretations of Jewish Folk Songs. This was the meeting of the Profession Group of Hadassah which has proved so popular since it gives these individual ladies an opportunity to meet others of their own caliber. The group are making reservations April 14th at the Exeter Theater to see The Story of Louis Pasteur.

Purim Party

The New England Women's Association of the Hebrew Teachers' College did not forego the opportunity of having "open house" on Purim when members and their husbands and friends gathered at the college to exchange greetings and enjoy a cup of coffee. Among the many popular members attending were Mrs. L. H. Epstein, Mrs. Simon Richmond, Mrs. N. H. Friedman, Mrs. V. Feuerstein, Mrs. Abbott J. Epstein, Dr. B. Sharenson, Mrs. H. Finkelstein, Mrs. M. Margot and Mrs. J. Rabinovitz.

"Gay Ninety" Play

The Gay Ninety was portrayed by the sisterhood of Temple Israel on March third, and Mrs. Charles White well known for her work in dramatic circles directed. Among the talented were Mrs. A. Lourie, Mrs. G. Bloom, Mrs. S. Bornstein, Mrs. E. Perlmuter, Mrs. M. Alpert, Mrs. S. Nectow, Mrs. R. Hermannson and Mrs. A. Leventall. The Purim festivities have as much appeal to the youngsters as their parents, all this judging by the number of those attending the Purim party at the John Ward School March 8th where an auditorium of kiddies and their mothers were entertained by a play called "The Casting of Lots" in which only the children participated. The following socially prominent women present were Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Bee-

Packard turns over its showrooms* the Week of March 16th to 21st

IN recognition of the preference for Packard shown by women the world over, Packard has set aside the week of March 16th as Ladies' Week.

During this week, you may come in and look over the distinguished new Packards in the same spirit that you would view a Spring fashion show in your favorite dress shop. Every attempt will be made to show you in an interesting way the things which smart women value most in their personal cars. Arrangements have been made for special demonstrations, if you wish one.

Our showrooms, decorated with gay floral displays, are ready to welcome you. May we hope for a visit?

*This doesn't mean the men aren't welcome too!

CLEAVES—MORRISON

At the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre on Friday afternoon, March 6, 1936, a very pretty wedding took place when Dr. Albert C. Dieffenbach united in marriage Miss Barbara Morrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sedgely A. Morrison of Newton Highlands and Scituate, and Herbert Martin Cleaves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Williams S. Cleaves of 81 Granger St., Wollaston. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Rena Morrison and the groom's best man was his brother, Ford Cleaves of Wollaston and Philadelphia. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white lace with a veil of tulle, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Her attendant was gowned in blue velvet and carried yellow lilies and freesia. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors, with the parents of the couple assisting in the receiving line. A collation was served, with a group of young ladies, friends of the bride and groom, assisting as servers.

After a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Cleaves will make their home at 60 Woodstock rd., Allston.

The bride was educated in the Quincy schools, graduating from the Quincy High School. She attended the University of California, and later was graduated from Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill. The groom was also educated in the Quincy Schools, was graduated from Thayer Academy in Braintree, and from Harvard College, class of 1933.

SARAH HULL CHAPTER, D. R.

The March meeting of Sarah Hull Chapter, Daughter of the Revolution, was held Wednesday the 11th., at the home of Mrs. William Ratcliffe, 234 Franklin st. There was a short business meeting presided over by the regent, Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge. At this time mention was made of the work to be done for the Mountain white girls in helping them to obtain an education and to fit them for better home makers. Also a notice of the State meeting in April which will be at the Vendome April 23rd rather than the 29th as before announced.

Following this meeting Mrs. Goodridge introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Robert B. Parmenter, president of the Arlington Woman's Club. Mrs. Parmenter's subject was "Garden Adventure." The beautiful colored pictures and the speaker's most delightful description gave to the chapter a program of beauty and charm which no one could fail to enjoy.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed the program. Mrs. Everett W. Crawford was the counselor and the hostesses were Mrs. George N. Putnam, Mrs. William L. Ratcliffe, Dr. Marietta Putnam Reid, Mrs. Spencer W. Shepardson and Mrs. Franklin E. Smith.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham B. Cibet of 63 Mandalay rd., Chestnut Hill, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Judith Louise Cibet, to Herbert Gold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gold of Jersey City, New Jersey. Miss Cibet was graduated from Radcliffe College with the class of 1934, and studied at the American University of Moscow, Russia. Mr. Gold attended Harvard College with the class of 1927.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Clifton Bassett of 74 Prescott st., Newtonville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Muriel Bassett, to James Augustus Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morton of West Medford. Miss Bassett attended Skidmore College and the Katharine Gibbs School. Mr. Morton is a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the Graduate School of Business Administration of Harvard University.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The Music School resumed lessons after the February vacation, on March 3rd. The full school orchestra held a rehearsal at the Unitarian Church, West Newton on Sunday afternoon, under the direction of the Director Miss Fyfe.

Marriages

CLEAVES—MORRISON; on March 6 at Newton Centre by Rev. A. C. Dieffenbach; Herbert M. Cleaves of Quincy and Barbara Morrison of Wollaston; on Feb. 16 at Belmont by Rev. L. D. Chadbourne; Fred K. Howe of 46 Pelham st., Newton Centre, and Louise Whall of Belmont.

Newton District Nursing Ass'n.

Miss Hilga S. Nelson, Executive Director of the Newton District Nursing Association, emphasized in her report at the Monthly Meeting, that the cold, snows, rains and thaws of February have not prevented the staff of nurses from their duties of making a total of 1397 visits to patients, 689 of which were bedside cases.

Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson presided at the meeting as the President. Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, was in New York attending a meeting on Tuesday, March 10, sponsored by the National Organization of Public Health Nursing. The luncheon speech of that meeting "Who Owns Health?" given by Professor Howard W. Haggard of Yale was broadcast over WBZ as it concerned all who are interested in Public Health work.

A gift of $30 is being made by the Publicity Committee to a graduate of the Newton Hospital to enable her in June to take an extra six weeks' course in Public Health Work.

The Relationships group of the Educational Program gave two very interesting reports. Mrs. Louis H. Marshall as chairman has been interested in many of Newton's Public Services. She acquainted the members with the manifold duties of the seven school nurses who function directly under the Board of Health of the city. She accompanied one of the school nurses in detail their work with the children. She showed how closely their work can be integrated with that of the nurses employed by the District Nursing Association.

Mrs. Howard P. Converse then aroused much interest in her summary of the history and growth of the District Nursing Association founded in 1898. Mrs. Samuel Bowers, one of the founders and a Board Member for 38 years was present. In the early months of its service the two nurses had many prejudices to overcome. In spite of that, those two nurses in 5 months made 830 calls. From that time the growth has been steady, more nurses were added, cars were provided for the nurses, new clinics and services undertaken, until in 1935 almost 20,000 calls were made by the nurses. These calls not only meant service to those actually sick but a wide educational service in better health and disease prevention for the people of Newton.

Song Recital

Royal Dadmun, Baritone, will give a recital at the regular monthly meeting of the West Newton Community Service Club, which will be held at 2 o'clock on Wednesday, March 18th, at the Unitarian Church.

Mr. Dadmun received his entire musical education within the United States, and early in his career made a coast-to-coast tour as soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra. Since then he has sung in concerts and oratorios, and comes to the Club with the deserved reputation of being a true artist, endowed with a fine voice.

Before the meeting there will be a Book Sale, under the direction of Miss Katherine Esson.

Mrs. L. W. Beckwith and her committee will serve tea.

Scholarship Bridge

An invitation is extended to all to attend the Musicale to be held at the Club House on Washington park, on Sunday afternoon, March 15th, at 4 o'clock. The Glee Club will be conducted by their coach and accompanist, William Ellis Weston. Their program of songs will be supplemented by the baritone solos of Allen Carpenter, and by selections by the Boston W.P.A. String Trio. There will be no admission fee.

Mrs. Bessie Williams Boynton, of Chicago, will furnish the program of entertainment on Club Day, March 17th, at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Boynton's "Literary Interpretations" will include "Catherine the Great," whose rise from an obscure German princess to a Russian superwoman, furnishes thrilling material; "Fanny Burney," one of the first English women to use her pen for publication; and "Murray Hill," a story of Revolutionary days. Mrs. Boynton's comprehensive research and her imaginative skill will re-create the vivid personalities of these famous women and recall much of their lives and the influences of their times.

On March 18th at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will give the fourth and last in the series of "Let's Look at the World," the course sponsored by the International Relations committee. Mrs. Taylor's impartial summaries and crisp interpretations of the day's affairs have made her course popular and largely attended. Club ticket admits member; non-members are invited and will be admitted upon payment of fee.

Mrs. Howard M. Waybright will meet her committee at the Hospital for a Day of Sewing on March 19th, at 11 a. m. Members of the Club are welcome to join this group, and should take sandwiches.

Every year for the past eleven years a scholarship of two hundred dollars has been awarded to a girl graduate of the Newton High School who desires to continue her education in some higher institution of learning. The Education committee obtains this fund by a Bridge Party given at the Club House. The gift of this scholarship is one of the outstanding philanthropies of the Club and every member can help toward this worthy cause. This year the Spring Bridge Party will be given on Friday, March 20th, at 2 p. m., at which time dessert and coffee will be served. There will be a souvenir for each table and the committee in charge is planning a social time for everyone. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Education committee and reservations for tables should be made through them, or by calling the chairman, Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, West Newton 1784-M, before March 19th.

"A Personal Philosophy for these Times" was the subject of Professor Harry A. Overstreet's lecture at the regular meeting of the Newtonville Woman's Club on March 3rd.

Dr. Overstreet began by comparing the quiet period of earlier days to the confusion of to-day. He said if one is hopeless enough one is hopeful, and that all wisdom begins with doubting. In closing, Dr. Overstreet told his audience a good philosophy gives an individual serenity, direction and power.

Mrs. Randolph S. Merrill, chairman of Music, presented Miss Evelyn Karol, pianist, a student of the All-Newton Music School, who played "Gavotte," by Handel, Martucci arrangement; "Prelude in E Flat Minor," from the Hill Tempered Clavier; "Scherzo," by Mendelssohn; and "A Waltz in D Sharp," by Mokreze.

Hoop-Skirts and Treasured Antiques

A Dessert-Social and unique Art Exhibit will add to the interest of the next meeting of the Auburndale Woman's Club, on Tuesday, March 17th, at 1:30 p. m., when Mr. A. H. Wilson will give his famous illustrated lecture on "Hoop-skirt and Horse-Car Days." Members have been requested to come in costumes worn by their grandmothers and great-grandmothers, if they are so fortunate as to possess them. The regular tea hour has been changed from 3:30 p. m. to 1:30 p. m., which will add to the social possibilities, and give members an opportunity to see the Art Exhibit, in charge of the Art chairman, Mrs. Edgar O. Butz. Members are co-operating by contributing precious shawls, quilts, pewter, glass, furniture, and other treasured inheritances, to add to the atmosphere of the day.

Arrangements are in charge of the Program chairman, Mrs. John I. Hebeck, assisted by Mrs. Ralph H. Phipps. The pourers will be Mrs. Charles A. Brown, who was the first president of the Auburndale Woman's Club, and Mrs. Wilbur D. Gilpatrick, also a past president. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, General Federation director, will be the guest of honor.

Dramatic Readings

The Waban Woman's Club will present Mrs. Bessie Williams Boynton, well-known dramatic reader, at its next meeting on Monday, March 16th, in the Neighborhood Club House at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Boynton, who is particularly well-known around Chicago for her interpretive reading from the classics and from historical material, will give only four readings in New England this year.

Mrs. Hugh Hare will be hostess at the Tea, assisted by Mrs. James F. Crafts and Mrs. Thomas Derr.

Fashion Show and Dessert-Bridge

Spring styles from Chez Madeline will be modelled by members of the Newton Centre Woman's Club at its Dessert-Bridge on Wednesday, March 18th, at the Club House. Dessert will be served in the Recreation Room at 12:45 p. m. The Fashion Show following immediately in the Auditorium.

Bridge, with table prizes, will be played at the Club House and at the following members' homes: Mrs. George Willard Smith, Mrs. John F. Capron, Mrs. John M. Tomb, Mrs. M. L. Cooley, Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, Mrs. J. W. Gahan, Mrs. John R. Perry, Mrs. Victor Vaughan. Tables are $3. Mrs. George A. Holmes of 140 Summer street has charge of the tickets, for any of the homes. Mrs. Ralph Houghton is General chairman.

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will speak on Current Events on Thursday, March 19th, at 10 a. m., at the Club House. There will be a special Club meeting at 11:15 o'clock.

Newton Artists Are Invited To Exhibit

Any artists living in the Newtons may exhibit in the All-Newton Art Exhibit which will be given at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House, under the auspices of the Art committee of the Club, from March 23rd through April 17th. Each artist may submit three pictures, at least one of which pictures will be hung. Pictures are due at the Club House March 20th or 21st, and may be called for on April 21st. Oils, water-colors, or pastels, may be exhibited. This interesting event opens for visitors on the evening of Monday, March 23rd.

Further information may be obtained by artists who desire to take part in this, from Mrs. Ralph G. Hudson, the Art chairman, by telephoning Centre Newton 1931-W.

Club Sponsors Musicales

The Dramatic and Music committees of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club are sponsoring a Musicale Monday evening, March 16th, at 8:30 o'clock in the Workshop. Miss Elinor Woodbridge of New York City will be the guest Pianist. Mr. Emery Leonard, Violinist, will render Handel's Sonata. A group of Brahms' Waltzes will be sung by a mixed quartet, composed of Mrs. Lillian Smith, Mrs. Thomas D. Giam, Mr. Ray Simonds, and Mr. Ralph Talby, accompanied by Mrs. Maurice Reidy and Mrs. Ray Simonds; and by a Trio consisting of Mr. Emery Leonard, Violin; Lucile Quimby English, cello; and Elinor Cobb Bogler, Piano. The Club Chorus will assist also.

"Murray Hill" Produced

By Newton Dramateurs

True to its previous production records, "Murray Hill" given by the Dramateurs last week in the Auditorium of the New Church, Newtonville, kept the audiences in a riot of laughter throughout both evenings. The work of the individual players showed high appreciation of the constant barrage of captivating humor throughout the story of how two cases of mistaken identity broke down the well planned intentions of three spinster aunts to have their attractive niece follow the tradition that "The Tweedies are a race of far bearing animals which do not mate."

Edna White, as the charming niece, "Amelia Tweedie," who fainted at the sight of her stranger lover, was charming, even though somewhat restrained. Ruth Fuller as the aunt, "Elizabeth Tweedie," whose youth still bloomed, captivated the audience by her mothering of her erring nephew, "Worthless Smythe." Edward Horton as "Smythe," who throughout the play is suffering from a hangover after night life in New York, was the clown of the play. This was said to be the first time he had carried such a part, but he took the heavy humor with entire satisfaction to the audience. John Wakefield who took the part of "Wrigley," "a hired mourner," finally became the prince charming, "with a hundred million bucks" and carried off the princess in spite of stout opposition from "George Appleyway," the family lawyer, and the three spinster aunts. Dan Smith as "Vane," the butler, was good as ever, and Adda Saunderson and Edith May as the two straight-laced spinsters upheld the Tweedie traditions without a flinch. Norman Willey, who is always the good sport in the Dramateurs in the better meaning of the term, not only carried the part of the lawyer well, but deserves a good share of the credit for the success of the play for his having stood by the work of the company in every way possible. Elsie Greenwood who had charge of stage direction also deserves special mention for her generous effort and for the loan of stage properties.

Cameron of Collins rd., Waban; Mrs. Warren K. Russell of Hillcrest cir., Waban; Mrs. Ralph J. Evans of Dorset rd., Waban; Mrs. Robert W. Buck of Beacon st., Waban; Mrs. Henry B. Rising of Moffat rd., Waban, and Mrs. Horace Shepard of Upland rd., Waban.

Mrs. Roger W. Weeks of Clements rd., Newton Centre, is in charge of the refreshments, which will consist of a simple buffet luncheon after the talk. Mrs. Weeks is Chairman of the Newton Centre District of the Club. Assisting her are Mrs. John E. Eaton, Jr., of Intervale rd., Newton Centre; Mrs. Philip W. Dalrymple of Crescent ave., Newton Centre; Mrs. Robert F. Miller of Pleasant st., Newton Centre; Mrs. P. Edward Eden of Elgin st., Newton Centre, and Mrs. Stanbrough Fernald of Cypress st., Newton Centre.

Miss Sophie C. Hart, who is to speak on the Modern Drama, is Professor of Rhetoric and Composition at the College. Reservations for the lecture should be made with Mrs. Alvin J. Rockwell of Hingham, General Chairman of the Lectures.

Members of the Club are admitted free, there is a moderate charge for guests.

Annual Play of Newton

Lend-a-Hand Masque

The Lend-a-Hand Masque of Newton will present its annual play for children in the Newton High School Auditorium Saturday afternoon, March 21st at two thirty. The proceeds are for a scholarship fund for a Newton girl and the club's emergency fund for charity.

The choice this year is "The Dragon," an Irish fairy play by Lady Gregory. The dragons are those at a mythical court of an Ireland of long ago, with a king, queen, princess, several princes and a fiery dragon who comes to devour the king's daughter. How he is vanquished by a prince in the guise of a cook is told in three acts of whimsical fancy.

Marie Humphreys of Brookline plays the part of the princess; Ruth Perkins of West Newton is the prince; Phyllis Bergen of Brookline is the king and Eleanor Tulloch of Dedham is the queen. Others appearing are Evelyn Cunningham, Helen L. Kilburn, Dorothy Tower, Helen Wheeler, Georgia Burford, Katherine Hastings and May Amidon. The dragon will be portrayed by Eleanor Hall. Eunice Eddy Braaten of Dedham is coaching the play.

Members of the club make up the committees. Mrs. William B. Prescott is the business manager; Miss Edna Dodge, ushers; Mrs. George Fuller, patronesses; Miss Virginia Joss, scenery; Miss Dorothy Kennison, programs; Miss Dorothy Fairbrother, candy. Miss Margaret Morgan designed the costumes and Miss Marie Humphreys and Miss Evelyn Cunningham are responsible for the making of them.

Mortgages Available

From Federal Loan

There has probably never been a more opportune time to buy or build a home—both from the standpoint of costs and from the easy and convenient carrying charges offered on mortgage loans.

To encourage the buying of homes, the Federal Government in 1933 authorized the establishment of Federal Savings and Loan Associations through which mortgage money could be loaned to reliable people at attractive rates, and paid off over a period of from 5 to 20 years, thus making it possible to liquidate both interest and principal by monthly payments at no greater cost than one would pay for rent.

This plan is now available in Greater Boston through the Harvard Federal Savings & Loan Association, chartered and supervised by the United States Government. A letter or telephone call to them at 373 Washington st., Dorchester, will bring complete information.

Charges Against Law Student Filed

John W. Myers, 24, a Harvard Law School student residing at Cambridge was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday before Judge John Lynch on three alleged violations of automobile laws. The judge placed all three charges on file. Patrolmen Smith and Greeley stopped Myers on the Worcester turnpike Monday night when he was going 48 miles an hour. Registrar of Motor Vehicles Goodwin recently made an edict regarding traveling at a speed of more than 45 miles. Myers was charged with speeding. He was also charged with not having his license or registration in his possession.

Frederick Walsh of South ave., Weston was arraigned in the Newton court on Tuesday charged with driving to endangar, driving after his license had been revoked, driving without a registration, and refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman. The alleged offences were committed Saturday night when Walsh was ordered to stop on River st., West Newton by Patrolman Mague. His case was continued until March 20.

"The Drama of The Old Testament"

Mr. Herbert Hitchen will give the third in his series of lectures in the Second Church in Newton, West Newton next Wednesday evening, March 18th, at 8:00 o'clock. This series of lectures has proved to be of unusual interest to the citizens of West Newton. The subject of next Wednesday's lecture is "The Drama of the Old Testament." In describing this lecture Mr. Hitchen said, "Although they had no theatre, the Hebrews possessed a vivid dramatic instinct which moulded the form of their utterance. 'The Book of Job' is a supreme example of this keen dramatic sense."

The lecturer has proved in his two preceding lectures his distinctly unique ability in making the material and the characters of the Old Testament vibrant with life.

This series of lectures, which is a part of the adult educational program of the Second Church, is open to the public and is free of charge.

Injured In Crash At Newtonville

Cars driven by Peter Bettenschi of Waltham and Seth Fitchett, Jr., 16, of 992 Beacon st., Newton Centre, collided at Lowell avenue and Highland avenue, Newtonville, on Tuesday night. Bettenschi was taking Herbert Patterson of 229 Walnut st. to the Newton Hospital for treatment of an injured hand when his car collided with the other automobile. Fitchett's car was tipped over. The youth and two girls who were riding with him were injured. They were Edith Pratt, 138 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, and Eleanor Townsend, 59 Lakewood rd., Newton Highlands.

Hearing At State House on Ward Line Changes

The Board of Aldermen considered it. This study resulted in the holding of hearings at City Hall on this question and that only a few citizens attended any of these hearings, showing there is no popular demand for the change. He told of his plan to divide the city into nine wards by splitting Ward 5 and Ward 6 into two wards each. This plan would permit the other five wards to remain about as they now are, and would provide for future growth at the South Side for the next 50 years. He said he agreed that the city should be so divided that each section shall have proportionate representation in the Board of Aldermen, and so that the Assessors might be able to arrange their books, but that special legislation should not be sought until some definite plan is agreed upon. Asked by a member of the Committee on Cities if Newton's representatives in the Legislature had been consulted on this matter by the Aldermen, Brimblecom replied that they had not been asked for any suggestions. He paid tribute to Mr. Colby for the time and effort he has given to this matter. He added that he had been informed that the vote of the aldermen on Monday night was a voice vote and that though no opposition was voiced more than one member did not vote.

Ex-Alderman Edward H. Powers said the seven Ward plan as devised by the Assessors split up the present wards so as to end village entireties in this city and that the simple expedient had been used of taking the territory North of the B & A tracks from Faneuil to West Newton, as Ward 1. He said that the Colby plan, while more preferable in retaining village units in the same ward, would amalgamate Ward 1 with Ward 7 and end the assurance of Ward 1 residents of selecting their Ward alderman, a right they have had for 40 years. Powers said he does not believe in inflexible partisan politics into Newton elections, but the working class people of Ward 1 should continue to have the privilege of choosing their own representative in the aldermen. If joined with Ward 7 they will be in the minority in the new Ward. He took issue with Alderman Colby on the question of the desirability of a large majority of Newton's aldermen being elected as Aldermen-at-Large and argued that the majority of the Board should be elected by Ward. In answer to Mr. Colby's contention that it has been unfair for Wards 1a and 7 to have had more than their proportionate share of Aldermen, Powers said that although these two Wards have had six Aldermen and two members on the School Committee, other sections of the city have fared much better in obtaining schools and other public improvements; proof that the people of the two Newton Corner Wards did not take self advantage of their numerical strength in the city government.

Joseph P. Dargon, chairman of the Newton Democratic City Committee objected to the bill. He said Ward 1 is the only Democratic Ward in the city and the proposed merging of this Ward with other wards may cause this one stronghold of Democrats in Newton to be lost. He agreed that some change should be made to give the South Side of the city proportionate representation in the Aldermen and School Committee, but favored the nine Ward plan as suggested by Representative Brimblecom. Mr. Dargon said this plan will keep the North side Wards practically as they now are, and create two new Wards in Wards 5 and 6.

Waban Boy Falls Under Coal Truck

Donald Jordan, 13, of 63 Neshob rd., Waban had his left leg fractured about 2:30 yesterday afternoon when he fell under a moving coal truck on Washington st. opposite the Woodland Park School. Young Jordan and another boy were riding along Washington st. on bicycles and had "hitched on" to the right side of a coal truck traveling westerly. Jordan was holding onto the side of the truck about midway, and his companion was behind him. The driver of the truck did not know the boys were holding onto the truck, but a driver of a truck traveling in an opposite direction saw them and warned them. Jordan's bicycle slipped and he fell under the right rear wheel of the big truck. The driver unaware of the accident continued on. The boy was taken to the Newton Hospital. His father and mother had departed for Bermuda the previous day.

SOMETHING NEW—A CAR WITH A BED

Making an overnight, or bed car, at a moment's notice out of the very automobile in which you have been riding during the day, is the latest advantage offered buyers of the new Nash "400" and LaFayette automobiles. This added pleasure and convenience in a motor car is made available in these cars at no extra cost.

Having a luxuriously roomy body at their disposal, Nash engineers have used the extra room to make the new Nash and LaFayettes as useful at night as in the daytime. Thousands of touring motorists the country over are expressing delight at this novel bed car, which enables them to tour at will stopping when and where they please, and affording their own type of comfort with such decided "stop over" economy.

Those contemplating week end pleasure trips this summer, or long vacations, will do well to see these new cars at the local Nash showrooms, of August Osterlund, Inc., at 724 Beacon St., Newton Centre, where they are daily attracting great interest and attention.

Capron to Direct Providence Pageant

cy Burrell has written and directed were the Soul of Maryland pageant, given by the Baltimore Tercentenary; America's Making in Connecticut, given in Hartford; and the Hingham (Massachusetts) Pageant given last June with over 1,100 participants. In 1927, he directed the State of New York Saratoga Pageant, on the Saratoga battlefield, commemorating the 150th anniversary of Burgoyne's surrender, with 6,200 participants and 125,000 spectators, outranking any similar spectacle. From 1930 to 1932 he was in Washington as director of pageantry for the George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

C. HASSLER CAPRON

It is in this distinguished capacity that Hassler Capron is now to serve; a signal honor that his multitude of Newton friends congratulate him upon most sincerely. He deserves this recognition as he has made a brilliant record in the scenic designs of such spectacles, particularly in beautiful and unusual lighting effects. He served from 1925 to 1929 as director of stagecraft at Bradford Academy, Haverhill, Mass.; as co-director of the dramatic department and instructor of lighting and stagecraft at Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., from 1929 through 1931, where dramatic arts are a dominant part of the curriculum; and he became noted in his home city when he was associate director of the Newton Pageant, and director of lighting, when Newton celebrated its Tercentenary in 1930; and added to his fame when he was associate and technical director of the "Silver Jubilee Pageant" given by the Norumbega Council, B. S. A., last May, in Dickinson Stadium in Newtonville. For many years he has been acclaimed by the women's Clubs of the city for his delightful "revues."

These two men were selected to stage this great pageant from among many candidates for the posts, the Executive Committee members being Royal B. Farnum, educational director of the Rhode Island School of Design; Mrs. Caesar Misch, past president of the Rhode Island State Federation of Women's Clubs; and Rev. Thomas V. Cassidy, diocesan supervisor of parochial schools; Miss Gertrude Saunders, executive secretary of the International Institute of the Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Henry Dawson, of the Federation of Women's Clubs; and Miss Elsie Malmgren. Their recommendation was referred to the Pageant subcommittee, and given final approval by the entire Council committee.

(Editor's Note—News of this appointment has been released to the NEWTON GRAPHIC previous to general announcement to the press of Massachusetts, due to its special interest in this city where Mr. Capron is well-known.)

Explosion at Gas Station Burns 3

Three men were burned when an explosion of fumes occurred in the cellar of the gasoline station at 1742 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton on Wednesday afternoon at 2:10. The three were cleaning a wall at the station when the explosion occurred. It is thought the fumes from the solution they were using became ignited from the flames in the heater at the place. David Jones of Main st., Waltham, attendant at the station, and Fred Joyce of Framingham, an attendant at a station in that town who was visiting Jones, were treated at the Newton Hospital for first degree burns. William Joyce, brother of Fred, received slight burns on his face.

"HONEYMOON INN"

On Friday evening, March 20th, at the Hovey Institute "Honeymoon Inn," the New York musical comedy success, will be presented under the auspices of Waltham Assembly, Order of Rainbow, and Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay. There will be a cast and chorus of 100 singers and dancers, all members of these two organizations, with special scenery and elaborate costumes.

The principal characters and soloists include: Allen Wilson, David Rosenberg, Weston Littlefield, Harry Gough, Wallace Bixby, Lloyd Berman, Kenneth Fletcher, Robert Nichols, Barbara Lindblad, Betty Tobey, Mary Woodall, Harriet Childs, Clara Schwab, Norma Skelton, Marjorie Furbush, Beniah Edwards, Jeanne Budding and Dorothy Crisp.

City Loses Brocklesby Case

The Mass. Supreme Court last week decided against the City of Newton on the appeal taken by City Solicitor Bartlett from the decision of Judge John Lynch in the award to the estate of Joseph Brocklesby of $4500. Brocklesby, an Auburndale young man, was fatally injured on February 12, 1934 when the automobile in which he was riding skidded on Commonwealth ave. near Norumbega Park and hit a pole. The city was adjudged negligent because a water main had broken and covered the street surfaces with water and ice. It was contended that the city did not take proper precautions to warn traffic of the dangerous condition.

$5000 More For City Garage

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night an additional $5000 was appropriated for the construction of a garage for Street Department vehicles at the Crafts st. yard. Buildings Commissioner Hageman informed the Aldermen that the $5000 might be needed in addition to $53,300 already appropriated in case quicksand or rock may be met in excavating the foundation. The lowest bidders on the job, which is a PWA project are Tocci Brothers of Newtonville.

Alderman Keller Resigns; Accepts Federal Position

The meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, like most of the meetings held so far this year, was quite brief. This was accounted for by the fact that few matters were on the docket, and but one hearing was scheduled. President Floyd must also be given credit for keeping the Aldermen from dilatory tendencies at the meetings. The session started at 8:10, a recess was taken at 8:43 which lasted until 9:35, and the meeting adjourned at 9:45. The absentees were Aldermen Inches and McKay.

The first business on the docket was a hearing on the petition of the Jenney Mfg. Co. for a permit to erect a lubricating station at the intersection of Lower and Upper Falls.

Cement Blocks Save Kenrick Bridge

The high water at the Charles River during the past week has threatened to wash away Kenrick Bridge, which spans the stream at Nahant st., Oak Hill, between Newton and Needham. The bridge, largely of wood, was in danger of being washed off its foundation. To prevent this, Commissioner Mahoney of the Newton Street Department had 10 concrete blocks, each weighing two tons, placed on the bridge. These blocks were used to weigh down trucks plowing snow the past winter.

Other measures necessitated by the abnormally high water in the Charles were the placing of sandbags at the sluiceway dam at Upper Falls and the closing of Quineboquin rd. between Lower and Upper Falls.

Mayor Recommends Traffic Signals

Mayor Childs in his budget recommendations has made provision for traffic signals at three locations along Washington st. where a number of fatal automobile accidents have occurred. These are at the junction of Waltham and Watertown sts., West Newton; near Adams st. and Lewis ter., Newton; opposite the Catholic Church; and at Church st., Newton. There have been many demands for signals at the two latter locations in past years following fatalities, but city officials stated they could not obtain the approval of State officials for the installation of signals. Recently Commissioner of Public Works Callahan, a resident of this city, wrote to the GRAPHIC and stated that the city had never made any formal application for such signals, and that when it does, his department will approve the locations.

Red Cross Asks For Flood Aid

The American National Red Cross has telegraphed to the Newton Chapter that reports indicate 38,000 families in eleven states have been driven from their homes in the flooded areas. They are looking to the Red Cross for immediate relief—shelter, food, clothing and medical care. Relief funds of $3,000,000 will be necessary to provide care for an indefinite period until they can return to their homes.

The Newton Chapter has been asked to raise $2,000 immediately in behalf of these stricken families. Please send your contributions at once to Chapter Headquarters, 12 Austin st., Newtonville. Make checks payable to Newton Chapter American Red Cross. Contributions of food and clothing are not being solicited at the present time. This need will be cared for by Chapters nearer the flooded areas.

Contracts Let For New Schools

Public Buildings Commissioner Hageman awarded contracts this week on the new school structures to be erected at Waban and Oak Hill. The Waban school building, a four-room addition to the Angier School, will be erected by P. J. Cantwell & Son of South Boston. Their bid was $64,440. The second lowest bidder was the Sawyer Construction Company of Boston, of which C. Adrian Sawyer is an executive. Their bid was $64,495. On PWA projects the lowest bidder, if responsible, must be awarded the contract.

The contract for the Oak Hill School was awarded to A. Piotti Company of Boston. Its bid was $174,477. The Sawyer Construction Co. was again the second lowest bidder with a figure of $175,240. The Oak Hill School will contain eight class rooms in the main building, and a wing will house the kindergarten and a branch library. Provision is made for the addition of a large wing when needed. Work on both projects is expected to start next month.

Community Chest Has Nearly Made Its Objective

99 Per Cent of Pledges Have Already Been Paid

Returns to date on the 1935 Campaign show that 99% of the goal of $186,347.20 has been reached to date. With scattering returns coming in periodically, from people who have been away during the winter and from others with whom business has improved, it is hoped that the full goal will be reached shortly.

The Municipal Division made a splendid showing, with 97% of the city employees subscribing a total sum of over $11,000.00. Comparison with reports from the other New England Chests shows that municipal employees in Newton lead the list with an average pledge of $8.58; Lynn, Mass., comes second with an average city employee pledge of $7.33.

Following is a report of pledges and amounts by villages to date:

Water In Charles River Reaches Record Levels

Torrents Raging At Upper and Lower Falls.

The highest level ever recorded on the Charles River was reached Thursday when the gauge at Riverside showed over 44 feet above sea level. Hundreds of persons visited the dams at Upper Falls and Lower Falls to view the raging torrent. Late yesterday morning water covered Concord st. at Lower Falls, causing this street to be closed to traffic. Sand bags were placed at the sluiceway dams near the turnpike at the Newton-Wellesley line to keep them from being washed away. Chicken coops and other small structures were swept into the stream above Upper Falls.

In Waltham the Moody st. dam was threatened and hundreds of sandbags were placed around it to protect the former mill buildings of the Waltham Manufacturing Company. In past years when the mills were operated by the former owners proper precautions were taken and an experienced man removed flash boards from the top of the dam when high water was expected. Those now in control of the property did not take the flashboards off and this had added to the difficulties by causing a higher level above the dam and increasing the pressure on the structure itself. The sewers in Waltham along the district around Crescent street overflowed and waters were spouting out of manholes along the street. The Waltham water supply pumped from near the river was ordered chlorinated.

Engineers of the Metropolitan District Commission were on watch at all dams along the river in Watertown, Newton, Waltham and other places where there are Metropolitan dams.

THE FLOOD SITUATION

It is difficult for many of us in regions remote from disastrous flood conditions to realize the immensity of the distress which confronts the many thousand homeless and flood-stricken families throughout the eastern part of the country. Viewing existing conditions along the Charles River in Newton from the Kenrick street bridge in Oak Hill to the dam just below the Watertown line gives one only the slightest comparison with the flooded regions of the vastly larger Connecticut, Merrimac, Ohio and other river valleys. When we witness a fall of water of more than four feet over the dam at Newton Upper Falls and read of a thirteen foot head of water over the Turners Falls dams, fifteen or twenty times wider and treble in height the imaginary comparison is almost terrifying.

Curiously enough we have lived in Springfield, Pittsburgh and Haverhill, three of the focal points in the flood situation. It is difficult to realize that in Springfield, in the very section of the city where we lived that there is more than three feet of water, although the district is about a quarter of a mile from the river bank. Residents of the apartment houses were being moved to safer territory by relief parties in boats. In Pittsburgh the main business section is considerably under water, being situated on the point formed as the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers join together to form the Ohio. In Haverhill the Merrimac river has overflowed its banks to inundate the main business street to a depth of several feet. We know well the locations mentioned and the reports emanating from these places are almost incredible. Multiply these conditions by similar conditions existing in hundreds of other cities, towns and hamlets and the havoc and damage wrought by the floods is almost beyond realization.

Governmental agencies, public and private welfare organizations such as the American Red Cross, and individuals are turning their attention and efforts to relieving the distress and averting the threat of pollution and disease that is ever in the wake of such calamities. The replacement of bridges, the rebuilding of highways and other material damage will take months to accomplish. The immediate need is for food supplies, clothing, medical attention and funds to provide them. You can do your part in helping those left homeless and ruined by the floods by responding to the appeal of the Red Cross.

Community Chest

The total of 10,548 pledges represents the largest number of pledges received in any one of the four campaigns. In the first campaign, in 1932, there were 10,415 pledges; in 1933, 8,237, and in 1934, 8,679.

In addition the downward trend of pledging has been more than stopped, for the first campaign in 1932 raised $233,291.90; that in 1933 raised $172,802.81 and the 1934 campaign raised $185,316.51.

The result is great tribute to the 1,800 solicitors in the campaign and the community spirit of those who subscribed.

The Chest is planning to issue a "house-organ" shortly, which will be distributed to every home in Newton, giving the auditor's report of the Chest's finances, the distribution of the 1935 campaign funds and other pertinent information.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE SCHOOL OF OUR LADY

The regular quarterly meeting of the Alumni Association of the Church of Our Lady was held on Thursday evening, March 12. The sponsors for the various clubs reported progress. On Monday evening, the Literary Club held a meeting at the home of Mr. John Quirk, at 15 Maple ave., Newton. There was a general discussion of books, and a donation of three copies of the Ark and the Dove, for which a prize has been announced by His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell, for the best criticism and analysis. This donation was offered by the rector, Rev. John I. Sheridan. On Thursday evening, March 19th, there will be the first rehearsal of the newly formed Choral Society, under the direction of Professor Jos. Gildea, Assistant Supervisor of Music in the Boston schools. All interested in vocal or instrumental music are invited to attend this rehearsal.

NEWTONVILLE TOWNSEND CLUB

The regular meeting of the Newtonville Townsend Club will be held at the Club Headquarters, Room No. 5, 283 Walnut st., Newtonville, on Friday evening, March 20th.

The speaker of the evening will be John Crooks of Boston No. 1 Club, and an entertainment arranged by the committee under the direction of Mrs. Jas. MacDonald will be offered.

40th Anniversary of Newton Centre Savings Bank

The Newton Centre Savings Bank celebrated its fortieth anniversary on March 12, 1936, with a dinner at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Following the dinner, the President of the bank, Mr. William H. Rice, proceeded to get everyone into a happy frame of mind, after which he introduced Mr. Henry H. Kendall, former president of the bank, and now Senior Vice-President, as toastmaster. Mr. Kendall made some references to the history of the bank and then introduced one of the original incorporators, Mr. Eugene Fanning of Newton Upper Falls. Mr. Fanning is 94 years old, with the vigor and alertness of a man of sixty. He gave a clear and interesting picture of the time when the bank was founded.

Mr. Seward W. Jones, President of the Newton Trust Company, and the first President of the Newton Centre Savings Bank, an office which he held for some eighteen years, then told how the savings bank had been founded by the same men who founded the Newton Trust Company. The savings bank was organized to take care of the increasing demand for a safe depository conveniently located for residents of the south side of Newton. Incidentally, Mr. Jones remarked that he had little idea of his task when he started to organize a savings bank. He compared the organization of the Trust Company with a substantial capital available from the beginning, to building up a savings bank from nothing.

Mr. Jones was followed by Mr. William M. Noble, Counsel for the Bank, and its first depositor. He still holds No. 1 book. He gave some interesting reminiscences and observed that his experience in handling estates had convinced him that the best assets were savings bank books. Mayor made a very happy speech in which he congratulated the bank on its forty years of achievement. During this period the deposits have passed $4,000,000 while the depositors number nearly seven thousand.

Mr. Rutherford E. Smith, President of the Savings Banks Association of Massachusetts, was the final speaker. Mr. Smith gave a clear and concise account, especially helpful to all the savings banks men present, of the present conditions confronting savings banks. It was a valuable talk and greatly appreciated by the audience. The meeting then adjourned.

The clock in the tower of Eliot Congregational Church at Newton, which for nearly half a century has served the people of that section dependably and faithfully, went on a strike last night. It did not refuse to work, it worked too much. When the church bell sounded the hour at six o'clock it kept on tolling until it must have sounded a sufficient number of strokes to conform to the time system in vogue in some European countries. It rang 18 times and then added 14 more strokes for good measure. At other hourly intervals during the night the bell got a number of extra ticks. At eleven o'clock one would think it was tolling for departed brothers. And at 2 a. m. this morning it went haywire completely, tolling for 20 minutes. Persons residing near the Croeyden, Vernon Court and other neighbors commenced inquiring if President Roosevelt had died. Others became alarmed and thought the Charles had broken loose and was flooding the city. The clock, like other mechanism, becomes worn in parts during long years of service, and apparently needs repairs.

As a counter attraction to the flood conditions, which prevailed the past week, a grass fire gained such headway near the railroad at Upper Falls on Tuesday afternoon about 4:40 that someone pulled an alarm from Box 621.

Next week Friday evening the annual prize-speaking contests for Newton High School pupils will take place in the school auditorium at eight o'clock. In conjunction with this program the English Club will present, as is its custom, a short play entitled "Rich Man, Poor Man" by Bertha W. Burrill.

Newton has been selected as one of 109 cities and towns in Massachusetts in which an educational campaign to reduce automobile accidents to children will be conducted. More than 300 deaths occurred in these places with one fatality to a child pedestrian in Newton during the two year period ending with Dec. 31st, 1935. The campaign will be conducted by the traffic department of the Public Works department. State Traffic Engineer Edgar F. Copell has prepared a unique booklet which will place with widespread commendation among school principals and superintendents. About ten thousand of the leaflets will be distributed. Entitled "Where Death Struck 300 Times at Children in Massachusetts" the cover also depicts a skeleton reaching out greedily fingers at playing children. The state traffic staff stressed six major causes of auto fatalities to children as follows: Child pedestrians, 213; occupants of autos, 26; coasters on sleds, 31; bicycle riders, 12; falls from autos, 5; and coasters on wheels, 5. The campaign is in co-operation with the special March highway safety drive initiated by Governor Curley.

For two weeks commencing March 23 at the Nonantum Branch Library there will be an exhibit of Model Airplanes which were built in the past three months at the Stearns School playground by boys from 9 to 14 years of age. Included in this exhibit there will be models of military planes of three nations and a few well known commercial planes all built in every detail by boys of the Aviation Club. Anyone who is interested is invited to come and see the exhibit.

The old Barnard School on Shaw st., West Newton, will be demolished in the near future if funds will be allocated by WPA to permit this work to be done. City officials have applied for authorization from the WPA to raze the school as a relief project.

Newton girl students at Mt. Holyoke College participated in the second quadrennial "Olympic" meet last Saturday demonstrating the work of the physical educational department. Proceeds of the affair will be contributed to the swimming pool fund. Seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen represented the United States, Germany, England and France respectively and competed in various sports. Miss Nancy Waldron of Newtonville was named to the All-Holyoke basketball team. Other Newton girls who took part in various events were Mary Waldron, Catherine Ross, and Virginia Fletcher of Newtonville, Margery Tylee of West Newton, and Dorothy Ford of Newton.

For the Easter Morning Service this year Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, have made arrangements for an extra twenty minutes of music before the regular meeting. The Mary A. Clarke Trio (harp, violin, cello); Mr. Franklin Field, baritone; Miss Lillian West, organist; and all choirs will render the joyous music symbolic of the Easter celebration. Rev. Randolph Scamman Merrill will preach the Easter sermon. The Church is equipped with Sonotone and amplification will be installed in the Church School Rooms for the large attendance expected.

The program for this week's Vesper Hour of Music and Meditation, Sunday afternoon at four thirty at the First Baptist Church in Newton will include: Harvey Grace—Meditation (in ancient tonality); Ernest Walker—Prelude on "Thou art my Life"; Basil Harwood—Maestoso. Herbert Howells—Psalms Prelude on Ps. 23, v. 4; Percy Whitlock—Sortie; Edward C. Baird—Evening Song; Mr. Raymond Floyd, Organist.

Social Minutes

Truly inspiring was the gathering in the vestry of the Temple Ohabei Shalom when over two hundred prominent members met there in celebration of the 24th birthday of that famed organization—Hadassah. Mrs. H. H. Rubenowitz was guest speaker and a play directed by Mrs. Ruth Levin Rubin entitled "An Education Nightmare" was presented. In the throng we noticed Mrs. S. Caplow, Mrs. M. Levenson, Mrs. H. E. Kaplan, Mrs. J. Richmond, Mrs. A. Haskell, Mrs. E. Ullian, Mrs. R. B. Fromenson, Mrs. Wm. Solomon, Mrs. Julius Robbins, Mrs. Arthur Jacobs assisted Mrs. Abbott J. Epstein in dispensing hospitality.

Among the very nicest dinner dances held at the Coconut Grove which we didn't have the chance to tell you about was staged by the Jewish Sanatorium of Tuberculosis. There were luring tunes of Ranny Weeks' orchestra and the very smartest of the young social leaders were present to dance to them. At one table was Mrs. G. Friedman, Mrs. L. Nathanson and Mrs. M. Solomon. Having a merry evening were Mrs. M. Berman, Mrs. H. Brandt and Mrs. R. Eyedenberg. In another group were Mrs. M. Landesman, Mrs. E. Peters, Mrs. W. King, Mrs. J. Tayma, Mrs. W. Tromby, Mrs. J. Spar and Mrs. W. Karp.

Home for Aged Tea
Mrs. M. Perlmuter Barth's attractive home was the setting for a delightful tea on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. Barth, entertained for the new members and their sponsors of the Jewish Home for Aged. Mrs. A. S. Burston, membership chairman, welcomed the guests and presented Lillian Silverstein Ostrosky to honor, in a delightful group of selections. At the tea table was Mrs. M. Greenstein, Mrs. I. Barkan, Mrs. J. Berman, Mrs. F. Tittlebaum, Mrs. J. Berman, Mrs. G. P. Goldenberg.

Calendar Reads
Jubilant enthusiasm will greet the Monte Carlo Ballet Russe next month (2-3-4) at the Opera House. This unusual group has been receiving international acclaim. Many illustrious people will attend. Mrs. George Green, in charge of tickets for the Children's Home, to benefit, in her first performance, has as her assistants Mrs. K. Kaplan, Mrs. R. Greenman, Mrs. L. Miller, Mrs. R. Rothenberg, Mrs. G. Fisher, Mrs. K. Hurwitz and Mrs. P. Simons.

CELEBRATING RANDOLPH CALDECOTT'S BIRTHDAY

Randolph Caldecott was born in the old walled town of Chester on March 22, 1846 and went to the King Henry VII School there. The school records tell that he was one of the best boys in the school, but in the present instance we are more interested in hearing that from the time he was six he drew pictures of animals or modeled them in clay or cut them out of wood as his fancy dictated. His father, however, discouraged these artistic tendencies and at the age of fifteen Caldecott was working in a bank at Whitechurch in Shropshire and in his free moments thoroughly enjoying the surrounding country in his own way. He lived in an old farmhouse about two miles out of town and "used to go fishing and shooting, to meet of the hounds, to market and cattle fairs," absorbing the sights and the sounds and storing up bits in his memory and sketch book that were to be very useful to him later.

Leslie Brooke, an artist of today, who "upholds the fine tradition of English picture-book making established by Walter Crane and Randolph Caldecott," says that "Caldecott is an extreme instance of instinctive drawing" and never is that more truly shown than in his picture books. One feels that he let himself go for the children, and all his natural sweetness and gaiety of spirit, all his love of life out-of-doors and particularly the English out-of-doors are reflected from the pages of the old nursery jingles, full of children and old folks, huntsmen and country characters. Animals abound in them, horses and dogs and birds—the pages are full of them. Was ever so burly a chase imagined as that instituted by those "headlong, horn-blowing, cheek-bursting and hopelessly futile Three Jovial Huntsmen?"

The action of the Aldermen in creating a third voting precinct in Ward 2 is to be commended, although the opposition was considerable. A large number of voters have been inconvenienced by the location of the voting booths at the extreme end of the precinct, out of the way for 300 voters. The fact that these voters yield their allegiance to the Democratic party should have no weight in this matter, and it is to be regretted that the strong opposition was said to emanate from Republican forces. The Aldermen owe it to themselves and the city to be decent and their action will be endorsed by fair-minded citizens.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday afternoon the ordinance relating to the muzzling of dogs was referred to the Committee on Ordinances. The standing committee on Licenses reported in favor of F. A. Perkins' petition for a license to peddle foreign fruit. Petitions of E. S. Kingsbury for a license to collect night soil in Wards 2, 3, 5 and 6, and Simon White for a permit to collect swill in Ward 2 were referred to the Committee on Licenses.

On the question of appropriating $500 for public parks, Alderman Fowle made some very pungent remarks. He said $500 was a ridiculously small amount and the result would be hardly perceptible. He criticized the management of affairs by the City Government and said it was not such to encourage capitalists to make investments here. Heavy taxpayers reasonable wishes are too much ignored. A slightly piece of land in Auburndale was given to the city and instead of being improved, had been made most unpleasant to view. He said a water factory now in operation in Weston would have been built in Auburndale had proper encouragement been given.

Powers' Paragraphs

Last month among our items of "Newton in the Past" were a couple telling of a flood in this section the middle of February, 1886. There was another flood in 1896. The past week has seen the largest volume of water in New England for the past 40 years. Even the usually placid Charles has reached new high levels. Fortunately, the valley of the river through Newton is sufficiently broad so that comparatively little damage resulted here. Although the amount of water which has been surging over the dams at Upper and Lower Falls and at Bemis has been impressive, after one had viewed the torrents pouring down the Merrimac or Connecticut Rivers, the Charles appeared relatively insignificant.

The principal trouble caused by the thaw and heavy rain in Newton was the flooding of a large number of cellars; in some of which this condition was caused by the backing of sanitary sewers.

The action of the Boston City Council in voting to forbid the blowing of automobile horns between the hours of 11 p. m. and 7 a. m., except in cases of extreme emergency, could well be emulated by the Newton Board of Aldermen. The nuisance that has existed in Boston and elsewhere has prompted the Boston ordinance, also obtains to a lesser degree in Newton. Residents of this city have been disturbed during late night or early morning hours by inconsiderate pests who are too lazy to alight from their cars and ring doorbells, and who blow automobile horns to inform someone that they await without. Frank Goodwin, who opposed the Boston ordinance in one of his "buntinsky spells," states there is already a law which forbids unnecessary blowing of automobile horns. This is true. But, like other laws, it is so rarely enforced that local ordinances may aid in lessening this growing nuisance. The ordinance would also tend to eliminate the practice by morons who drive automobiles of blowing horns at 1 and 2 a. m. whenever they approach at high speeds some street intersection where a warning signal is located; although there is not another car within a mile.

As the plot in Europe, Asia and Africa thickens and the economic and racial jealousies of Old World nations seem to presage widespread and more horrible wars in the not distant future, Americans should be thankful that 3000 miles of water separate them from the mess that does not do credit to the so-called civilization of the white races overseas. They should be doubly thankful that this country escaped by a narrow margin of having become entangled with the League of Nations or its thinly camouflaged subsidiaries. We have had plenty of opportunities recently to observe the insincerity and trickery of the big nations which dominate the League; nations which were our former allies in the "War to End Wars"; nations which showed their sportsmanship and gratitude to us by wenching on the debts of billions loaned to them by the people of the U. S. A.

The little German boys we used to see marching and goose-stepping in the Rhineland in the winter of 1918-1919 and the spring of the latter year now compose some of the Deutsche army which has marched into Cologne, Coblenz, Trier, Mainz and other important towns on or near the famous river. Those of us who were with the Army of Occupation knew it was only a question of time before Germany would assert its right to complete sovereignty over the Rhineland, and that the time would be determined by the day in which France could not obtain active assistance from other leading nations of Europe in cowering Germany and compelling it to observe the restrictions imposed at Versailles.

So many requests (or demands) have been made on cities and towns the past week to pump out flooded cellars, that the question has arisen if this service could be regarded as a public obligation except in cases where drainage from streets or street drains, or overloaded sanitary sewers is responsible.

A hearing was held recently at the State House on a bill which would accord to Spanish War veterans similar advantages now enjoyed by World War veterans. We are neither favoring nor opposing this plea of the men who served in 1898. But, it amused us to read of the sneering objection made at the hearing by a man who served during the World War and who minimized the importance of the Spanish War. It is true that the war between this country and Spain in 1898 was a mere trifle as compared with the World War. It is a fact that those who served in the Spanish War saw little service as compared with the men who were in combat units in France. But, there are veterans of the Spanish War who certainly saw more service than did some so-called "veterans" of the World War, men and women who have obtained all the advantages given to those who faced danger or who made real sacrifices, and who have been more insistent in seeking special preferences than have the real veterans.

It would be a just tribute to name the new playground at Oak Hill the "Hurley Playground." Four generations of this family have lived and labored in that section and they are among the largest donors of the land which will be used for the new playground.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Our Own State

It gives me great pleasure to report that the Massachusetts countryside between here and the Berkshires has still many little white houses with green shutters and a large number of red barns. In other words the landscape is safe. If you share my feeling of respect and admiration for rural New England you know what a treat it was to take a day's ride over Bay State main roads that lead from east to west. You, no doubt, have done it more often than I, but I am sure that when it is my frequent experience it would always be a delight.

If there was an outstanding feature of my trip, for which I owe much to an old friend and his splendid car, it was the sight of the French King bridge which spans the Connecticut river between the towns of Erving and Gill. Here a new State road has been built where there was no thoroughfare. Although intended to relieve traffic at Turners Falls it not only accomplishes well that purpose but makes an imposing structure as viewed by travelers.

It was the name French King that struck me. Naturally I began to ask questions, that day and the next. When told that the Indians used to paddle their canoes from Canada, then the dominion of a French king, and shoot the rapids not far from the present bridge, I got an additional thrill. Now I'm reading the history of the river. However, one need only to look at its majesty and grandeur to become deeply moved.

Can't be Avoided

The proposal to redvide the city for voting purposes reminds me that in Newton, the body politic, having become a trifling elderly, is now troubled with bulging ward lines.

Readily Answered

Seized by the recurrent longing for "something to read," I found myself at the main building of the Newton Free Library. It was a disappointment but no surprise to see the seven-day-fiction shelf almost completely bare. As I invariably endeavor to meet discouragement with a merry quip, I inquired of the obliging attendant, "Who stole all the books?" Promptly and smilingly she replied, "The public."

Getting Down to Business

As near as I have been able to learn from an extensive and comparatively intensive search the past winter has been hard on quorums. When it is necessary under the constitution and bylaws of an organization, he ever so humble, to have a quorum present in order to pass an appropriation for ice cream and cake for the coming "ladies night" or a new rubber mat for the front vestibule, the requisite number must be present.

People who belong to boards of directors, trustees, etc., are more often than not disposed to pass up attendance when the weather is bad or, when it is fair and something comes up which they prefer to give the time to. In such emergencies, the secretary, a job for which I never yearned, is obliged to telephone around and urge, beg or command, according to his disposition, that this or that person "hurry up and get over there so we can do some business."

Without casting reflections on otherwise highly respected citizens I have known of presiding officers who could create a quorum by the simple device of making two persons appear where only one was actually seated. A facile method of counting, but scarcely ethical.

In legislative assemblies, where sessions are held daily, a quorum is sometimes obtained by sending the sergeant-at-arms and his assistants on a "round-up." Such facilities are not available to smaller groups, unfortunately. Among these latter bodies, which meet once a month or even less frequently, there is the attempt to drag-out those who should be on hand but who have remained at home through indifference. Not infrequently it happens that the man who tried to "duck" the meeting but found he couldn't, appears tardily and "saves the day." For reluctantly doing what he should have done he is greeted as a hero while the conscientious regular, who seldom fails to show up, is never applauded. He is taken for granted. Why this should be is one of my pet problems.

Melancholy Pleasure

It's difficult for some of us to keep pace with youth in the matter of slang. Not that we wish to indulge in it as freely ourselves but we do like to know what it means. Then, if the application is worth while, we may use it, if and when occasion arises. Thus I have tried to explain, and successfully I hope, the reason for recounting an experience with a young office associate who urged me to accompany him to a certain movie. "You'll like it," he said. "It's mighty well acted and directed." "But very sentimental, I understand," said I, half-protestingly. "Sure," he replied, "it will do you no harm to let your hair down and have a good cry."

YOU'RE SAFE ON CONCRETE

At night the superiority of concrete becomes most apparent because of its visibility. Its light gray surface with sharply defined edges reflects light but is not glossy. Concrete conforms precisely to the formula for the ideal pavement set up by the International Illumination Congress of 1928 and by the Illuminating Engineering Society in 1934. Concrete, smooth but non-skid, insures a quick, certain stop even in the rain. Accidents of all kinds are less apt to happen on concrete.

Concrete is safer—more comfortable—more economical to drive on. And it costs less to build than any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON CHAMPIONS SEEK BOWDOIN TITLE

With four out of five interscholastic titles already theirs, the state championship Newton High track team will attempt to make a grand slam of the 1936 season tomorrow in the Bowdoin Interscholastics at Brunswick, Me. Newton has never before made a serious bid for the honors in this twenty-five year old event, but this time Coach Don Enoch is escorting a complete team, probably the strongest public school track team ever developed in New England.

The Bowdoin meet differs from the previous winter engagements of the Newton athletes in that the program includes the mile run, the pole vault and the running broad jump, in addition to the regular school events, and there is no standing broad jump. Of the three added events, Newton has unusual strength only in the broad jump, in which Co-captains Ray Huling and Warren Wiggins are both capable of better than 21 feet.

Hartman-Huling Hurdles Duel

Newton has had a good record at Bowdoin meets, in the infrequent years when teams have made the trip "down East." In 1933 a team of five boys earned fifteen points, with Doug Sloane taking the dash, Tom Fitzgerald the mile, and the relay team winning their race in the fastest time. Newton will face old rivals in the Bowdoin Interscholastics and other Greater Boston schools, and many Maine teams as well. The Bowdoin meet also attracts a fast prep school class, including Bridgton, St. John's, Hebron and Newark Prep.

One of the high spots of the meet tomorrow from the Newton point of view will be the renewal of the Newton-Bowdoin rivalry in the low hurdles. Robin Hartman led the Newton co-captains all winter, but got an eye-lash decision over Ray Huling in the State Meet. Although Hartman won both hurdle races in the Dartmouth Interscholastics last week, tying the school world record for the 60-yard high, Huling will have a good chance to turn the tables on the Brookline star. Both high and low hurdles at Bowdoin will be at 45 yards.

Wiggins, Forte, Heard Favorites

During the week the boys have been practicing on the Tufts College indoor track, to prepare them for the clay and cinder surface they will run on at Bowdoin. Warren Wiggins ran the best 300 of the season on the dirt at Andover, so there is good cause to expect that he will find the footing to his liking. Paul Forte, overlooked by the judges at Andover, also ran a front race on the dirt. If these two score well in their specialties, Newton will be very well set to win their final indoor meet.

Co-captain Ray Huling, a great competitor, will be favored to win the low hurdles, after trailing Hartman in three races this winter, as Hartman will certainly run the highs as well. Nate Heard, steadily improving with the shot, is almost sure to land first or second place. Mike Regan and Mark Cornwell will have their choice of the 1000-yard run or the mile, and either may surprise with third or fourth points. Frank Hines, who broke into the limelight with third place in the state meet dash, and Don Hooper, will both enter the sprint. The other points will be accounted for in the broad jump and the relay.

The best relay team, the combination of Huling, Dussossoi, Muther and Wiggins, may be called on, but the chances are that Wiggins will not be needed in this last event. Jack Allen has been off form in the high jump, since he sprained an ankle in mid-season, and Newton will be without a threat in that event. Even without strength in the high jump and the 600-yard run, Newton has a theoretical advantage of ten points over any other local team.

Richard W. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Wilson of Auburn, a freshman at Tufts College, is a member of the freshman track team. Wilson scored for Tufts in a meet against St. John's Preparatory School by his high-jumping and received his cross country numerals last fall. He has recently been initiated into the Beta Mu chapter of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

THE LYDIA PARTRIDGE WHITING CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Mrs. James F. Cooper is opening her delightful home at 2 Kingston rd. to members of the Chapter for their meeting on Tuesday, March 24, at 2:15 o'clock.

A program of unusual interest has been arranged by Mrs. Cooper. Famous Women of the American Revolution will be portrayed by members of the Chapter in costume. Mrs. Nina May Ford will sing appropriate songs.

SAVIGNANO HEADS NEW SCHOOL CLUB

The newly formed Varsity Club held its first meeting on Thursday afternoon, March 12. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Enoch, the faculty adviser and turned over to Pete Donovan who presided over the election of officers. Ernie Savignano was elected president, Peter Donovan, vice-president, Bob "Tiny" Weldon, secretary, and Al Smith, treasurer.

An executive council of four appointed by the officers, and the faculty adviser consisting of Wiggins, Quick, Daniels, and Herrick was named.

The purpose of the club is "to foster better school spirit, to establish a more worthy code of sportsmanship, and to bring about a better appreciation for things athletic among the students of Newton High." The club is open only to varsity lettermen. All boys earning varsity letters (major or minor) are eligible for membership subject to the meeting of the eligibility requirements in Art. X. The dues are $3.50 annually.

Plans for the year were discussed. It was suggested that the club be entitled to a member on the Newtonian Sports Staff and the Orange Book Staff. It was also determined that all coaches and collegiate letter men among the faculty be admitted as honorary members. The rest of the meeting was spent in discussing the Quick Resolution making tennis and golf major sports.

At the next meeting, Al McCoy, head basketball coach at Northeastern will lecture and show movies on basketball.

Newton Highlights

The United States Olympic hockey team arrives in town today direct from the Olympic championship series and a strenuous exhibition campaign. Frank Stubbs, Frank Spain and Johnny Garrison, the three Newtonians with the team, played great hockey abroad. Garrison, the former Harvard and Brae Burn C. C. star, was not only the high scorer of the Americans, but won the gallery by his fine sportsmanship on numerous occasions in the Olympic series.

In the last amateur hockey program of this year, the national Olympic team will face the Boston Olympics, New England amateur champions, at the Boston Garden next Sunday afternoon. It will be the last appearance for the 1936 Olympic team, which lost out to England in the championship round of the world series.

Tomorrow being the first day of spring, the young man's fancy lightly turns to baseball, or possibly to spring football. Its football for Jack McCarthy, Newtonville junior at Holy Cross. He played regularly on their great team last fall until he was sidelined by an injury. Al Keyevskian is striving to uphold the family football prestige at Harvard, where spring training has also begun this week. He and Charlie Houghton will both be after tackle positions there in the fall, but Houghton may concentrate on his tennis this spring.

At Bowdoin, sophomore Johnny Frazier of Newtonville is trying out for the first base job on the baseball team, having played in a number of games last season as a freshman. Warren Huston of Newtonville, now a junior at Springfield, is working out with the maroon baseball team in spite of the flood, and can look forward to another great year. The Brown University trio of Norm Appleyard, Charlie Butler and Perry Elrod, the "murderers row" of the Brown batting order last season, is reported ready for their last year of college baseball. They first played together six years ago at Newton High. Butler, a long hitter who covers a wide territory at first base with his six-four frame, is said to be under the eye of the big league scouts, just as Warren Huston has been for several years.

NEWTON H-Y CLUB

On Tuesday, March 24th, the Newton H-Y Club will entertain other boy members of the senior class at Newton High School at a supper and a discussion on "Fraternalism in College Living." This will be an open meeting in which all seniors in high school will be invited so that they may learn the truth and can get full information on different fraternities in college life. The speaker of the evening will be Dean Lord of Boston University, who is Chairman of the Inter-Fraternal Committee at B. U., and has been National President of the Alpha Kappa Phi Committee and New England Chairman of the Beta Theta Phi. Dean Lord has made exhaustive studies in the fraternity field and is well qualified to discuss this with high school seniors.

torium of one-car capacity at its station, 1005 Boylston st., Newton Highlands. Mr. Page of Medford, speaking for the Jenney Co., explained that competition necessitates modern facilities for lubricating and greasing cars. He said the building will conform in architecture to the present structure at the station, will be one story high, 40 feet from the nearest residence, and 16 feet from the nearest adjoining lot line. The Licenses Committee discussed the petition during the recess and recommended that it be granted, when the meeting was resumed. Alderman Temperley said he would vote in favor because the property to the west of the Jenney station is now zoned for business. He cautioned the members of the Board, however, against letting down the bars on business intruding along the turnpike. Alderman Rawson said the Claims and Rules Committee is aware of the situation and it favored the Jenney petition because it is an extension of a present use and established business. The Board voted to grant the permit.

Appropriations made by the Board included—Street Department, sewer in Allen ave., Waban, $2338; drain in Bonwood rd., Newtonville, $1430; Public Welfare Department, $149.10; Water Department, for 1935 deficit bills, $724.53; Water Department, to pay claim awarded estate of Joseph Brocklesby, $4920.32; Water Department, to satisfy execution in case of Michael Shaughnessy against Lawrence Federico, City of Newton as trustee, for laying of water pipes, $225.50; deficit bills of 1935 for various departments, $16,116.75; reimbursement of Patrolman William Dowling, $5.43.

Alderman Bowen for the Finance Committee explained that the $149.10 bill for the Welfare Department resulted from a peculiar circumstance.

Two markets in the city were conducted early last year by persons with the same name—L. Clouff, one at Newton Centre and the other at Nonantum. Food was supplied by one to welfare recipients and the other received the payment. The appropriation on Monday night was to pay the man at Newton Centre who supplied the food and did not get paid. Mr. Bowen said the city is bringing suit against the man who was paid by mistake. In answer to Alderman Temperley he said that most of the amount listed in deficit bills for 1935 was for welfare aid to persons residing in other places who have Newton settlements, and that the deficit bills were less than one-half what they were a year ago. He explained that the delay in other cities is in sending in their claims to Newton causes these bills to lap over into another year.

The resignation of Alderman Harold R. Keller of Ward 6 was received and accepted with regret. Mr. Keller was elected to office in December and started his service on Jan. 1. He explained that since taking office he had received an appointment as a civilian employee of the United States Army at the Army Base in Boston. The position is under civil service and who ever holds it cannot remain in elective office. Mr. Keller said he was reluctant to resign from the Board but the regulations compelled him to. Following his resignation, which apparently he and his fellow members assumed would go into effect at the conclusion of the meeting, Keller voted on the orders calling for the appropriations. During the recess City Solicitor Bartlett informed President Floyd that as the resignation had become effective immediately upon its acceptance, it was necessary to rescind the vote taken on whatever orders Mr. Keller had voted upon. This was done, and a second vote was then taken on the orders with Keller not voting.

The Board voted to elect a successor to Mr. Keller at the meeting on Apr. 6. According to precedent the other two Aldermen from Ward 6 will suggest the name of the new Aldermen to the Board. For several years past at least one member of the Board has resigned each year.

On recommendation of the Licenses Committee the Board refused to grant

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTRE

The directors of the Stearns School Centre met at the home of Mrs. Cecil W. Clark, 363 Walnut st., on Monday morning, March 16. Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, the president, was in the chair. Preceding the regular business meeting, Mr. C. Elwood Drake spoke on "Guidance in the Newton Schools." Mr. Drake is the present director of Guidance and Research in the Newton School system. He outlined the organization of the guidance department and explained its aims. The work of guidance and the adjustment of pupils to their aptitudes and abilities will do much to make the boys and girls of today better men and women and therefore better citizens of tomorrow, were some of the facts stressed by Mr. Drake.

Following Mr. Drake's talk there was a short business meeting with reports from the secretary, treasurer and social worker.

Walter Prendergast, 38, of Chandler place, Newton Upper Falls, had his left hand so badly crushed in a calendar machine at Stowe & Woodward's rubber factory in that village on Tuesday afternoon that it had to be amputated at the Newton Hospital. Prendergast was working at the machine when his hand was caught between rollers. Prendergast's wife was visiting a friend who is a patient at the Newton Hospital when her husband was brought there. When informed of the accident she collapsed. He is the father of two young children.

Liquor Raid At West Newton

The shoe repair shop of Salvatore Campisi at 1393 Washington st., West Newton, was raided Thursday noon at 12:15 by Sergeant Sullivan and Patrolman Maloney of the Newton police. The officers seized 3½ quarts of alleged alcoholic liquor which was contained in bottles and a can. Also seized were 5 empty gallon cans, 19 empty bottles, 3 glasses and a quantity of lottery slips. Campisi will be arraigned in the Newton court today on the charge of keeping and exposing liquor.

"King of Burlesque"
At Paramount Theatre

Warner Baxter, "King of Burlesque" which comes starting Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, again heads the gala cast of this picture, which includes Alice Faye, Jack Oakie and Arline Judge.

Although the picture is a revealing glimpse into the gaudy world of burlesque, it does not confine its action to backstage drama, but launches into the life story of a genius of the theatre, played by Warner Baxter.

With his two trusted aides, Alice Faye and Jack Oakie, Baxter has climbed from side street honkytonks to Broadway's glittering palaces. Then when he falls in love with a lovely society woman who represents everything he had hoped to attain, he deserts his erstwhile friends.

Things go from bad to worse with Baxter, until his wife Mona Barrie, deserts him. When things look blackest, Baxter's old friends return to help him on the most spectacular venture of his life.

The close of the film shows Baxter suddenly realizing that it was Alice Faye he had loved all the time. On the same program is Leslie Howard and Bette Davis in the "Petrified Forest." The picture is the thrilling drama of a man who has drained the bitter cup of disillusionment but who finds himself through love. Leslie Howard and Miss Davis have the stellar roles while others in the cast include Genevieve Tobin, Humphrey Bogart, Charley Grapewin, Dick Foran, Porter Hall and Joseph Sawyer.

Starting Thursday, March 26th, will be Robert Donat and Jean Parker in "The Ghost Goes West" with Eugene Pallette, also Edward Everett Horton in "Her Master's Voice." To complete the bill will be another of Popeye's latest cartoons "Spinach Overture."

Day Jr. High School

Last Thursday marked the first outing of the Movie Appreciators' Club, which Miss Hickey is sponsoring. The club attended "Modern Times," Charlie Chaplin's starring vehicle. The club is going to consider this week at club meeting how Chaplin has made his reputation, what is the significance of the title, "Modern Times," whether an all-talkie would have been more or less effective, and similar questions. Those attending the movie were: Polly Donovan, Madeline Sullivan, Harriet Stetson, Betty Coffin, Betty Southworth, Genevieve Cupoli, Evelyn Arata, Josephine Dalo, Francis Kelly, Francis White, John Sloane, Samuel Thompson, William Thompson, Bart Morrisroe, and Hubert Paquette.

Saint Patrick's Day was an event not soon to be forgotten. The ninth grade celebrated the seventeenth of March with a rousing party. Green dresses, green ties, and green decorations helped to lend an atmosphere of Erin go' bragh. The faculty members of the committee included: Miss Johnstone, Miss Johnson, Mr. Tanner, and Mr. Burkhard, ex-officio. The officers of the ninth grade, who were all present, are: Ernest Colarullo, Miriam Cronan, Jack Holter, and Albert Everts. Doris Martinez and William Pescosolido served as hosts. Winifred Mergandahl was in charge of ushers and was assisted by Robert Hayes, Edmund Miller, Daniel Needham, and Ernest Johnson. Joseph Hughes collected tickets. The orchestra was made up of former and present F. A. Day boys.

A science film was shown the seventh graders by Mr. Morse, depicting a very interesting incident in the life of Louis Pasteur. The lad, Joseph Meister, who was cured of rabies was sent to Pasteur by the grand-mother of one of our teachers, Miss Eva Grenier.

Weeks Jr. High

"The Importance of Being Earnest" was presented by the faculty of the Weeks School on Thursday afternoon and Friday evening of last week before large and enthusiastic audiences.

The play, a comedy of mistaken identity, provoked in its subtle humor and embarrassing situations much hearty laughter from responsive audiences. Costuming and stage settings of the 1890 period added much to the enjoyment of each performance. The cast included: Abner H. Bailey, Carl C. Peterson, James J. Hammond, Dorothy I. Haskins, Patricia Smith, Marjorie G. Dunstan, Flora A. Tabor, Alfred A. Perrault and Herman A. Pohlman. Mrs. Dorothy Sawyer Bates of Auburndale coached the production.

The school orchestra furnished music at the Thursday afternoon performance which was very largely attended by pupils of the school. Friday evening, a special orchestra composed of teachers, alumni, and students rendered an interesting musical program. The play was produced for the express purpose of raising money to establish a permanent library fund as a teachers' memorial to the former principal, Frank F. Carr.

Weeks' final games of the interschool series resulted in losses for both the Varsity and Junior Varsity when the Bigelow School, on Wednesday, March 11, came out on the long end of 25 to 17 and 18 to 15 scores respectively.

At the March 13 assembly, Vincent Manchester introduced the Rev. Ben Roberts, pastor of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church and president of the Weeks Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Roberts left a most inspiring message in his talk on "The Lure of the Last Minute."

The cabinet displays this week exhibit work done by the Camera Club, and some handcraft work done by pupils of Perkins Institute for the Blind.

"Magnificent Obsession"
At Wellesley Theatre

Conspicuous among next week's film offerings is "Magnificent Obsession," to be seen at the Wellesley Hills Community Playhouse during the entire week. Like its original, the famous novel of the same name by Lloyd C. Douglas, who interestingly is a Wellesley Hills resident, the story in its present form possesses a strong, undeniable power.

Robert Taylor, seen up to now in comparatively minor roles, carves himself an important niche in screen-dom through his creation of the character of the youth who carelessly brings sorrow into the life of a young woman and then devotes his life to an eventual atonement. Irene Dunne, one of the screen's most capable actresses, gives an inspiringly fine portrayal in the role of the young woman. The balance of the large and excellent cast is ideally well suited to their individual parts.

Also seen on this program will be the new March of Time interestingly photo-reporting events leading to the recent Japanese crisis, a fascinating resume of the present status of the Massachusetts fishing industry and a well filmed episode relating to Devil's Island, French penal colony. "Audioscops," short subject which has received considerable recognition by reason of its novel use of third dimension, becomes another of this program's features.

The policy of the Cafe de Paris to serve only the most tempting and delicious dishes, prepared by a carefully selected staff of expert chefs has made this restaurant one of the most popular in Greater Boston.

This is only one of the many reasons that made it necessary for the Cafe de Paris to make expensive alterations in order to accommodate the increasing patronage.

The Cafe de Paris cordially invites the residents of Newton to visit this new Lounge de Paris. The entire restaurant now has a seating capacity of over 400 people and a staff of 35 waitresses, including 4 hostesses. The same moderate range of prices will be maintained with a choice of Table D'hote Luncheons and Dinners available at all times.

With the addition of our new electrically equipped bakery, customers are assured of delicious home cooked pastry, bread and rolls of every description.

A Nest Egg for Babies

The newest fad in gifts for babies is a little silver-plated bank shaped like a hen sitting on her nest egg.

Then, there is that nest egg which compound interest keeps growing as baby grows—a Savings Account which can be opened for as little as $1. And it's not only good for babies, but grown-ups as well.

Start your "nest egg" at the Newton Centre Savings Bank.

SLADE—BARNES

Miss Betty Alden Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel M. Barnes of 141 Cedar st., Newton Centre, was married to William Henry Slade, son of Mrs. William H. Slade of Ashton ave., Newton Centre, on Saturday evening, March fourteenth, at eight-thirty in the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre. Rev. Dr. Charles N. Arbuttle performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of rose-orchid chiffon. She was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. Robert A. Gilman, sister of the bride, of Brookline, was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Josephine A. Dunning, Mrs. James Marshall Allen and Miss Jean Marion Crosby, all of New Jersey and Mrs. Asbury Winfield Schley of Cambridge.

George Kenneth Slade, brother of the groom, was the best man. The ushers were Asbury Winfield Schley of Cambridge, Robert A. Gilman of Brookline, Charles Newcomb Pitt of Waltham and Anton H. Brockelman of Worcester.

A reception was held in the Newton Centre Woman's Club immediately following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to New York Mr. and Mrs. Slade will make their home in Brighton.

The bride is a graduate of the Lee School and the New Jersey College for Women. The groom attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

MacHUGH—HARMON

Edward MacHugh, well-known radio singer, and Mrs. Jean Harmon of Newton were married at three-thirty on Monday afternoon, March 16, at the home of the bride at 134 Langdon road, Newton. Rev. Alan L. Blacklock of Waltham performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a dark blue velvet afternoon gown with a corsage of orchids. She was attended by Mrs. Elizabeth G. Gray of Newton, and the best man was Charles Driscoll.

Mr. MacHugh's birthplace was Dundee, Scotland, and his parents were Michael MacHugh and Sarah (MacLaughlin) MacHugh. Mrs. Harmon was born in Woodstock, New Brunswick, the daughter of John McLellan and Levlina Lutwick.

Mr. and Mrs. MacHugh left immediately for New York and on their return will make their home at 134 Langdon rd., Newton. They will take a trip to Scotland in June.

WHITEHEAD—RANDALL

Mr. and Mrs. William Dilworth Randall of 530 Lowell ave., Newtonville, announce the marriage of their daughter Katharine Frances, to Allan Goodwin Whitehead, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Ira Whitehead of 15 Otis park, Newtonville.

Mr. Whitehead, who is an attorney, is a graduate of Newton public schools and Suffolk Law School, class 1934. Mrs. Whitehead graduated with the 1932 class of Newton High School.

Mrs. Cora Bowser Fined $200

Mrs. Cora Livingston Bowser of Lexington, former champion lady wrestler of the world, was fined $200 in the Newton Court on Wednesday by Judge Allen when she was found guilty of driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and going away after causing damage to property without revealing her identity; $100 on each count. Mrs. Bowser was found not guilty on drunkenness, not guilty of leaving the scene of an accident and causing personal injury, and the charge of not having her license in her possession was placed on file.

On the afternoon of March 10th, as Louis Golding of Walnut st., Newton Highlands, was alighting from his car near his home, a car driven by Mrs. Bowser collided with Golding's car, pinning him between the two machines, and severely injuring him. Patrolman McKenna of the Newton police, who was standing nearby, pursued Mrs. Bowser and caught up with her at a filling station in Wellesley. He testified that she again drove off when he started to question her and that the open door of her car knocked him to the ground. McKenna, together with Patrolmen O'Donnell and Turner, of the Newton police, testified that Mrs. Bowser's speech was thick when they questioned her at the police station in Wellesley after she had been arrested by police in that town.

William Fleming, chief of police in Wellesley, testified that Mrs. Bowser did not appear to be drunk when he saw her in the police station. Mrs. Bowser testified that she gave her name and address following the accident to Arthur Colgate of Medford, a brother-in-law of Golding's. She said she did not know that Golding had been injured in the collision, but she testified that the reason she drove off when McKenna started to question her in Wellesley was because he was in civilian clothes, could not produce a badge, and as she was wearing jewelry valued at many thousands of dollars, she thought an attempt was being made to rob her.

Central Club To Give Minstrel Show

Central Club, men's organization of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville, will this year present an old fashioned minstrel show as its annual production for the benefit of the memorial organ fund. This is the tenth year that the club has staged an entertainment for this purpose and marks the first time in a number of years that a show of this character and on so elaborate a scale has been attempted. It will be given on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 27 and 28 at 8 p. m. in the large social hall of the church.

Members of Central Club, under the presidency of Walter P. Phillips, have worked hard to make this production a success and the cast including chorus, quartette, specialty acts and other features, will be a large one. Arthur H. Burdick, who has been in charge of many Central Club productions, is general chairman of the show committee and the coaching has been under the professional direction of Wayne Henry Latham.

For the minstrel show E. D. Wagner will act as interlocutor and the blackface parts will be taken by George E. Hardy, Robert E. Quinlan, H. Stanley Kimball, and E. A. Carl, as end-men. Joseph R. Ludwison, director of education at Central Church, is director of the large male chorus, and will also lead the quartet. Assisting in the production and contributing to the entertainment will be an augmented Central Club orchestra under the direction of George B. Rowlings.

In addition to the minstrel show there will be many extras, including specialties, comedy and melodrama. A feature will be toe, tap and acrobatic dancing and minstrel struts by Miss Gerrie Wisbach, Newtonville's own dancing star. The olio will comprise songs and specialties by Randolph S. Merrill, Joseph R. Ludwison and Harold Billings, while the second part will be featured also by a one-act comedy and an old fashioned melodrama, the players in the latter two pieces including R. E. Brown, R. E. Sylvester, H. C. Bond, C. E. Hamlin, George E. Hardy, Charles H. Morgan, Winslow Auryansen, Thad. Coleman and Robert L. Monroe.

Following the show on Friday night only a dance will be held.

Dog Bites Letter Carrier

Edward Stearns of Eden ave., West Newton, a letter carrier at the Newton Centre postoffice reported to the police on Tuesday that he had been bitten by a dog owned by Leigh Liggett of 401 Beacon st. The animal was ordered restrained.

Tool Chest Taken From New House

A tool chest and tools valued at $75 were stolen Wednesday night from a new house being erected at 130 Cotton st., Newton. The chest was owned by Alphonse Maillet of Cross st., Waltham. Neighbors reported that a truck was seen in front of the house about 9 p. m. Wednesday.

Marriages

SLADE—BARNES: on March 14 at Newton Centre by Rev. C. N. Arbuttle; William H. Slade of 3 Ashton ave., Newton Centre, and Beatrice Barnes of 141 Cedar st., Newton.

MacLEOD—TOWNSEND: on March 8 at Newton Hlds. by Rev. Vaughan Dabney; Norman A. MacLeod of Roslindale and Jessie G. Townsend of 56 Solon st., Newton Hlds.

Fined $100 for Dangerous Driving

Peter J. Cox of 270 Cabot st., Newtonville, was fined $100 in the Newton Court yesterday by Judge Lynch for driving a car so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. He was given a suspended sentence of two months in Middlesex County prison for going away after causing personal injuries without making himself known. Cox was found not guilty of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. A charge of going away after causing damage to property without making himself known was placed on file. Several weeks ago a car operated by Cox collided with two other cars at Newton and Newtonville and then hit Beatrice Neilsen, 14, as the girl was walking on Cabot st., Newtonville. Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher testified that the man's condition at the time of the accidents was caused by oscillating blood pressure.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The last pupils' recital of the year at the Peirce School Branch of the All Newton Music School will be held on March 27th at 7:30 o'clock in the Assembly Hall. There will be various solos for piano and violin, a trio for cello, clarinet and piano and the orchestra directed by Mrs. Mary Pucicelli Scipione will play. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Miss Virginia Kenway, pianist, faculty member and graduate of the All Newton Music School, played at the meeting of the Boston Piano Teachers' Association at Steinert Hall on Feb. 28th, the following solos: Andantino from Sonata in G Minor by Schumann and Dance d'Olaef by Pich-Mangiagalli.

Robert Black, violin student of the All Newton Music School, won second prize on the Amateur Radio Hour at Odd Fellows' Hall in Newton Highlands on Feb. 15th.

In the current series of concerts given by Newton's WPA orchestra at the Public Schools, the brilliant solo work of Anna Kovitz, violinist, who is playing with orchestral accompaniment Monte's "Czardas" and other solos, has given much pleasure. Miss Kovitz is a graduate of the All Newton Music School and of the Seilege Course of The Longy School of Music.

Knitwear Show And Food Sale

The Waban Woman's Club is sponsoring a Knitwear Show and Food Sale in the Neighborhood Club House, on Monday, March 23rd, at 2:30 p. m.

Mrs. Barbara Goddard, of Newton Centre, representing the Bernat Yarns assisted by Mrs. Blackley, also of the Bernat Company, will give a showing of sportswear, day-time, and evening dress, and a few models for small girls of six to eight years old. Fifty models will be described as to amount of yarn needed and cost. Those modeling will be Mrs. Doane Cooke, Miss Caroline Cooke, and Mrs. L. Sumner Pruyn, of Newton Centre; Mrs. Raymond Hunting, of Newtonville; Mrs. James Gleason, of Brookline; Miss Ramona Gaffey, of Lincoln; Mrs. Allan Cote, of Needham; and Miss Anne Woods and Miss Grace Ver Planck, of Waban.

Doors will be open at 2:30 o'clock, with the Knitwear Show presented from 3 to 4 o'clock.

The Food Sale is in charge of Mrs. Vernon Durbin.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Frederick Steglich and her committee.

The small admission fee asked will be contributed to the Club's Philanthropic Fund. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Andrew B. Sides, or at the door.

Original Play And Competition

An original play, "When We Were Very Young," written by Mrs. Walter S. Wells, chairman of the Activities committee of the Auburndale Woman's Club, will be presented on Tuesday, March 24th, at 2 p. m. sharp, at the Auburndale Club House.

Members who are not taking part in the play will add to the color and atmosphere of the day by a competition in "Table-decorating for a Children's Party." There will be a hostess for each table, who will have three guests, and she will be assisted by another member who will act as "nursemaid." The tables are to be judged, and a prize will be given for the one considered the most outstanding.

This will be the second activity managed by Mrs. Wells, and is anticipated eagerly by all members. General arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Wells; Tables are in charge of Mrs. Rufus Estabrook, and Mrs. Ashley L. Wright; Programs, Mrs. Alice M. Stiles; Costumes, Mrs. Harry A. Every, and Mrs. James Dunlop; Play, Mrs. Herman Kreuger, and Mrs. Thomas J. Brown; Dancing, Miss Polly Godfrey; Stage, Mrs. Joseph Badger; and Music, Mrs. Lowell D. MacNutt.

Club Gives Pleasing Musicales

The Newtonville Woman's Club opened their Auditorium for a Musicales last Sunday afternoon, to which the public was invited. A large audience enjoyed the excellent program which was arranged by Mrs. Ernest L. Nichols, chairman of the Glee Club.

The Glee Club was heard in the following two groups under the direction of Mr. William Ellis Weston. The first group, "Psalm 150," by Cesar Franck; "Song of India," by Rimsky-Korsakov; and "Gloria," by Buzzi-Peccia. The second group, "Behold the Golden Sun Upsoaring," by Mozart; "Butterfly," by Cyril Jenkins; "The Galway Piper," by Fletcher; and "Awake Now, Dearest," by Duns Taylor.

Mr. Allen Carpenter assisted the Glee Club, and his rich baritone voice was heard to good advantage in the following group: "Where'er You Walk," by Handel; "Pilgrim Song," by Tschaiowsky; "Sea Rapture," by Eric Coates; "I Love Life," by Mana Zucca. Mr. Carpenter was enthusiastically recalled and sang, "Thy Beaming Eyes," by MacDowell, for an encore. Mr. Weston was at the piano.

The Boston WPA string trio, Justin Sandridge, pianist; Lewis Reed, violinist; and Bertram Silbermann, cellist; a group of professional musicians contributed the following two groups in a finished manner. First Group, "Intermezzo Russe," by Frank; "Manon Selections," by Massenet; "Hungarian Dance No. 18," by Brahms. Second Group, "Entr'acte II from Rosamond," by Schubert; "Evening Star," by Wagner; and "Slavonic Dance No. 2," by Dvorak.

Open Meetings, Also Visit to State House

The American Home committee of the Newtonville Woman's Club will sponsor an Open Meeting at the Club House on Tuesday, March 24th, at 2:15 p. m., when it will present as speaker, Dr. Fred C. Smith, Registrar and Director of Placement of Harvard Graduate School of Education, whose topic will be "Growing-up in an Uncertain World," and "what the home and parent can do about it."

Following, there will be a question period. Dr. Smith is editor of Vocational Guidance Magazine and also executive secretary of the National Vocational Guidance Association.

In the absence of Mrs. Charles W. Stewart, Mrs. Elmer J. Keene will be chairman for the afternoon. A short recital also will be presented by Mrs. Albert F. Jackson, a well-known pianist of unusual ability. Tea will be served, and the public is cordially invited. There will be no admission fee.

On the same afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock, and on Wednesday, the 25th, from 10 a. m. until 5 p. m., Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, chairman of the Art committee, has arranged for an Exhibit of Water-Colors and Crayons, the work of Nelson Chase, of Belmont. Mr. Chase is prominent as an architect, and a teacher in the Fine Arts Guild of Boston. Mr. A. W. K. Billings, Jr., of Wellesley, also a Boston architect, will show pastels and lithographs at the same exhibit.

On March 25th, at 2:30 p. m., the fourth and last of the Conferences on Education discussing the general subject, "The Library and the School," will be held at the Newton High School Library. Miss Gladys Bigelow, School Librarian, will have charge of the meeting, and tea will be served. These Conferences, sponsored by the Education committee, of which Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker is chairman, have proved most instructive and enjoyable, and all interested adults will be welcome.

Also on March 25th, the Legislative committee, of which Miss Lisette F. Henderson is chairman, will conduct a Field Trip to the State House. It is the plan to visit several of the departments of the State House and both Houses of the General Court. The group will go to a Beacon Hill Tea Room for an inexpensive luncheon.

One of Newton's Representatives, the Hon. Warren K. Brigham, will arrange to have a State House guide conduct the party on this interesting and instructive trip. All Club members are invited to join the party, meeting at either the Newtonville railroad station at 10 a. m., or at the Hall of Flags, State House, at 11 a. m.

This talk is of interest to men as well as to women, as it includes the construction of a cold frame, hot-bed, and an electric hot-bed; also sterilizing and screening, the planting of seeds, and care until plants are in the garden. Club members and their friends are invited, with no admission fee.

Dr. Samuel Macaulay Lindsay will give his last talk on World Affairs at the Club House, on Monday, March 23rd, at 8 p. m.

There will be an All-Newton Art Exhibit at the Club House beginning Monday, March 23rd, and continuing through Friday, April 17th.

The Literature Study group will meet on the 25th, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Henry B. Whittemore, 126 Glen avenue, the subject to be "The Works of Virginia Woolf, and E. M. Delafield." Mrs. Whittemore will be the leader.

The third and last lecture sponsored by the Antique committee, "Hoop-Skirts and Horse-Car Days," will be given on March 27th, at 2 o'clock, by Mr. A. H. Wilson. There will be an Exhibition of samplers. Anyone who has samplers to lend may communicate with Mrs. Richard H. Norton (C. N. 1584).

Moving Pictures Of Holland

The regular meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club will be held on Friday, March 27th, at 2:30 p. m., at the Second Church, and will be in charge of the Travel Class.

The West Newton Community Service Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Marion Kingsbury, will sing, and Mrs. Alvah Jordan will read a paper on "Holland."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ward will show the moving pictures they took in Holland, on their trip abroad, a few years ago.

Tea will be served after the meeting, by Mrs. Louis W. Bruemmer and her committee.

At the meeting of the West Newton Women's Educational Club which was held on Friday, March 13th, Miss Florence Bernard, of Brookline, gave an illustrated talk on "Money Management."

Miss Bernard, who was taking the place of the scheduled speaker, Mrs. Mary B. Rice, who was called out of town unexpectedly, was introduced by Mrs. Ernest A. Dockstader, Program chairman.

Tea was served by Mrs. Louis A. Bruemmer, Hospitality chairman, and her assistants, Mrs. Edward H. Cameron and Mrs. Francis P. Tighe. The pourers were Mrs. Clarence Eldridge and Mrs. Thorwald Peterson.

The next meeting of the Travel Class of the Club will be held on Monday, March 23rd, at 2 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren, 36 Oakdale avenue, Auburndale. The assisting hostess will be Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson.

Mrs. Frederick Waring will read her paper on "The Liege District," and a paper on "Brabant" also will be read.

Various Events

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

On March 23rd the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. will meet with Mrs. Mark Ward, of 20 Oak terrace. Mrs. Helen Ward will have for her subject for the afternoon "Motion Pictures." The Work committee for 1936-1937 will discuss the program for next year.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club will meet in the Parlors of Channing Church on Wednesday, March 25th, at 10 a. m. "Southern Memories" will be the subject of a paper by Mrs. Marvin B. Perry, and there will be a reading of the period of 1850, a family heirloom of broad satin. Mrs. Dorothy Richardson, of Boston, Contralto, will round out the program with southern melodies.

The hostesses will be Mrs. Ray A. Eusden and Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity.

Newtonville Garden Club

The Newtonville Garden Club was given a lecture and demonstration on "Seeds and Planting," by Mr. Frazier at his Greenhouse in Wellesley, on March 12th.

Each member was presented with a prepared plant in which she planted her Guinea Gold Marigolds, also given by Mr. Frazier. It is the hope that many of these seeds will appear as blooms in the Club's Fall Flower Show which will have marigolds as the specimen blooms.

The next Club meeting will be on Thursday, March 26th, at 10 a. m. at Mrs. N. A. Hottel's, 614 Walnut street, Newtonville. There will be a Dictionary Drill and Roll-Call to which each member will answer with the most satisfactory plant in her garden.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle, of 362 Wolcott street, will be the hostess for the meeting of the Review Club on Tuesday, March 24th, at 10 a. m.

There will be reviews of the following books: "Jane Adams of Hull House," by Wise, by Mrs. John E. Williams; "Attack on Mt. Everest," by Rutledge, by Mrs. Mervyn J. Bailey; and "Colonel Lawrence," by Liddell Hart, by Mrs. George P. Knapp. Through the courtesy of Dr. and Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, the Annual Guest Night of the Auburndale Review Club was held Tuesday evening, March 10th, at the Club House in Bragdon Hall, when they were welcomed with cordial greetings by the Club president, Mrs. William I. De Witt. Mrs. E. Sheehan Chase, chairman of the Program committee, presented the following delightful program of local talent. A Clarinet Solo, "Allegretto Grazioso Vivace," from a Brahms' Sonata, was given by Mr. Roger De Witt, with Mrs. Nelson Freeman at the piano.

Songs, including, "Airs from Milton's Comus," "Guardian Angels," "The Dreamy Lake," and "Der Schmied," were rendered by Mrs. Esther Stevens Kendall, with Mrs. Franklin Leland at the piano. Two impersonations were read by Mrs. Herman Krueger.

Piano solos, "The Fountain," and "Hark, Hark the Lark," were played by Miss Doris Jones. Special guests were Mrs. John F. Capron, Carl von Weber's Concertino, op. 26, were given by Mr. De Witt and Mrs. Freeman.

Then followed a very clever one-act play, by Allen Monkhouse, entitled "A Grand Cham's Diamond," with the following cast: Mr. Perkins, Mr. Ernest Brathwaite; Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Helen Brown; Polly, their daughter, Miss Dorothy De Witt; Albert, Mr. Fred Burton; and Stranger, Mr. John Allen.

The audience was very appreciative and enthusiastic, and the artists at their very best.

After the entertainment they adjourned to the Library for refreshments and a social hour. Special guests were Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director; Mrs. J. E. Parker, president of the Newton Federation; and presidents of the neighboring clubs.

Newton Community Club

The next meeting of the Newton Community Club will be held on Thursday, March 26th, at 2 p. m., in the Underwood School Hall. Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will speak on "History in the Making."

Refreshments will be served, with Mrs. Frank Dennison, Social chairman, in charge.

A meeting of the International Relations committee, Mrs. Roy Gulon, chairman, will be held on Monday, March 23rd, at 10, at the home of Mrs. Philip Cook, 12 Willard street. Mr. Robert Johnson will speak on "The New Germany."

The Newton Community Club met on Thursday afternoon, March 12th, in the Underwood School Hall, and the fascinating program, presented by Sydna White, was an outstanding one. Miss White explained the technique of Hindustani classical music, and gave a demonstration of draping the native Sari. She played on several musical instruments, and accompanied her singing with tumblers playing.

Mrs. John Capron, Twelfth District director, was present, and spoke briefly. Mrs. Arthur C. Senner, State League chairman, spoke on important legislative matters of the moment, and urged an active interest on the part of the club members.

It was announced that there would be a bag on hand at future meetings, in which members are asked to put old silk stockings, corsets, razor blades, cigar boxes, bottles, and old linen. This bag will be in charge of Mrs. Beverly Secord, and the contents will be used for work by the physically handicapped.

There was an Exhibition and Sale of work made by the people of "The Sheltered Workshop," which is managed by the Boston Tuberculosis Society. Mrs. Edgar G. Lechman, in charge of the Art committee, was in man of the Art exhibit, which was made of a large and interesting Exhibition of Foreign Art.

The social hour was in honor of all new members of the Club, and the pourers were Mrs. E. E. Bachelder, Mrs. W. B. Reid, Mrs. Frank E. Wing, and Mrs. J. W. House.

Council Meeting
To Be Held
In Miami

Preparations for the Council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Miami, April 27th to May 1st, are being perfected rapidly, with a full program of inspiring speakers and pleasurable activities which will feature "Edison Long Living," the keynote announced by Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president, when she assumed office of this national organization last June. What has been accomplished by organized women in this vital field of human endeavor, and what their plans are for an intensification of the campaign, will be discussed.

The clubwomen, through their representatives at Miami, will vote on a Resolution approving the principle and general purpose of the bill introduced by United States Representative Wesley E. Disney, of Oklahoma, to establish a National Academy of Public Affairs. Such approval was voted by the Board of Directors of the General Federation in January, with a recommendation that the State Federations study the purposes of the bill and take informed action at Miami. Several other Resolutions on important national matters will be presented.

A coast-to-coast Broadcast lasting one hour will be given through the courtesy of the National Broadcasting Company, at 11:30 E. S. T., on the morning of April 29th, with messages from Mrs. Lawson, from the chairmen of the nine major departments, from one Junior clubwoman, and from chairmen of some of the Special committees.

A speaker, not yet announced, will discuss an educational subject of national interest on "State Presidents' Night," April 29th. The session of the following evening, "National Presidents' Night," will probably feature a symposium by women in different walks of life on the subject "What Patriotism Means to Me." Music will be furnished by Miami's premier musician, Mana Zucora, who will interpret her own compositions.

The first evening of the Council, April 27th, has been designated as "Miami Night" when, in addition to the addresses of welcome and other speeches, there will be a Dinner given by the Florida women for the Board of Directors and distinguished guests. The Junior Clubwomen will entertain on the following evening, termed "Tropical Night," staging their program on an island in the pool of the Miami-Biltmore Hotel, the Headquarters of the Council meeting. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, former president of the General Federation, will speak on this occasion.

"Play Day," coming after the three steady days of business and serious discussion, will fall on May 1st, and will be spent on famous Miami Beach. Cars will be placed at the disposal of the visitors for sightseeing and visiting. Following the Council, there will be a cruise to the West Indies, of approximately one hundred clubwomen. The party will be entertained in Havana and Panama by member clubs of the General Federation.

The attractiveness of the locale, the fact that this is the first Council meeting in Mrs. Lawson's administration, and the excellent transportation facilities provided in the way of planes, buses and planes, all support Mrs. Helen Brown; Polly, their daughter, Miss Dorothy De Witt; Albert, Mr. Fred Burton; and Stranger, Mr. John Allen.

The audience was very appreciative and enthusiastic, and the artists at their very best. After the entertainment they adjourned to the Library for refreshments and a social hour. Special guests were Mrs. John F. Capron, Twelfth District director; Mrs. J. E. Parker, president of the Newton Federation; and presidents of the neighboring clubs.

In regard to reservations these should be made with the Walter H. Woods Company, Little Building, Boston, Telephone Hancock 1075. Arrangements will be made for passengers wishing to travel to Miami by airplane, leaving New York by the Clyde Line April 22nd, due at Miami the 25th; returning May 2nd, arriving at New York, the morning of the 5th.

The official tour allows for visiting Washington, St. Petersburg, Gandy Bridge, Tampa, Lake Wales, Palm Singing Tower, Palm Beach, Miami, Jacksonville, and St. Augustine, the coast ranging, on the basis of at least twenty persons, from $17.00 to $20.00. Meals at the Hotel Biltmore, the official hotel, may be obtained as follows: Breakfast, 35 cents, 50 and 75 cents; Luncheon, 75 cents and $1.00; and Dinner from $1.25 up.

Clubwomen are advised to make their arrangements immediately for travel and hotel service, for this pleasurable convention.

Harriman Talks on Europe's Dilemma

Mr. Henry I. Harriman, formerly president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Europe's Dilemma" on Monday evening, April 6th, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club. Also, Mr. Harrison Lakin, who has held important positions in the United States Department and in foreign diplomatic service abroad will give his interpretation of the crisis which is happening in Europe. At this occasion Newton residents and their friends will have the rare opportunity of hearing one of their own distinguished citizens and a current events lecturer who is in demand for speaking at universities and outstanding forum talk about a very critical international situation. Mr. Harriman will share important impressions which he has received from frequent trips to Geneva which he visits as Representative of Employers for the United States Government of the Governing Board of the International Labor Organization. The admission fee for the speaking at 8 P. M. is 35c (25c for Newton Centre Club members). Reservations for the dinner preceding the meeting at 6:45 p. m. may be made through Mrs. Lucius Thayer (1415 W. N.) before Saturday, April 4th.

ASK FOOD GIFTS FOR FLOOD VICTIMS

Chief of Police Hughes asks the Graphic to request residents of Newton who may wish to make contributions of food (other than perishable food) for victims of the flood disaster in this State, to bring such contributions to police headquarters, or notify headquarters, and members of the police department will call and get the food. Groceries and canned goods are especially desired. The food will be distributed through the medium of the Red Cross. As a sufficiency of clothing has been contributed for the present, food is more needed.

Aldermen Tour Nonantum To Study Zoning

Last Saturday afternoon members of the Board of Aldermen, city officials and Nonantum citizens made a tour of that district in connection with proposed zoning changes there. The group included Aldermen Rawson, Akins, Barwise, Lyon and McCabe; John W. Murphy, chairman of the Assessors; Herbert Kellaway of the Planning Board; Ex Aldermen Edward H. Powers, Conatanzo Lupo of the Newton Citizens Club and Edward Fahey.

The Planning Board has recommended to the Aldermen that certain districts in Nonantum be changed to general residence zone. Nearly all of Nonantum is now zoned as a manufacturing district. Much of it is exclusively residential in character and the Planning Board takes the attitude that to protect residential neighborhoods in Nonantum from intrusion by some manufacturing or business enterprise the zoning change is desirable. These neighborhoods are not adapted either for business or manufacturing and the comfort of residents and values of properties could be adversely affected by the intrusion of any such activities.

It is planned to hold a public meeting in the near future at Columbus Hall under the auspices of the Newton Citizens Club, and the Aldermen will hold a public hearing at City Hall next month on this question.

Aldermen Ask Mayor To Retain Director's Office

President Floyd of the Board of Aldermen and Alderman Bowen, chairman of the Finance Committee, awaited on Mayor Childs several days ago and urged him not to abolish the office of Director of Public Works. In his budget recommendations the Mayor made it evident he intends to take this action by not making provision for financing the office after May 1. The two Aldermen did not specify that the Mayor ought to continue the present director in office, as the selection of the director is a prerogative of the Mayor. However, it is known that they believe Mr. Ellis to be competent and would be pleased to have him retained. They told the Mayor that in their belief the new office tends to create economy and more efficiency in the conduct of the departments affected—Street, Water and Engineering Departments.

Mayor Childs suggested that if the Aldermen desire the office continued that a bill be filed with the Legislature asking that the City Charter be amended so that the new office would be legalized. At present there is no provision in the city charter for such an office and the Director can only be regarded as an advisory official without legal standing.

High River Level Affects Sewers

The high water in the Charles River caused a serious condition the past two weeks in the main line sewer which enters the big Metropolitan sewer near Albemarle rd., Newtonville. The overloaded condition of the trunk line sewer along the river caused a backing up into the Albemarle rd. sewer and this condition was evident in low areas in the districts at Newtonville, West Newton and Auburndale, along the streets where houses are connected with this sewer. About a week ago Edward Cannon, superintendent of sewers in Newton, issued a warning to persons in the areas affected to plug up plumbing outlets in the cellars of their houses. The condition has improved as the level of the water in the Charles has gradually subsided. Until normal conditions in the river return, householders are urged not to drain water-filled cellars into sanitary sewers.

Supt. of Schools Warren Reports On Needed Bldgs.

Wants New Trade School Between N'ville-W. Newton

Supt. of Schools Julius Warren has submitted his annual report to the School Committee. Included in it are his recommendations regarding new school buildings in connection with the 10 year building program which was started in 1934. Part of this program has already been accomplished through the erection of additions to the Bigelow and Day Schools, the coming addition to the Angier School, the new Carr School and the planned new school which will be built this year at Oak Hill.

Next on the program, according to the order as recommended by Supt. Warren are a new school at West Newton to replace the Franklin School; a new trade school between Newtonville and West Newton, on or near a main thoroughfare; a new administration building near the High School at Newtonville; a new school to replace the Lincoln and Eliot Schools at Newton; and an addition to the Burr School.

Last year the School Committee on two occasions specified the Franklin School district as most needing a new building, the addition to the Angier School was placed second, and a new school to replace the 82 year old Lincoln School and 51 year old Eliot School was third on the list. The Angier School addition was provided for, but the new schools to replace the old Franklin, Lincoln and Eliot Schools were sidetracked. Instead, provision was made for the new school at Oak Hill. Should the replacement of the Lincoln and Eliot Schools again be deferred and preference given to other buildings as indicated, it is certain that vigorous protests will come from Ward 1.

Regarding the Franklin and Trade Schools Mr. Warren says:

A new building should be erected to replace the Franklin School for the following reasons:

(a) The present building has outlived its usefulness. Its replacement will bring relief from the excessive maintenance costs now required.

(b) The center of population is now north of the present site, and the location of a new school in that district would provide better educational service to the community and at the same time eliminate excessive pupil travel and transportation costs to the City.

Flood Relief Activities In The Newtons

Concert at High School Sunday Afternoon at 3:30

On Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the high school auditorium a concert will be presented by entirely Newton talent. Sponsored by the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, the Newton Kiwanis Club and the Newton Rotary Club in order to provide funds for the relief of flood sufferers the proceeds of the concert will be turned over to the Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross. With all expenses donated to the cause it has been possible to arrange a program which is quite out of the ordinary and Newton music lovers are assured of a most enjoyable afternoon.

The Newton Symphony Orchestra, directed by D. Ralph MacLean, will offer two selections. A baritone solo, "The House by the Side of the Road" will be sung by Ralph Talley, accompanied by Karl Switzer. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will bring greetings from the city. A trio of faculty members of the All Newton Music School will render two selections. Members of this trio are Lillian West, pianist; Mary P. Scipione, violin; and Ruth Masters, cello. The Highland Glee Club will conclude the first part of the program with three selections.

Following a brief intermission there will be a piano solo by Mrs. Moses H. Gulesian and a reading by Hortense Creede Rallsback. A harp solo by Louise Came and two selections by the Theodorowicz trio will follow. The trio is comprised of Julius Theodorowicz, violin, Hazel Theodorowicz, cello and Carl Lamson, piano. Two selections by the combined Highland Glee Club and the Newton Symphony Orchestra will conclude the program.

Townsend Club Mass Meeting

A flood relief Mass Meeting and Concert in the interests of those stricken by the recent disaster will be held on Saturday evening, March 28th, in the auditorium of the Newton High School, Newtonville, under the auspices of the Newton Townsend Clubs.

There will be a concert by the American Legion band which has donated its services for the evening and a further musical program under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Gulesian. This will consist of a group of songs by Celia Beattie, a noted artist who has recently returned from the Pacific Coast, a member of the Hollywood Colony and who has taken part in many of the spectacular Hollywood productions.

Several speakers have volunteered their service for the meeting, among (Continued on Page 10)

ZONING PROBLEMS

Two major zoning problems confront the city at the present time. They are being considered by the planning board and proper aldermanic committees. The two problems are on opposite sides of the city and involve materially different fundamental questions. One of the problems is that on the Worcester turnpike at the Brookline line, now residential, and the other is in the Nonantum district, largely zoned as manufacturing.

Petitions have been introduced to change residential property in Chestnut Hill, adjoining the turnpike, into business zones. We have repeatedly expressed the opinion that such a procedure would be penny wise and pound foolish. While it cannot be denied that such a change would undoubtedly produce a business section of considerable commercial value it would within a comparatively short time decrease property values of nearby residential property to an unknown extent. It might conceivably mean another so-called business center in that part of the city. In this connection we cannot overlook the fact that such development might well mean the loss of business in some of our present centers which are already adequate to provide for a considerable growth of local trades. Furthermore, the development of a business section on the turnpike would mean additional congestion and greater hazards on a highway which was designed to keep through traffic out of congested areas. Thus the question becomes one of state planning and inasmuch as the area in question adjoins similar property in Brookline we believe that the Metropolitan District Commission should be vitally interested in the question. There is a measure pending before the legislature which seeks to have this Commission study the problem and until this study is made the existing zones should not be changed.

The problem in Nonantum is of a far different character. It is entirely local and instead of a possible damage to the value of residential property the effort is being made to increase the property values. When the zoning ordinance was adopted we were in a period of industrial expansion and it was believed that a normal growth of the city would show a parallel growth in manufacturing in this section of the city. It requires but a slight knowledge of the facts to realize that much of the property in Nonantum, originally zoned as manufacturing, will never be used as such and consequently it is now possible to make desirable changes. There are certain areas adjoining churches, homes and other properties where the existing manufacturing zones may well be restricted to general or private residence zones. There are other properties where it is desirable that they retain their manufacturing status. Only by a comprehensive survey, which we understand is being made, can the desirable results be effected. Residents of the section await with interest the report of the committee which we believe will strive to solve the problem for the best interests of those concerned.

THE ENJOYMENT OF FLOWERS

We were among the thousands who visited the flower show this week, which annually ushers in the spring season. Here in Newton it seems as though the citizens as a whole are more flower conscious than in some other localities. Throughout the city one can find gardens of almost every description. They are beginning to receive the attention that the passing of winter always demands and soon Newton will again be representative of its name as the Garden City. Somehow or other flowers bring enjoyment that is impossible of description. It may be the expression of beauty, it may be the tender side of nature, or it may be the desire to cultivate that which is good. Whatever else it may be, however, it brings a feeling of faith and the re-creation of a spirit divine.

NEWTON RESPONDS TO RELIEF APPEALS

It is gratifying to note the almost spontaneous response to appeals for the relief of sufferers of the greatest catastrophe in the history of the state. The appeal by the Red Cross for cash contributions resulted in the quota for Newton Chapter being readily raised. The activities of the Masonic fraternity detailed in the adjoining column were indicative of the spirit which Newton persons displayed. Further efforts such as the concert planned by the local service clubs and other organizations deserve the whole-hearted support of Newton citizens. Let the good work go on until the suffering is appeased and the frightful experiences of those in the stricken areas becomes but a memory of the past.

There are said to be 3,000,000 rundown houses in this country, but the breakdown condition of an equal number of automobiles seems to cause more distress.

And when the early Americans objected to taxation without representation they didn't realize how much worse it would be with representation.—Dallas News.

It develops that the oldest war on which our government is still giving pensions is that of 1812. Hurrah! The Revolution is paid for.—Atlanta Constitution.

Among those who disapprove of the alphabetical agencies might be included Junior, who is not fully convinced of the value of the A. B. C.

Appeals for relief work for the thousands of persons left homeless and in dire need for food and clothing from the devastating flood conditions in northern and western Massachusetts, last week, found ready response in Newton. The appeal for donations in Newton, Newton's quota of $2000 for the Red Cross was oversubscribed. As the $3,000,000 sought in the initial appeal is inadequate, further donations are sought. They may be sent to any banking office in the city. Saturday evening the Masonic fraternity of Newton organized a committee to assist in the handling of food and clothing for the flood sufferers. Headquarters were opened at the Masonic Temple in Newtonville on Sunday morning. Newspapers were notified, radio stations asked to broadcast, and announcements were made in any local churches appealing for donations. The response was prompt and early in the week the headquarters were as busy as a beehive with workers sorting, checking, and packing the various assortment of articles. Working directly with the Red Cross, three truckloads were sent to stricken areas in Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill before Tuesday morning. Fire, police and postoffice departments assisted wherever necessary and local merchants contributed sandwiches, food and coffee for the workers. Ladies from the Newtonville Woman's Club aided in sorting and packing the garments and food-stuffs. The committee directing the work is composed of representatives from Dalhousie Lodge, Normbega Lodge, Newton Royal Arch Chapter, Cryptic Council, and Gethsemane Commandery under the leadership of Mr. Harry Harding. The headquarters closed yesterday.

Other plans are being made to aid in further relief of flood sufferers. The Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and the Federation of Women's Clubs in Newton are sponsoring a concert to be given in the high school auditorium on Sunday afternoon. The program will be presented in its entirety by Newton talent and will include selections by soloists, musical troupes, pianists, dramatic readings, a harp solo, and glee club singing. Tickets, posters, and all other usual expenses of such concerts have been donated by various members of these organizations and the entire proceeds will be turned over to the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. On Saturday evening the Newton Townsend Clubs will hold a mass meeting in the high school auditorium. A concert by the American Legion band, whose services have been donated, and a musical program under the direction of Mrs. M. H. Gieslain, will be supplemented by a speaking program. No admission will be charged but proceeds from a collection will be sent to the Newton Red Cross Chapter.

A painting by Miss Dorothy Emmons of Bennington st., Newton, has recently been added to the permanent collection of the New Haven Paint and Clay Club which is now housed at the New Haven Public Library. Dean Keller of the Yale School of Fine Arts is president of this club which is now holding its 35th exhibition. The painting, "After the Rain," was given first and unanimous choice by the jury of selection. Miss Emmons' painting was recently shown at the exhibition of Boston Copley Society.

The achievements of Newton young people in various colleges continue to become a matter of record. Recently Miss Jean Van Horn Warring of Brearley rd., Newton, attained Phi Beta Kappa at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine. Miss Warring, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal G. Warring, is one of thirteen seniors whose names were read by President Clay at a morning chapel service. Having merited membership in the honorary scholastic society, besides her scholastic proficiency, Miss Warring has been an active worker in the Christian Service Club and an assistant in psychology in which latter field she has been carrying on honors work.

A Newton Centre young woman will study at the University of Heidelberg as the result of winning a Wellesley Scholarship. She is Miss Betty Van Roosen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Van Roosen of Crawford st. She will leave for Europe about the middle of June. Miss Hilda M. Allen of Newton Highlands has been awarded the Emma Josephine Arnold Archaeological Fellowship, one of the principal awards annually bestowed on students of outstanding ability at Pembroke College. At Sweet Briar College in Virginia selections for participants in the annual May festival have been made. Miss Helen Rae of West Newton, a senior, will be a member of the May Queen's court. At Brown University the selection of members of the Day Committee includes the name of Norman Appleby, Jr., of Newton Centre, and Jackson Skillings, also of Newton Centre, has been named chairman of the Junior prom committee.

In the spirit of wider fellowship and communion in religion, and especially as a mark of recognition and welcome to the newly organized Temple Emmanuel, a union service will be held next Sunday morning in the Newton Center Unitarian Church at 10:55 a. m. The congregation of Temple Emmanuel accepted the invitation of the Unitarian Society to unite in the service of worship. Rabbi Samuel J. Abrams of the Beacon Street Temple, Brookline, will preach on "The American Way." Rabbi Leo Shubow of Temple Emmanuel will take part in the service which will be in charge of Dr. A. C. Dieffenbach of the Unitarian Church.

Social Minutes

Occasionally we leave the realm of reporting the strictly frivolous and study the more serious side of life. All this is the result of a group of energetic women who set their minds on accomplishing what may seem to many to be the impossible—such is the case of the Ladies' Helping Hand—when they conceived the idea of having William R. Scharton, Esq., the most prominent criminal lawyer on the Massachusetts Bar speak to them at their Monday meeting. A rather full program followed. The meeting was held at the Temple Mishkan Tefila and Mrs. Maurice Sapers presided.

Conference and Lunch

Decidedly on the informative side was the luncheon of the New England Women's Association of Hebrew Teachers College. The luncheon was held at the College on Crawford st. and Mr. Samuel A. Nemozoff, noted for his splendid work as principal of the Night School Extension classes of Bureau of Jewish Education discussed "The Place of Parents in Jewish Schools." This is the second conference when a luncheon of this type has been arranged for this large group. Assisting in one way or another were Mrs. Max Leavitt, Mrs. H. H. Rubenowitz and Mrs. Louis Hurwich. Among the well-knowns attending were Mrs. James Albert, Mrs. Louis H. Epstein, Mrs. A. I. Finkelstein, Mrs. Maurice Sapers, Mrs. S. W. Myers, Mrs. Morris Frank and Mrs. Nathan H. Friedman.

Newton Temple Sisterhood

The Tennis and Squash Club on Commonwealth ave. was filled to capacity at the general meeting of Sisterhood Temple Emanuel of Newton on Monday afternoon, March 9, to hear Mrs. Samuel Josolowitz, field secretary of the Jewish Welfare Board.

Mrs. Louis Shulman read the opening prayer. Mrs. Louis Hellman reported on the Happy Day Fund. Mrs. David C. Shertzer on the Purim party given to 245 Jewish children at the John Ward School. Mrs. Otto Spiller rendered the final report on the dance and fashion show and announced that the prize for the sale of the largest number of tickets went to Mrs. Eli Brilliant. Mrs. Ira Nelson, president, was adjudged the member who procured the greatest amount of ads, but declined the prize which went to Mrs. R. Cohn.

Newton Republican, March 31, 1877
All hands are pumping. Three feet of water is reported in many Newton cellars. The late rains were responsible for filling the cellars.

As the 12 o'clock train was approaching the Newton station on Monday a steam pipe attached to the boiler and running through the fire box broke, filling the furnace with steam and bursting the door open. The cab was instantly filled with steam. The fireman jumped through the cab window onto the pilot, escaping injury. Engineer Sanderson with presence of mind, put on the airbrake and then jumped from the engine. His wrist was severely scalded. Fortunately for the passengers the train stopped.

Work on laying the new water mains is now progressing under the direction of Contractor Mahanna, Inspector H. N. Hyde and Supt. Richardson of Newtonville. Mr. Mahanna has about 30 men employed at Newton Centre and 20 at Newton Highlands. Mr. Richardson with 30 men is at work on the main at Brookside ave., Newtonville. Work was resumed about a week ago, but because of bad weather only one full day's work has been accomplished. Three Italians are employed on the work.

At a meeting of the Common Council last Monday evening the Water Board reported an important amendment to the ordinances which would give it power to appoint and remove all officials and employees of the Water Department, and fix their compensation. It also provides that water meters shall be placed on all services, and that the city shall set, maintain and renew all meters. An order was offered and referred to the Water Board and Highway Committee for joint action establishing the pay for all able-bodied city laborers at $2 per day; providing that they shall receive 20 cents an hour for any part of a day's work, and that any laborer who is not able to do an average day's work shall be paid such compensation as may be fixed by the superintendent employing him and at a price less than $2 per day.

Letter to Editor of Graphic:
"The barbers of Newton and Watertown are agitating the question of Sunday closing. There are 10 barber shops in the two places and the majority of them want to close Sundays. The desire for Sunday closing is spreading all over the State. There is a law prohibiting shops from opening Sundays and in many places it is being enforced. Now, most barber shops close at noon Sundays, and then it takes until 1 and sometimes 2 o'clock before the barber can get away. Nine out of ten of the late Sunday customers can get their shaves on Saturday if they wait to, but they wait until the last minute, knowing that if they get inside a shop before 12 on Sundays they will get shaved. If the same men knew they could not get shaved Sundays they would find time to get shaved Saturdays. One barber says that if he closes Sundays his customers will get mad, buy razors and shave themselves. A few might, but they would soon get sick of that. Let the barber shops close Sundays and in 3 months people will forget they ever kept open on that day."
G. S. Shipp, Nonantum.

Powers' Paragraphs

As some compensation for the devastating floods it appears that we are having an early spring. The toads started over a week ago to pipe their roundelay, robins have been singing hereabouts, crocuses have pushed above ground and early shrubs started to bloom.

The past winter will long be remembered. Until the middle of January it was one of the mildest and most open on record in Boston and most of New England. Then, on January 19th came a blizzard and heavy fall of snow. More snowstorms followed and continual freezing weather until March. Ideal conditions prevailed for winter sports. Ice was several feet thick on lakes and rivers and snow from 3 to 5 feet deep covered much of northern New England. We were told that in some of the notches in the White Mountain region there would be skiing until June or July. Much of this region paid a heavy price for these "ideal" winter sports the past few weeks. Rapid thawing plus heavy rains caused the thick ice and deep snow to make raging torrents out of even brooks and minor rivers and those of us who saw such streams as the Connecticut or Merriam filled with huge cakes of ice and surging to new heights, will not soon forget the spectacle. From now on there will be real work to be done in New England by men obtaining relief through the WPA and other Federal or local relief activities. The younger men who have been killing time on projects of little or no value can and should be put to work in places devastated by the flood, or in creating reservoirs to prevent floods. Those among them who have been loafing practically all of the time should be made to do at least some work—or refused relief.

Any prospective candidate for public office who will attempt to make political capital through the misfortune of others is a cheap specimen of humanity. If this weather keeps up don't delay too long to plant your gardens or give preliminary attention to your lawn. The large and growing car population of Newton will appreciate your efforts. Judging from the number of small boys we have seen lately playing as bandits, G men or some characters which require that they shall be "shooting" toy pistols, there must have been some movies displayed lately which inspired the youngsters. We would like to see the millennium. But we wait. And we doubt if anyone else will either in this or future generations. It would be wonderful if everyone who is willing and able to work could obtain employment with excellent working conditions, and receive income or wages sufficient to meet all reasonable needs, allow for leisure and provide for old age or sickness. During the latter part of the last century and the early years of this century the improvement in social and economic conditions in this country indicated that we were moving toward a standard of living which tended somewhat in the direction of the millennium. Then came the World War which was followed by a hectic period of apparent prosperity. And then followed the collapse which has brought misery and suffering to millions; a large percentage of whom are men and women who formerly were industrious and frugal. It is natural that many of these people are discouraged. They cannot meet their expenses and have had to be aided from public relief funds. They worry as to what the future holds for them. There are others who have bravely struggled along trying to conserve what they have saved so that they can continue independent. Many of this class are undergoing real privations.

In view of these conditions it is hard to work up any real sympathy for persons holding permanent jobs who receive good salaries, when you hear them whining because they cannot obtain further increases in wages or better working conditions. They should thank God that they belong to the minority who have not been placed in poverty or reduced circumstances. Perhaps they would if for a year or less they had to struggle along as have multitudes of people for the past six years. And the impoverished we refer to are the decent people, not the chisellers who are better off by receiving Federal or local relief than they were in normal times.

Now that movements are underway to curb unnecessary blowing of horns during late night and early morning hours, why not start a movement to curb the use of super-noise horns on motor vehicles. Such horns, formerly used only on interstate busses whose owners and drivers have been permitted to appropriate public highways to operate these huge vehicles at fast speeds than do railroad trains on private right of ways, are now in frequent use even on small cars. Cars which come equipped with reasonably loud horns, but on which nerve wracking horns are substituted by self-imposed owners who want to bully other motorists out of their way. Cars of one popular make of automobile whose manufacturers have spent much money co-operating in some of the national drives for highway safety, are equipped with stentorian horns. This is not consistent, because the egoist who uses one of these "gettolloutofmyway" horns, is usually a person who wants to burn up the road.

Easily Recognized

No poet, meteorologist, writer of fashion news or any of those especially qualified by nature or profession, need tell spring is here. I have seen for myself. Here and there in the gardens that ornament our Newton homes have I observed lone figures, spookily poking about among the leaf-covered earth and visioning the beautiful flowers that before long will blossom where now it is bare and soggy. It is an optimism which I wish I possessed, for these good people have not only foresight but patience and industry. They like to see things grow and are willing to help them.

Occasionally I hear the ladies discussing the work of a dress designer or milliner and some choice creation they have or are about to obtain to make more glorious their personal charms. In rare instances a man will confide in me that he is to have a new spring suit and flatter me by asking my opinion of the handsomest and most suitable cloth and pattern. Spring is here, because motorists talk of cars. The man who is to have a new one tells you about that; the man who cannot afford this year's model explains how marvelous his old car has always performed and how many miles he gets out of a gallon of gas.

All this helps to satisfy me that as wild and weird and uncertain as this world has come to be, people, after all, are just the same. If there is any sign of spring that upsets me it is the man with an itinerary of a trip through the British Isles this summer. Him I envy—the lucky stiff.

"Pleased to Meet You"

One of our foremost Republican candidates for nomination for high office—and you may be going to vote for him—did me the honor to confer, "I'm so busy I'm not getting the exercise I'd like to, but the muscles of my right hand are in wonderful condition."

"Peanuts Five a Bag"

There was a time, some of you will remember, when peanut roasters whistled enticingly from in front of a fruit store and if you were not strong to resist temptation you squandered a nickel or a dime. They were, and are, now, as far as I am concerned, highly esculent, these peanuts. Today I find them snugly tucked in cellophane, more aristocratic in dress and price. Tho' I do not fall as readily as when the cellophane played I still like them. Apart from this selfish reference, I wonder if the taste of our fellow citizens has changed. It was not uncommon to see peanut shells cluttering a corner, the floor of a train or street car and maybe in a theatre. But husks are seldom visible now. In many cases peanuts are shelled and salted for us. I think, however, those whose jaw-power I always envied, have switched to lifesavers or chosen from the innumerable wafers obtainable in various colors and flavors.

It is not that I long for a return of some of the more democratic of the older habits and appetites. Not at all. It is that there is always something reassuring, honest and comforting in the munching and crunching of a mouthful of peanuts.

Suitable Protection

It was for years and occasionally now is a favorite theme of cartoonists and drawers of comic strips to pillory the talkative barber. He may be dead but he has nothing on the gabby customer. I was in the chair for a full ceremonial in a Newton shop the other day and witnessed a woman customer chattering away at the practically silent barber. If barbers are obliged to put up with much of that sort of thing they should be allowed to wear gas masks.

The Other Picture

If humor is good for us so is pathos. Even tragedy may bring its benefits. That was revealed to me very definitely this very week by the circumstances of the awful flood in our State. An energetic news writer of my close and personal acquaintance, sent by his paper to perform the disagreeable task of penetrating the flood stricken area, entered upon his duties as just another assignment to be covered thoroughly and well. Yet it was impersonal. He was writing for the public and would give them his best. Even so, the misfortune of others need not make one sentimental over one's work. Slightly calloused and cynical, though highly efficient is this young man.

He dropped into see me on his way back from Western Massachusetts. I could understand his weary, gaunt appearance and was not the least surprised when he told me he had averaged about four hours sleep in 48 throughout a week. Not a word about his many discomforts, trials and hardships. "That was nothing," he said when I asked him if he hadn't been up against it. Instead he talked of the misery and suffering he had witnessed. And there were tears in the eyes of this calloused reporter. "I want you to do me a favor," he went on. "If you ever hear me complaining about anything or ever whining about my hard luck, I want you to say, 'Connecticut valley flood, Connecticut valley flood.'"

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

The last pupils recital of the season at the Claffin School Branch of the All Newton Music School will be held on Friday evening, April 3rd at 7:30 o'clock. There will be solos for the piano, violin and cello and a beautiful trio for cello, clarinet and piano. The public is cordially invited and there is no admission fee.

An All Newton Music School Trio composed of Elizabeth Duthie violin, Daphne Kenway cello, and Evelyn Karol piano furnished Irish music for the Lend A Hand Masque "The Dragon" given at the Newton High School Assembly Hall on March 21st and also played between the acts.

Miss Evelyn Karol pianist and student in the All Newton Music School played at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday, March 3rd the following selections: Gavotte by Handel, Scherzo by Mendelssohn and Prelude by Bach.

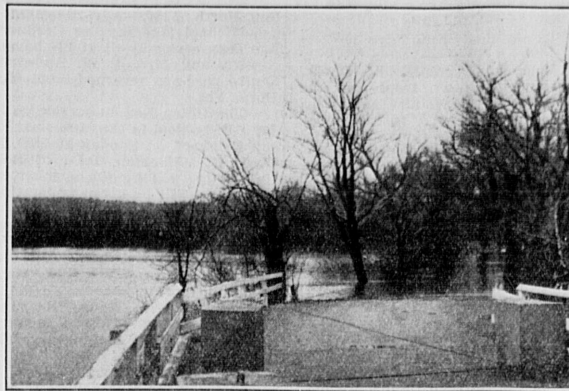

The MacCarty Trio composed of Barbara MacCarty violin, John MacCarty clarinet, both students in the All Newton Music School, and Mrs. MacCarty piano, played between the acts for the Corpus Christi players at the Auburndale Club on March 16th and 17th.

The following week the first set of Toxoid Diphtheria Immunization Clinics will be held for babies on the following dates:

Tuesday, March 31, at West Newton Library; Wednesday, April 1, at Twombly House; Thursday, April 2, at Stearns School; Friday, April 3, at Bowen School.

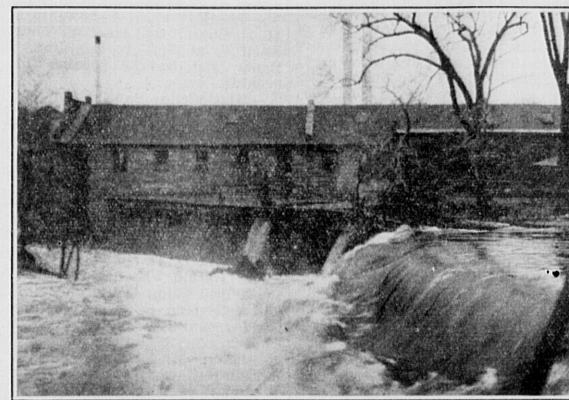

Tuesday, April 7, at West Newton Library; Wednesday, April 8, at Twombly House; Thursday, April 9, at Stearns School; Friday, April 10, at Bowen School.

Flood Conditions on Charles River

The Charles River, like most other streams in New England, reached the highest levels on record during the floods of the past three weeks. The pictures printed in this issue of the GRAPHIC show Kenrick Bridge at Oak Hill where the river separates Newton and Needham. The bridge abuts the Newton water reservation and the meadows on the Needham side were covered over a wide area. The road which runs from Oak Hill to Needham and which passes over the bridge is called Nahant on st. on the Newton side and Kenrick st. on the Needham side. It can be seen in the picture that the road was covered with water on the Needham side. At one time the water in the river rose to the level of the bridge flooring, and to keep the structure from being washed away, Street Commissioner Mahoney had ten cement blocks, each weighing 2 1/2 tons placed on the bridge. Some of these show in the photograph.

The other photograph reproduced in this issue is that of the Charles pouring over the dam and falls at Newton Lower Falls. An equally impressive sight was the river surging over the dam at Newton Upper Falls and rushing through Hemlock Gorge. A barrier of sand bags was placed at the sluiceways above the lower dam at Upper Falls near the turnpike when the water threatened to eat away these outlets. At Bemis the high water entered the lower floor of the former Aetna Mills building and emerged through windows at the easterly end.

Rotary Club

At the luncheon Monday, Newton Rotarians heard Mr. Samuel P. Allison talk on "Yourself, Incorporated." Mr. Allison is Director of the School of Positions at the Babson Institute, Wellesley and he outlined some of the principles upon which the school operates. The fundamental premise is: not to do something for a man but rather to help him to do something for himself.

The school had its inception in the early days of the depression when Mr. Babson was pondering the plight of the unemployed in the business and professional world and seeking some solution for their problem. A self-analysis by the individual, an objective check of this by a disinterested outsider—as represented by the officials of the school, and a general re-education for other openings that may present themselves constitute the "method" of the school. Some of the men who enter the school are really beaten but a great many simply need the chance to think things through and talk things out with someone else. The "students" range in age from upperclassmen in college to men of 40 or 50 year old, and many of them have been holding positions carrying salaries of $5000 to $7500.

The school has found that too many men suffer from having developed themselves entirely along one line—and usually a very narrow one; and that they are in no way prepared for the adjustments that are inevitable with any shift in economic or technical conditions. Hence they try to broaden the training of a man so that he will more readily fit into a world where "the only permanent thing is change."

"Victor Hugo" was the subject of a lecture by Mlle. Grenillot on Tuesday morning.

At the students' recital on Wednesday evening, the program was opened with a piano solo by Elizabeth English of Norwood. Among the other numbers were vocal solos by Janet Hayes of Norwood, Adele de l'Etoile of Medford, Barbara Hersey of Hingham, Carolyn Young of Auburndale, Margaret Christie of Shrewsbury and Ruth Rice of Gleasondale.

Kiwanis Club

At Tuesday's meeting of Newton Kiwanis, one of its own members, Raymond A. Green, Assistant Principal of the Newton High School, was speaker of the day. Mr. Green took for his topic, "An Average Citizen Looks at the Constitution." The speaker certainly had more than average knowledge, information, enthusiasm, and respect of and for the Constitution. Tracing its origin back to the dark days which followed the American Revolution, and describing conditions under the impotent Articles of Confederation, Mr. Green held the undivided attention of his hearers in a timely exposition of the facts.

Contrary to the mistaken view held by some people, it was pointed out by the speaker, the Supreme Court does not legislate—it simply reviews. Although Congress has enacted more than 20,000 laws during the years of its existence, the Supreme Court has said "no" on about sixty only. Mr. Green is convinced the Constitution is a living document, has not been outworn by the years, and it, combined with our legislative and executive branches, provides the best form of government for a free people.

The early part of the meeting was given over to an explanation of the part to be taken by the Newton Kiwanis Club in sponsoring the Concert to be held next Sunday afternoon in the Newton High School Auditorium at 3:30 p. m. for the benefit of flood sufferers.

Patrolman Taffe Bitten By Dog

Patrolman Ray Taffe of the Newton police received a severe bite on his left ankle on Monday morning when he was capturing a supposedly mad dog on Aspen ave., Auburndale. Taffe and Patrolman Munroe had gone to the street after police headquarters had been notified of the dog's peculiar actions. After Taffe was bitten, Munroe captured the dog by means of a noose attached to a pole. The animal was placed under observation by the city veterinarian and Taffe received medical treatment.

Dr. Simm, coach of the wrestling team, is entering nine wrestlers in the New England District Olympic Wrestling Semi-final tryouts being held at Providence Y. M. C. A. this Friday and Saturday. They are: Hardy Curran, present 123-lb. class "Y" Two State Champion; Warren Storer, 134-lb. class "Y" Two State Champion; Ernest Sharpe and Arthur Dastkino, 145-lb. class; Tony Paglia, Bob Young, Angelo Bonica, and George LaRose, 158-lb. class; and Walter Gainer, "Y" Two State 191-lb. class champion.

Volley Ball

The preliminary matches for this section in the Y. M. C. A. Two State Volley Ball Championship will be held at Newton "Y" this Saturday afternoon. Newton will meet Boston at three o'clock with the winner meeting Somerville. Newton's team will be picked from the following men: R. J. Rutherford, R. D. Stauffer, Andrew Kasper, Jr., James B. Rogers, William Thomson, Morton E. Bunker, Boyd Hayden, William A. Hitchcock, C. H. Hurley, and Fred Teutberg.

Squash Racquets

The quarter-final and semi-final matches have been played in the Handicap Squash Racquets Tournament being held at the Newton "Y". In the quarter-finals Roland S. Coombs defeated Kenneth Gerritsen 3 to 1, Vaughn Pipes defeated Paul McKinnon 3 to 1, Newton C. Burnett defeated Arklay Richards 3 to 1, and Charles L. Goodrich defeated Roy Dauer 3 to 2. In the semi-final matches Roland S. Coombs defeated Vaughn Pipes 3 to 1, and Charles L. Goodrich defeated Newton Burnett 3 to 1.

Y. M. C. A.'s Help in Flood Relief

The Y. M. C. A.'s of Massachusetts have responded nobly to the call to help people driven out of their homes during the recent floods. In Athol, East Deerfield, Haverhill, Northampton, Lowell, Springfield, West Springfield, the Railroad Branch in West Springfield, and Springfield College all have thrown open their buildings to refugees and in many cases the buildings have been used as headquarters for relief work. Only two associations have sustained extensive damage to their buildings and equipment.

Weston Autoist Fined $125

Frederick J. Walsh, 22, of 108 South ave., Weston, was fined $125 in the Newton court last Friday and given suspended sentences of a year and 10 days in jail when he was found guilty of several violations of automobile laws. He was fined $50 and given a suspended sentence of one year for driving on endanger; $50 and a suspended sentence of 10 days for driving after his license had been revoked. For refusing to stop when signalled to do so by a policeman, he was fined $25. For driving without a registration, his case was placed on file.

Patrolman Mague testified that on the night of March 7 when he attempted to stop Walsh on River st., West Newton, for speeding, the Weston youth's car was steered so close toward him that he was forced to jump on the sidewalk to avoid being run down. Mague commandeered a car and overtook Walsh after a long chase.

M. C. O. F. Aids Flood Victims

A meeting of members of M. C. O. F. Courts in the Newtons, Waltham and Watertown was held last Sunday afternoon at Our Lady's High School, Newton, and plans devised to collect money and clothing for victims of the floods along the Connecticut and Merrimack valleys. It was arranged that some members would be in attendance at Elks' Hall, Newton, daily to receive contributions.

Newton Highlights

The baseball pulse ought to beat a little faster at Newton High this season, what with every game being a league game, Arlington and Waltham have broken into the hitherto exclusive Suburban League, joining Newton, Brookline, Rindge Tech and Cambridge Latin to make an interesting hexagonal circuit. Each team will play each opponent twice. Newton High has scheduled no games outside the league.

Coach L. P. "Jeff" Jones, who sports the uniform of the Philadelphia Athletics, has been working with his veterans and seniors for two weeks already, and has them playing two practice games every afternoon. Monday he intends to cut the present large squad down to twenty-four, and a week later he will name a varsity of sixteen players. Coach Jeff has lost Pete Morrison, Bill Spilman, Sylvan Simon and some others of last year's up-and-down team, which had a way of looking good one day and very bad the next, in spite of some individual brilliance. The veterans from that team are Bert Marrazzo, hard hitting shortstop, Clarence Cormier, outfielder, Jim Tornabene, pitcher, and Charles "Red" Callanan, third baseman. Phil "Mucker" Green, a transfer from Trade School, is labelled by Jeff as a promising pitcher. Howie Milner, John McHugh and Emmas, another Trade School contribution, are the leading catchers. Martin and O'Hara, the latter a strong hitter, also have looked good in practice games. Bert Marrazzo, the best all-around player of last year's team, is improving all the time and is going to be Newton's first candidate for all-scholastic honors. No permanent captain will be elected until the end of the season, although a captain problem will be chosen before every game.

The Bowdoin Interscholastic track meet, which the GRAPHIC had practically conceded to Newton High last Friday, was postponed the same day, due to uncertain conditions in Brunswick during the flood. Coach Don Enoch called the Newton High season to a halt at the news, and announced that outdoor track would begin next week.

Coach Doctor Oscar Martin is putting off the election of hockey captain at Newton High until after the first couple of games of the next season have been played. This seems like the sensible thing to do. Paul

Brown and Jack Herrick are the leading candidates. One more hockey item and we hang up the skates for the year. Frank "Junie" Stubbs scored the tying goal in the victory of the United States Olympic six over the Boston Olympics by 2-1 last Sunday at the Garden, and Frank Spain got an assist on Elbridge Ross's winning goal.

Priscilla Ballou, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray H. Ballou of Lenox st., West Newton is a member of the varsity basketball team at Simmons College.

Tax Abatement On Mount Ida School Refused

The Newton Board of Assessors has refused the petition of the Mount Ida School, Inc., for exemption from the payment of taxes on properties at Newton assessed for $73,000. The property affected includes the former Cobb mansion on Bellevue st. which had been used as a dormitory, and a large lot of land. The main school buildings on Bellevue st. are now owned by the West Newton Savings Bank. Some years ago taxes were paid on all the Mount Ida School property. Later, in common with most private schools in Newton, this school asked for exemption from taxes as an educational institution not run for profit, and abatements were granted. The school closed in 1934 and last year taxes were assessed on the property in question. Abatement was asked on them and is being refused. This year taxes were again levied. The assessors contend there are no pupils at the school. The owners of the property state that some educational activities are still being conducted.

Jail Sentence For Hitting Old Man

John J. Pendergast, 28, of Cummings rd., Newton Centre, was sentenced to serve four months in Middlesex County prison by Judge Cuniff in the Waltham court last Monday when he was found guilty of drunkenness and assaulting Charles Wall, 87, of 145 Adams st., Waltham. Wall testified that Pendergast entered his home last Saturday night, hit him and knocked him down. Pendergast denied having made the assault and appealed the verdict.

Our Lady H. S.

Awarded Legion Prize

The American Legion announced this week that Miss Margaret McDade, a senior of the High School of Our Lady, has been awarded first prize in a recent Legion contest, opened to all Newton schools, public and parochial. The prize of five dollars will be presented by representative of the Ladies Auxiliary in the near future, at an assembly of the entire student body of the school.

Edward Callahan of the class of '37" received honorable mention in the contest.

The subject of the essay was "How American Youth Can Co-operate with Fidae to Prevent Propaganda of International Hostilities." The Fidae is an international confederation of the veterans of allied countries.

Miss McDade is a pupil of the classical department at Our Lady's High School. She has a fine scholastic record and is well regarded by both teachers and students. She is also a member of the girls' varsity debating team and has been elected by vote to represent the school in the annual oratorical contest for girls to be held in April at Emmanuel College, Boston. The subject of her oration is "Saint Rose of Lima."

This is the fifth consecutive year that a student of Our Lady's High School has won the essay prize, thus establishing a remarkable record. Last year Miss Lind now a freshman at Regis College was awarded the prize and her essay was selected as the second best in the entire state of Massachusetts.

Irish Essay Contest

An invitation to participate in the annual Irish Essay contest under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Ancient Order of Hibernians, was received by Our Lady's High and Grammar Schools. For the high school, the topic was "Irish Missionaries in Europe" and for the grammar school "Padraic Pearse". The following have submitted essays: Thomas McCauley, Francis Welch, Carmela Gentile, Elizabeth Farragher, Rose Meade, Gloria and Virginia Deagle.

Senior Play Preparations

The annual senior play will be presented in the High School auditorium on April 14. The drama for this year is the well-known musical comedy, "Forty-Five Minutes from Broadway" by George M. Cohan. The play is being coached by Miss S. Theresa McCarthy, teacher of elocution and dramatics.

Tuberculin Tests

The tuberculin test for the prevention of tuberculosis will be given in May to the pupils of the seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades of Our Lady's School. The pupils of these grades received slips to be taken home and signed by the parents for approval.

Warren Jr. High

An Amateur Hour was presented on March 12, 1936. Mr. Scarborough impersonated Major Edward Bowes, and Jack Kellar, his assistant, was in charge of "the show." After a brief introduction by John Hay, the amateurs one by one, displayed their talents. The acts were as follows:

Helen Otowichits, Piano; Jean Johnson, She didn't propose; Rose Karol, Baton twirling; The Manter Sisters, Tap dancing; Girls' Trio, "I'm Shooting High"; Eleanor Ferguson, "Alone"; Esther Wale, "Hello"; Ralph Burns, The Professor; MacDonal and MacLaughlin, Jokes; Coler's Quartette, "Those Pals of Mine"; Mary Jane Stimis, "Moon Over Miami"; Giles Threadgood, "Imitations"; Norma Solomon, Acrobatics; Robert Barron, Bull whip; Jane Ricketson, Tap dancing; Dorothy Kovitz, Piano; The Rhythmic Ringers, Orchestra.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs was the guest speaker at the March 20th assembly. Mr. Scarborough introduced him to the students and teachers of Junior I, II, and III. Mayor Childs' address was on the subject "Why Are We Here?"

Plans are now being made for the Annual Music Festival scheduled for April 3, the band, orchestra and glee club are faithfully practicing—Parents' Night for April 14, and the Girls' Gym Meet for May 11, and the Pops Concert for May 22.

Bigelow Junior H. S.

The first half of the assembly program on Wednesday, March 18, was devoted to a celebration of St. Patrick's Day. Martha MacDowall gave the history of Ireland; Mary Louise Underwood told why we celebrated St. Patrick's Day; Donald Ferguson gave brief biographies of prominent Irishmen in America, and William Ford recited an Irish monologue. A group of girls from the 7th grade Physical Education classes danced to an Irish air. Theodore and Arthur Trumble played appropriate harmonica selections, and the orchestra played the Londonderry Air.

The second part of the program was a play, "His First Shave," presented by the 8th grade Dramatic Club. The characters were: Donald Colligan, Ruth Kaufman, Kenneth Bryant, Eleanor Luchini, and Ruth Hunter.

The Bigelow Banner Club went on a tour of the Christian Science Publishing House as part of their club activity. The Travel Club visited the Connick Stained Glass Factory in Boston. They were shown all the processes in the making of stained glass windows. The Girls Sports Club had a bowling tournament at the Newton Y. M. C. A. Virginia Weston had high score.

Bigelow was on the air Thursday, March 19, at 1:30 p. m., over WBZ. The subject for discussion was "Justification of the So-called Fads and Frills of Modern Education." Chairman and announcer was Bessie Bacon. The program was as follows: School Song; Dramatization, Laura Lord and Bessie Bacon; The Manual Training Movement, Donald Ferguson; Physical Education for Girls, Ruth Hunter; Clarinet solo, John Eusden; Arts and Drawing, Jean McNeill; Home-making for Girls, Annette Yanco; Physical Education for Boys, Robert Gallant; Violin solo, Albert Tashjian, accompanied by Harriet Tashjian. At the end of the program the school song was sung again.

Supt. of Schools Warren Reports

between Franklin and Davis Schools drawn from east to west in the vicinity of Southgate Park will result in a better distribution of pupils making the new school accommodate approximately 350 pupils, while the pupil population of the Davis School will remain about 320.

(d) The new building on the proposed site will relieve the Horace Mann and Carr Schools of pupils living north of Crafts Street, near the Waltham line.

(e) It will afford relief to the Davis School which now has an enrollment of 400 pupils in the thirteen rooms. Rooms now used for fourth and fifth grade Franklin School pupils are needed for the sixth grade and for a special class in that district.

(f) From the standpoint of the pupils in the Davis School district, the advantages of attending a school within reasonable walking distance during the elementary school period is obvious.

Erection of a new Trade School on a site between West Newton and Newtonville, on or near a main thoroughfare with adequate transportation service. Such a building should have sufficient shops, laboratories, related rooms and classrooms (including auditorium and gymnasium) to provide for all Trade School activities. The present high school building houses the Newton High School of 2355 pupils and the Newton Trade School of 230 pupils. Both of these schools are growing rapidly and are at present overcrowded. The Trade School's activities are scattered over the city, with two classes in the Peirce School, causing a transportation cost of $640 per year, and an automobile class is located in a garage at Newtonville, at a rental charge of $1000 per year. Such a separation of activities does not lend itself to efficient operation or supervision.

The present quarters in the Technical Building are not adequate for the activities which this school should be now carrying on for the present enrollment. If there is any increase there is no room for any expansion in this school. Both from the standpoint of centralizing the activities of the Trade School and from the basic economy, this school should be housed in a building of its own, separated entirely from the high school.

The efficiency of the Trade School would be very much increased if double the number of pupils now served could attend this school.

The erection of a Trade School building, separated entirely from the high school, together with the moving of the school administration offices from the Technical Building, would make possible the adequate housing of the senior high school for an indefinite period and would enable the high school to offer the same type of educational opportunity to boys that is now given to girls through courses in Industrial Arts comparable to the Home Economics Course now offered to girls.

For the girls, the school, through the Household Arts Department, is able to offer suitable educational opportunities which meet their needs; for the boys there ought to be similar opportunities through general shops and a continuation of industrial arts work now offered in all the junior high schools. These shops should be on an avocational basis and should be open to all pupils in the high school of all curriculum.

At the present time the school is filled to capacity, and many small rooms, poorly lighted and inadvisably located and equipped, are used. A further increase in school population will make our situation extremely difficult, and provision of added facilities ought now be planned for 1937-38. Such development for increased capacity of enrollment ought to be considered in line with the increasingly larger number of girls and boys whose needs and interests at the present time we are unable to meet through the limitations of our curriculum and the space in which to house them.

William Grow of 604 Walnut st., Newtonville, was fined $5 in the Newton court on Monday for driving a truck on Watertown st. during prohibited night hours. He appealed, but on Tuesday changed his mind and paid the fine.

Northland College Choir at Second Church Mar. 31st

The famous Northland College Choir, under the direction of Sigvald J. Steen, will give a concert on Tuesday evening, March 31st, in the Second Congregational Church at West Newton. This choir, from Ashland, Wisconsin, is considered one of the finest capella choirs of college students in the country. Fifty members of the choir are making a brief tour of the east. These singers will be guests at supper that evening in homes of members of the parish. Miss Priscilla Edie is in charge of these hosts and hostesses.

No admission will be charged to the concert during which a silver offering will be taken.

er: Clarinet solo, John Eusden; Arts and Drawing, Jean McNeill; Home-making for Girls, Annette Yanco; Physical Education for Boys, Robert Gallant; Violin solo, Albert Tashjian, accompanied by Harriet Tashjian. At the end of the program the school song was sung again.

Arrest Filipino For Larceny

Eleuterio U'Mali, 38, a Filipino, was arrested by Inspector King at Hose 8 fire station, Nonantum on Wednesday evening, charged with larceny. Twice within the past two weeks U'Mali had obtained $5 from officers of veteran organizations in Newton after he had claimed to be a veteran and had told a hard luck story. The police were notified concerning the man and when word was sent by a fireman at the Nonantum station that he was asking for aid there, King hastened to the place and put him under arrest. He was arraigned in the Newton court yesterday and held in $500 bail for trial on March 30. In default of bail he was taken to the East Cambridge jail.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 29.

The Golden Text is: "The word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (1 Peter 1:25).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free" (John 8:31, 32).

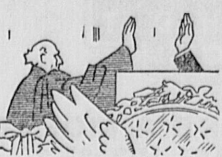

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true" (p. 428).

Newton Carpenter
Was Thrifty

Harry M. (Stamowski) Smith, 66, died at his late residence, 14 Peabody st., Newton, last Thursday night of cerebral hemorrhage, following a three-day illness. Mr. Smith, who was of Lithuanian extraction, was a carpenter by occupation, and had resided in Newton for 36 years. He was unmarried. Because nothing was known concerning his relatives, Newton police were notified and they communicated with Joseph Denegelski, of Arlington, a public administrator. He authorized Paul Fitzgerald of Newton undertaker, to arrange for the funeral. Mr. Denegelski in searching Smith's trunk found names and addresses of a brother who resides in South Boston, and a sister who lives in Detroit. They were notified and the brother with other relatives came to Newton, claimed the body and it was taken to South Boston where the funeral was held at St. Peter's Church. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. In Smith's room was found $247 in cash and bank books showing deposits of over $700.

The car was noticed by Victor Joos of Waltham, who happened to be driving by.

ANNIE M. POLLOCK

Mrs. Annie M. (Barron) Pollock of 41 Brooks avenue, Newtonville, wife of Charles H. Pollock, died on March 25. She was born in Newton 72 years ago. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Charles H. Pollock, Jr., Past Commander of Chaplain Wm. Farrell Post, D. A. V., and Ralph R. Pollock; a daughter, Miss Florence I. Pollock; and a sister, Mrs. Charles E. Hodges, all of Newtonville. She was a member of the A. O. H. American Legion Auxiliary and Mass. Catholic Women's Guild. Her funeral service will be held at Our Lady's Church on Saturday morning. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

VILLAGE PLAYERS

The Village Players of Newton Centre will present three one-act plays, in the Unitarian Parish Playhouse, March 31st and April 1st. "Anonymous," written and directed by Mrs. Mark A. Lawton, will have in its cast Dorothy Bates, Emily Parcher, Edward Parent, and Winthrop Clapp. A room in a house closed for the summer is the setting for this original play, which is being designed by Mrs. William C. Noetzel. The apartment of an old German music teacher in New York City is the setting for the second original play, "The Broadcase," written by Mr. Douglas Sloane, and directed by Barbara Crossley. The principal character will be played by Mrs. Allen Hubbard for whom it was written. Others in the cast include Josephine Tyler, Edward Griffin, Dan Smith, Robert Reed, Rodrick, Cliff Smith and Eugene Provton. Mrs. William C. Noetzel has charge of the setting and will be assisted by Mrs. Watterman. The third play, "She Was No Lady," by the well-known English author, St. John Ervine, has in its cast Verna Dynes, Mollie Draper, Robert Dines, and Wesley Dynes. It is also directed by the production. Mrs. Percy Wood of the Art Director, is designing the sets, to be used in this amusing little comedy, which has two scenes, and is laid in London, England. The dates of the Spring play, the last production of the subscription season of the Village Players, will be announced later.

Juvenile Courts Have Failed; Must Change Methods

Judge Hoffman Talks To Newton Welfare Bureau

Charging that the juvenile court, created in response to a demand that children shall be saved and not condemned, has failed to fulfill its design, Charles W. Hoffman, judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court at Cincinnati, speaking to the board of directors of the Newton Welfare Bureau, Monday, March 16, declares that it was still the most available institution for dealing with the juvenile delinquency must completely change its method.

"The history of childhood to the beginning has been one of the most dismal records in the story of mankind. In England children were tried as criminals in the same way as adults and our country followed the identical process until in 1899 a movement started by Jane Adams and Julia Lathrop for the betterment of childhood resulted in the establishment of the first juvenile court. Today all but two of our states have a juvenile court law, but they fail to carry it into effect. Instead we see industrial schools and reform schools filled with children and in some states children as young as ten are confined in penitentiaries. This failure is due to prevailing attitude of the people, one of resentment against children because of acts that are considered criminal. The courts are conducted in 95 percent of the cases by judges who do not know the purpose which they are relied upon to know in their field of duty. Thirty-six years have failed to bring recognition of the principle or to produce the facilities for diagnosing and treating the children according to their actual needs. Delinquents must be handled as are children affected with a physical disease, if we are to apply curative methods effectively.

The juvenile courts are operating more as juvenile police courts and as long as that is true there is no hope. The law creating them has for its object the saving of children and to make sure that they are not treated as criminals. The demand is not for a different law but that the juvenile court law shall be made effective and its purpose fulfilled by persons who know its design and are capable of accomplishing the saving of the child."

Judge Hoffman supported his plea by citing the experiences of his own court for 21 years where criminal procedure has been completely abolished. "A full social investigation is made in every case, the child is referred to the psychologist, a mental hygienist is used, medical and religious needs are discussed. The total information is studied and out of this consideration the case is disposed of. There are no court sessions. Delinquency is measured as a condition needing treatment. Commitment of the juvenile to an industrial school is rare. While the average in their schools for the counties of the state of Ohio is one child to a population of 3,500, Hamilton, the county of which Cincinnati is the centre, has one for 35,000 population. I do not believe in the industrial school except for the incurable. Children react to the environment of such schools. They are not there prepared to meet the conditions of a complex society.

Important to the service is the problem of retarded children in the public school. It is often in their discouragement that delinquency starts. The curriculum of schools needs to be made to fit the individual child. Academic respectability must yield to the service of the needs of the child. With delinquency said to be destroying more children in this country than all the various types of physical disease, every community should organize to reduce the causes and use the juvenile court as the instrument it was intended to be."

Social Science Club

The next meeting of the Social Science Club will be held at the Boston Art Museum on Wednesday, April 1st, at 10 a. m.

There will be a business meeting followed by a talk by Mr. Payne on "Japanese Paintings."

The hostesses will be Mrs. John T. Alden and Mrs. Edward W. Hallett.

West Newton Community Service Club

The West Newton Community Service Club gathered for its March meeting at the Unitarian Church on Wednesday, March 18th, and was called to order at 2 o'clock by the president, Mrs. George S. Fuller.

The club was the routine business of the Club was disposed of, Mrs. Fuller turned the meeting over to Mrs. T. J. Tompkins, chairman of the Music Committee, who presented a soloist of the afternoon, Mr. Royalty, Daddum, Baritone. Mr. Daddum gave a program of wide variety, with music from many countries. It began with Handel's "Leave Me, Loathsome Sinner," from "Semele," which was followed by a group of songs from Schubert: "Der Lindenbaum," "Wohn!, and "Aufenthal!" From Russia came "When the King Goes Forth to War," by Koeneman; "Over the Top," by Grieg; and the famous "Song of the Birch," by the same. The British Isles were the source of the next group, which consisted of a Scotch Folk tune, "Turn Ye to Me," by Hepprich; "Ballynure Folk Song," by Seaton; "The Land under the Waves," and "The Sea Song." The program came to a close with some Negro Spirituals, which were arranged by Burleigh, and a seldom heard: "Ride on, King Jesus," "You There?" and "Every Time I Feel Like It."

Rarely has the Club heard an artist of greater distinction. His technique was of the finest quality, and with all his great vocal powers he was able to modulate his voice to a light tone for the quiet numbers. The clarity of his diction was an added pleasure. His accompanist was Miss Madeline Meredith.

At the close of the musical program, a very successful sale was held under the direction of Miss Katherine Esson. Tea was served by Mrs. L. W. Beckwith and her committee. An unusually attractive program is being prepared by the management of the West Newton Community Service Glee Club for its Annual Glee Club Night.

This affair, which is always an outstanding event, is to be held on the evening of Monday, May 4th, in the Auditorium of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, Washington street, West Newton. It is the desire of the management to make this occasion even more successful than previous ones. Club members are urged to reserve this date and to tell their friends.

Auburndale Review Club

Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle was hostess for the Review Club meeting on March 24th. Mrs. Mervyn J. Bailey gave a fine review of the book, "Attack on Mt. Everest," by Rutledge, describing the historical background; the different kinds of clothing and diet for different heights; and of climbing and scenery.

Mrs. John E. Williams told of "Jacob Adams of Hull House," by Miss; and the growth of Hull House for almost fifty years, from a little day-nursery to a community of thirteen buildings in the district, where the neighbors are from all nations. Mrs. George P. Knapp gave a most interesting review of "Colonel T. E. Lawrence," by Liddell Hart, pointing out that he was an eminent scholar and a man of action, much interested in Arabia. Mrs. Knapp also showed souvenirs from Turkey, and maps of the country and of the campaigns of Colonel Lawrence, which added greatly to the interest.

Newtonville Woman's Club

Dr. Fred C. Smith's talk on "Growing up in an Uncertain World," which was given under the direction of the American Home committee at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon, March 24th, brought to his audience many valuable suggestions regarding the influence of the home on the child. The home, he said, should be made a place to make favorable environment for children. The associations of the home, according to Dr. Smith, are the greatest of any influences, and he emphasized regularity in sleeping and eating. The teaching of the child to adjust himself to his environment, by means of the pictures and language used, the pictures on the walls, and the books in the home, are all important factors in environment. Helpful suggestions to children, the choice of their motion pictures, and the general attitude of the parents, are the positive factors in helping the child to become the successful adult. Success, Dr. Smith thinks, depends upon the way one earns his living, and the way one lives his life. The figures indicated by the I. Q. tests do not interest Dr. Smith as much as how the child is influenced by those figures in his life.

Many of the women present took advantage of the opportunity to talk with the speaker after his address. Mrs. Elmer J. Keene and Mrs. Frank G. Wilson, who arranged the program, also presented Eleanor Packard Jackson, a highly accomplished pianist. Tea was served in the Social Hall.

An interesting and very fine exhibit, the work of Nelson Chase and of A. W. K. Billings, Jr., was shown in the Gallery on Tuesday afternoon and all-day Wednesday, under the direction of Mrs. Frederick W. Ried, Art chairman.

Arkley Richards Candidate For Ward 6 Alderman

Arkley S. Richards of 26 Parker st., Newton Centre has submitted to members of the Newton Board of Aldermen his desire to be considered as a candidate to succeed Harold R. Keller who resigned as Ward Alderman from Ward 6 at the last meeting of the Board. Mr. Keller's successor will be selected by members of the Aldermen next month.

In a letter sent to members of the Board of Aldermen Mr. Richards states that Mr. Keller had mentioned his name, among others, as one worthy of consideration to fill the vacancy. He gives the information that he graduated from Mass. Institute of Technology in 1920 and has since been engaged in engineering and sales work which have given him experience in the installing, operating and selling of mechanical and electrical equipment used in municipal works and buildings. He believes this experience would be of advantage in the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Richards states that he has resided on Parker st. for 5 years and has served as a worker on Community Chest drives. He was a member of the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club and now belongs to the Newton Y. M. C. A. and attends the Newton Centre Congregational Church. In politics he says he is an independent Republican.

Girl Scouts

Members of the Newton Local Council Girl Scouts will act as hostesses to council members from Watertown and Waltham at an all-day field institute to be held on Wednesday, April 1, at the Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton. This institute is planned by members of the National Training Staff and is designed to help solve the problems of organization which arise in the communities represented at the institute.

Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr., Chairman of Training and Personnel, will preside at the meeting. Miss Ruth Stevens of Boston, Regional Director for New England, and Miss Ruth Sinnott of Boston, Regional Camp Adviser, will be present to lead parts of the discussion. Members of other New England Local Councils who will act as discussion leaders are: Mrs. Arnold Hoffman of Barrington, Rhode Island; Mrs. William Marvel, Chairman, of Fall River; Mrs. Francis March, of Natick; Mrs. Harold Yeams, of Arlington, and Mrs. Charles Day of Milbrook.

The topic for the day's discussion is "How a Well-Organized Girl Scout Local Council Functions." The morning session will cover the membership, organization, and program of the Local Council and its relationship to its professional staff and its community. The program for the afternoon session will include discussion groups for the various branches of Girl Scout Council activities.

A luncheon will be served at noon. The Local Council is the adult sponsor group for Girl Scouting in the community. Through its functions in Newton the council offers to the community a program of recreational and educational significance to the teenage girls, under the direction of carefully selected and trained leaders.

This is the first opportunity for Local Council members to receive training under an instructor from the National Headquarters since the Annual National Convention held in Boston in 1934.

Among those who will attend from Newton are: Mrs. Richard Collins, Mrs. Frank Black, Mrs. Noel Munroe, Mrs. Herman Hoffman, Mrs. Theron B. Walker and Mrs. Harry C. Merriam of Newton Highlands; Mrs. Norman Southworth, Mrs. A. H. Meyer, Mrs. Louis Steitz, Mrs. Harlan H. Ballard, Mrs. Craig L. Pattengill, Mrs. Edwin P. McGill, and Mrs. John C. Duff of Newtonville; Mrs. Kenneth Crafts, Mrs. Donald Bartlett, and Mrs. George Waterman of Newton Centre; Mrs. Clinton W. Tylee, Mrs. George H. Fernald, Jr., and Mrs. Harmon A. Curtis of West Newton; Mrs. Wallace Wales, Mrs. Arthur D. Weston, the Misses Margaret and Adelaide Ball, Mrs. James B. Melcher, Mrs. Clarence Reiman, Mrs. John P. Dyer, and Mrs. Harold Jenks of Newton; Mrs. E. Ward Bartram and Mrs. B. A. Thresher of Waban; Mrs. Albert Davis and Mrs. Samuel Oldfield of Newton Upper Falls, and Mrs. Frederick Goode of Auburndale.

Troop committees 1, 10, and 33 of the Newtonville Girl Scouts are sponsoring a Fashion Show and tea to be held at the Newtonville Woman's Club on Monday, March 30th, at 2:30 o'clock. Proceeds from the afternoon will be used to help finance the activities of the Newtonville Girl Scout troops and Village Committee.

Fire Dept. Aids In Flood Relief

Last Friday night in response to a request from the State Police, Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department sent the floodlight truck of the department to North Andover to assist in rescue and salvage work. Assistant Chief Seaver also went to Lowell that night with a number of powerful flashlights owned by the local fire department. The lights on the truck were used to illuminate the pumping station at North Andover from which water was being pumped into the city of Lawrence. The connections with the Lawrence mains was made through lines of hose. The light truck was again sent to North Andover for similar aid on Saturday night and the first of this week.

who are: Mr. John M. Crooks, of Boston, prominent in Social Economics for the past thirty years; Capt. L. W. Hewitt of Boston, retired Army Officer, and identified with banking and real estate business for years; Mr. M. H. Gulesian of Newton, and Mr. Alonzo P. Gronell of Malden.

The entire proceeds will be dedicated to the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross. There will be no admission fee and everyone is invited to attend.

Daley Post To Conduct Flood Benefit Mar. 30

Eugene Joseph Daley, Jr., Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conduct a Benefit Beano on next Monday evening, at Post Hall, 251 Washington st., Newton Corner. The entire proceeds derived from this affair will be devoted to the aid of the flood sufferers of Massachusetts. A record attendance is predicted at this party, which is a part of the worthy program outlined by Department Commander Fred T. Openshaw, for every V. F. W. Post in the State. The committee in charge is comprised of all the officers, and the entertainment committee.

At a regular Post meeting held on last Monday evening, nine delegates and alternates to the annual State Department V. F. W. convention, to be held at Pittsfield in June, were elected. Also at this session a class of ten members were initiated into the Post, the initiatory work being performed by Officers of the Post, under the guidance of Commander George Tufts.

At the conclusion of the evening's business, the board of stewards, in charge of Comrade Charles H. Madden, served a collation in the cafeteria, which was enjoyed by all.

Tomorrow evening, at 7 o'clock, the regular weekly rehearsal of the Junior Post Bugle and Drum Corps will be held at the City Hall Cafeteria. A few vacancies exist in this unit at present, which the Senior Post members, in charge of the boys, are desirous of filling by any member of the Juniors about ten years of age, or over.

Charged With Drunken Driving

John J. Coffey of 47 Union st., Watertown, was fined $50 in the Newton court on Wednesday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on March 17 by Patrolmen Mague and Goddard. Belmont, was arrested at 1 a. m. Wednesday by Patrolmen Elliott and Goodale charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case continued to April 2.

Lodges

Newton Lodge of Moose No. 489, will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening, April 1st, 1936, at Elks' Home, Centre st., Newton, pictures of Moose heart and Moose Haven will be shown. Entertainment and lunch. The speakers will be Frank J. Cabelle, director and member of the Grand Lodge and Lee Proval, supervisor. Admission will be by ticket but there will be no charge to Newton women. Lodge 489 was formerly Watertown Lodge 489 but is now located at Newton and holds its regular meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, Newton.

FUR SHOP OPENING A SUCCESS

"Furs by Vengrow" which opened at Coolidge Corner, Brookline, recently, is pleased with the response from Newton women in the opening of this modern fur shop.

Mr. Vengrow stated to a GRAPHIC reporter, that the tremendous interest in fur and fur style evidenced by residents of Newton and Brookline assures him that an establishment of this kind definitely has great possibilities, and he wishes to extend his appreciation to the hundreds of women who have visited his shop.

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the executive committee of the Newtonville Improvement Association was held on Tuesday evening, March 17th, at the home of the president, Mr. George Whitefield Taylor, 30 Foster st.

A number of Village matters were discussed. It was voted to recommend to the Board of Aldermen an amendment to the present ordinance governing store awnings, so that pedestrians on the sidewalks would not be obstructed. Also that measures be taken to prevent the presence in Newtonville of persons begging for alms.

It was reported to the committee that certain objectionable billboards that the association has for some time been striving to eliminate will be soon removed.

Committees were appointed to nominate the officers and executive committee for the coming year, and to make arrangements for the annual meeting of the association, which will be held early in May.

One hundred and thirty new members have already been added to the association in the membership campaign club that is being conducted by the executive committee and the district representatives.

List of Candidates For Delegates To Party Conventions

Contests Among Republicans In Several Wards

With the expiration of the time limit last Friday for filing nomination papers as delegates to the state Republican and Democratic conventions in June, it was revealed that there would be contests in almost every ward in the city at the election on April 28. Twenty-one Republican candidates have filed papers for thirteen places while fifteen Democratic candidates seek the seven places open to them. The number of delegates is based upon the number of party votes cast for governor at the last state election. Thus Wards 5 and 6 will choose three Republican delegates, Wards 2 and 3 will choose two each and Wards 1, 4, and 7, one each. One delegate will be sent to the Democratic state convention from each ward.

Republican candidates who filed papers are as follows:

Ward 1—John E. Barwise, 457 Washington st.
Ward 2—Margaret McGill, 83 Madison ave.; Donald M. Hill, 16 Madison ave.; John P. Nixon, 653 Water-town st.; Harold C. Bond, 22 Fair Oaks ave.
Ward 3—Oliver K. Smith, 311 Waltham st.; Robert A. Whidden, 83 Bonad rd.; William B. Baker, 399 Waltham st.

Ward 4—Maude P. Lane, 7 Williston rd.; Richard F. Walter, 10 Fern st.

Ward 5—Howard Whitmore, Jr., 54 Carver rd.; Frank R. Ring, 1489 Centre st.; Irene K. Thresher, 188 Collins rd.; Thomas W. White, 1173 Boylston st.; Elsie A. Pullen, 14 Mayflower rd.; John V. Spaulding, 257 Dedham st.; Frank L. Richardson, 295 Woodward st.

Ward 6—Maurice B. Ulin, 400 Ward st.; Ronald W. Cordingley, 8 Lee rd.; Paul M. Goddard, 20 Trowbridge st.; Margaret L. Spear, 121 Bishop-gate rd.

Ward 7—Frances S. Henry, 86 Nonantum st.

Democratic candidates will be:

Ward 1—Joseph P. Dargan, 45 Waban st.

Ward 2—Helen B. Arata, 244 Nevada st.; Jerome G. Donovan, 29 Harrington st.; James T. Flynn, 611 Washington st.

Ward 3—M. Bernard McCarthy, 20 Auburndale ave.; Bernard D. Farrell, Jr., 3 Cherry place.

Ward 4—Francis Hart, 252 Islington rd.

Ward 5—Donald M. Hill, Jr., 24 So-lon st.; Louis J. Mullen, 1652 Centre st.; James A. Waters, 3 Aberdeen st.

Ward 6—Alvin Aronson, 450 Waverley ave.; Edward O. Proctor, 78 Glen ave.; Edmund F. Kneeland, 70 Bowen st.

Ward 7—Robert J. Allen, 37 Playstead rd.; Martin L. Curley, 85 Hyde ave.

Legion Post Goes To Aid Lowell

Forty-two members of Newton Post, American Legion went to Lowell last Sunday under direction of Commander Charles Walker to assist in relief work in the flooded areas of that city. This action on the part of the local Post followed a request from State Commander Walsh of Waltham for such assistance. At 7 o'clock Sunday morning the mobilization signal for the Legion members was sounded on the fire alarm bells in this city, then followed by the Box number, 312. News of the mobilization was sent out Saturday night over some of the radio stations and on the Newton police radio.

Boston Mutual Life Forges Ahead

An increase of 5 1/2 per cent in income, an increase of 10 per cent in premium and other income, an increase in resources, and surplus, are the features of the annual report of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company for 1935. The increase of insurance of about 4 1/2 per cent in 1934 and of about 3 per cent in 1935. The increase in the number of policies in force for the year was 10,459, bringing the whole number of policies up to 241,141.

Meantime, the Company's receipts and disbursements for 1935 reflect both the improvement that the business revival is bringing to the insurance business as well as the good oversight which the company gives to its affairs.

There was a decrease in the call by policyholders for cash surrender values, showing that people insured with the company are becoming better able to keep up their insurance. This is significant, reflecting the improved state of business in industrial centers, for this company's larger volume of business comes from industrial policies.

The total assets of the company on December 31, 1935, were $11,314,399.36 and the total liabilities were $10,629,090.16. The total surplus funds, including dividends declared or apportioned for 1935, amounted to $685,309.16. During the year 1935, the total amount paid to policyholders was $1,680,933.03, and since the company was organized it has paid to its policyholders $13,395,509.99 more than its present assets.

The annual report now issued is the 36th. It has the unique distinction of having its executive leadership still in the hands of one who has been an officer since the very beginning.

Herbert O. Edgerton was one of the original officers. Edward C. Mansfield, secretary and treasurer, has also been an active executive factor for many years, prior to which time he was Postmaster of Boston. Jay R. Benton, recently elected vice-president, is a former Attorney-General of the state and has been a director of the company for a number of years.

Forum First Season Financial Success

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Newton Community Forum, held at the residence of Mrs. Ruth Wolfe Fuller, the first annual statement, showing a substantial surplus, was read and approved. Revenue from sale of tickets was $1,235.25; program advertising $75.00; total income $1,310.25. Total disbursements were $936.95, leaving net cash on hand $373.30.

Results of the questionnaire recently issued indicated that the seven speakers heard last winter were almost equally popular. John Haynes Holmes received a slight preference in the voting.

The large number of replies received indicated the intense interest which has been created by Newton's first venture into free aid open discussion of questions affecting the welfare and advancement of humanity. The preference shown for certain topics will serve as a guide to the Steering Committee and should make next winter's programs of even greater interest and value than those of the first season.

Two noticeable features of the Forum sessions were commented upon. It was observed that the Forum's announced purpose of serving as a truly democratic means of expression was fulfilled. Men and women of evidently widely different stations of life exercised their privilege of heckling the speakers and received fair and courteous replies. And the equally important purpose of promoting broader and more tolerant attitudes made impressive progress. People who had mentally condemned certain topics nevertheless came and enjoyed the discussions of those very topics. This was particularly true of Dr. Little's talk on cancer research, which proved to be cheerfully informative and helpful, rather than the gruesome-story many had anticipated.

The Forum will continue to welcome ideas looking toward the greater success of next season's program. Those having suggestions or desiring to aid in the work should communicate with Mr. Walter M. Taylor, Executive Secretary, 32 Southgate Park, West Newton, Massachusetts.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

A car driven by Louis Bacon of 354 Waltham st., West Newton and light truck, driven by John Hackett of 1234 Washington st., West Newton collided at Waltham st. and Davis ave., West Newton on Saturday evening. Hackett reported that his left knee was injured. Bacon claimed he received a nervous shock.

Newton Y. M. H. A. Will Hold Banquet on March 30

The Newton Y. M. H. A. will celebrate the event of the season with a banquet and dance at Steuben's Vienna room, on Monday evening, Mar. 30, 1936, at 8:00 o'clock.

There will be a special floor show, with Muriel Lane and Buddy Blasdale, radio celebrities, as featured entertainers. The dance music for the evening will be furnished by Jack Fisher's Orchestra.

Mr. James Joffe of Newton is chairman of the Committee on arrangements and reservations.
